HEYL'S
U.S. IMPORT DUTIES
1888.

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION.

The following is copied from the official volume of U. S. Treasury Decisions and Circulars of the year 1874:

“USE TO BE MADE OF HEYL’S U. S. IMPORT DUTIES.”

“In distributing, for the use of officers of the customs, the compilation of statutes imposing duties upon imports, with the extension of such rates in a tabular schedule, known as ‘HEYL’S U. S. IMPORT DUTIES, 1874,’ the Department calls the particular attention of officers to the fact that the law of June 22, 1874, revising and condensing the statutes relating to duties on imports, appearing in this volume, pages 156 to 231, inclusive, is the sole law for reference and authority in all that relates to such duties.

“All the statutes previously printed, covering pages 1 to 147, inclusive, and all acts, excepting those enacted subsequently to December 1, 1873, are retained merely for information or convenience of reference.

“Particular attention is called to the acts of March 2, 1861, August 5, 1861, July 14, 1862, June 30, 1864, March 3, 1865, July 14, 1870, and June 6, 1872, which, being the general acts of reference imposing duties on imports, are absolutely repealed by the act of June 22, 1874, as will be seen by referring to the repealing clauses of that act, on page 231. No reference or apparent citation of authority based on the subordination of type or retention of full-faced type in either of those acts will be taken as a guide in the assessment of duty.

“The Department further directs that the extensions and explanations of this work, embraced in the schedule of duties, part 2, pages 1 to 76, inclusive, are not declared as by the authority of the Department in the said schedule, and all are subject to such examination and revision as shall be found necessary in considering cases to which they relate. Being generally correct, however, and carefully prepared, with citation of the acts from which they were derived, they may be assumed to be correct, unless known to be in error or until advice is received of their modification by the Department.”—(LETTER TO COLLECTOR, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 25, 1874.)

T O T H E E D I T I O N O F 1877.

IN the preface to the edition of 1874, the author made the following statement:

“The codification of the Statutes of the United States, and the changes wrought by it and other recent enactments of Congress, have made a revision and entire re-arrangement of the ‘Schedules’ in my book necessary. Hundreds of new and perplexing questions of classification arose, which, in order to meet the immediate pressing requirements of the customs service, had necessarily to be decided, (unofficially, of course,) by the best lights I could command. How far my judgment may be sustained by the proper authorities, must be left to the future. It seemed desirable to retain the repealed statutes and notes of former editions for convenient reference, in order to compare texts and note the effects of changes, variations, and transpositions thereof upon past adjudications; to facilitate which, indices to the old are given in the new provisions.”

After the lapse of more than two years, I am gratified to find my judgment sustained in nearly every important particular. The same has also proved to be the case in regard to the supplementary schedule since issued by me under the Acts of February 8 and March 3, 1875. But the effect of these Acts, and of the decisions under them, has been to change the duties upon thousands of articles enumerated in the previous schedule, so that it has become necessary to revise the whole, and incorporate in it the supplementary schedule and the decisions for the last two years. Important additions and changes to Parts I and III have also been made, to adapt them to recent enactments and adjudications.

PREFACE

TO THE EDITION OF 1872.

THE favorable reception of the author's previous labors pertaining to impost duties, has encouraged him to amplify and extend his tariff manual. The plan of his first edition excluded all repealed and obsolete portions of the Statutes; but, for obvious reasons, the original plan could not, in this respect, be strictly followed in subsequent editions. Then, as the erasures had necessarily to be made chiefly upon his own judgment, entire freedom from error was hardly possible. Yet he has the satisfaction of knowing, that after a test of several years, only two or three changes in this respect, and those of comparatively minor importance, have become necessary under subsequent decisions. Therefore, and as ready access to all the tariff acts in their entirety, passed since the beginning of the year 1861, is a desideratum, and greatly facilitates investigation, the author, at the instance of the Treasury Department, has restored in this edition the entire text of the several acts; so distinguishing by differences in type, existing laws, from those repealed or superseded, that the re-introduction of the latter cannot confuse or mislead. Many Statutes have also been added which are not strictly tariff acts; but to which revenue officers and others are obliged to refer so frequently, that their presence in a tariff manual cannot but be acceptable. Many additions have also been made to Parts II and III which it is hoped will lighten the burden of customs officers. The author desires specially to acknowledge his obligations to Messrs. W. H. McMahon, chief entry clerk, and H. Millard, entry clerk, in the New York Custom-house, for valuable information and assistance in the prosecution of his work.

PREFACE

TO THE EDITION OF 1883.

IN laying this, the thirtieth edition of his book, before the public, the author desires to say that he has spared neither labor nor expense in his efforts to make it, in all respects, complete and convenient to those who may use it. He has, in compliance with the preferences expressed by Department and customs officers, eliminated from the Schedule, as far as seemed important or desirable, all cross-references, and transferred all important foot-notes from the former editions to their appropriate places under the new law. This, he thinks, will add greatly to the value of the book, as these notes embrace many decisions made prior to those contained in the Digest published by the Department, and therefore not conveniently, if at all, accessible to either the public or to customs officers. The numeration of the paragraphs of the new law conforms to that of the publications of the Department, modified by convenient subdivisions of long paragraphs and diverse provisions, to facilitate reference. He desires, also, to call especial attention to the additional new tables of computations in Part IV., prepared with great care, with special reference to the provisions of the new law, by a competent expert in a leading mercantile house of New York; as also to the Post Office Laws and Money Order Act, in Part IV.; and to the Organic Laws of the United States, and List of Presidents, Cabinet Officers, and Judges of the Supreme Court, in the Appendix.

TITLE XXXIII.

DUTIES ON IMPORTS.

900. SEC. 2491. All persons are prohibited from importing into the United States, from any foreign country, any obscene book, pamphlet, paper, writing, advertisement, circular, print, picture, drawing, or other representation, figure, or image on or of paper or other material, or any cast, instrument, or other article of an immoral nature, or any drug or medicine, or any article whatever, for the prevention of conception, or for causing unlawful abortion. No invoice or package whatever, or any part of one, in which any such articles are contained shall be admitted to entry; and all invoices and packages whereof any such articles shall compose a part are liable to be proceeded against, seized, and forfeited by due course of law. All such prohibited articles in the course of importation shall be detained by the officer of customs, and proceedings taken against the same as prescribed in the following section: Provided, That the drugs hereinbefore mentioned, when imported in bulk and not put up for any of the purposes hereinbefore specified, are excepted from the operation of this section. (39, 841.)

901. SEC. 2492. Any judge of any district or circuit court of the United States, within the proper district, before whom complaint in writing of any violation of the preceding section is made, to the satisfaction of such judge, and founded on knowledge or belief, and, if upon belief, setting forth the grounds of such belief, and supported by oath or affirmation of the complainant, may issue, conformably to the Constitution, a warrant directed to the marshal, or any deputy marshal, in the proper district, directing him to search for, seize, and take possession of any such article or thing hereinbefore mentioned, and to make due and immediate return thereof, to the end that the same may be condemned and destroyed by proceedings, which shall be conducted in the same manner as other proceedings in case of municipal seizure, and with the same right of appeal or writ of error. (843.)

902. SEC. 2493. The importation of neat cattle and the hides of neat cattle from any foreign country into the United States is prohibited: Provided, That the operation of this section shall be suspended as to any foreign country or countries, or any parts of such country or countries, whenever the Secretary of the Treasury shall officially determine, and give public notice thereof, that such importation will not tend to the introduction or spread of contagious or infectious diseases among the cattle of the United States; and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and empowered, and it shall be his duty, to make all necessary orders and regulations to carry this law into effect, or to suspend the same as therein provided, and to send copies thereof to the proper officers in the United States, and to such officers or agents of the United States in foreign countries as he shall judge necessary. (478 b).

903. SEC. 2494. The President of the United States, whenever in his judgment the importation of neat cattle and the hides of neat cattle may be made without danger of the introduction or spread of contagious or infectious disease among the cattle of the United States, may, by proclamation, declare the provisions of the preceding section to be inoperative, and the same shall be afterward inoperative and of no effect from and after thirty days from the date of said proclamation. (478 c.)

904. SEC. 2495. Any person convicted of a wilful violation of any of the provisions of the two preceding sections, shall be fined not exceeding five hun-

* The sections are numbered as in the Rev. Statutes and subsequent volumes of the Statutes at Large. The numeration of the paragraphs remain the same as in the edition of 1882, beginning with 900; the preceding statutes being either included in the revision or obsolete. The numbers at the end, or in the body of paragraphs, refer to paragraphs of corresponding numbers in editions prior to 1883, and Part I of this volume.

905. SEC. 2496. No watches, watch-cases, watch-movements, or parts of watch-movements, of foreign manufacture, which shall copy or simulate the name or trade-mark of any domestic manufacturer, shall be admitted to entry at the custom-houses of the United States, unless such domestic manufacturer is the importer of the same. And in order to aid the officers of the customs in enforcing this prohibition, any domestic manufacturer of watches who has adopted trade-marks may require his name and residence and a description of his trade-marks to be recorded in books which shall be kept for that purpose in the Department of the Treasury, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and may furnish to the Department fac-similes of such trade-marks; and thereupon the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause one or more copies of the same to be transmitted to each collector or other proper officer of the customs. (693, 694.)

906. SEC. 2497. No goods, wares, or merchandise, unless in cases provided for by treaty, shall be imported into the United States from any foreign port or place, except in vessels of the United States, or in such foreign vessels as truly and wholly belong to the citizens or subjects of that country of which the goods are the growth, production, or manufacture; or from which such goods, wares, or merchandise can only be, or most usually are, first shipped for transportation. All goods, wares, or merchandise imported contrary to this section, and the vessel wherein the same shall be imported, together with her cargo, tackle, apparel, and furniture, shall be forfeited to the United States; and such goods, wares, or merchandise, ship, or vessel, and cargo shall be liable to be seized, prosecuted, and condemned, in like manner, and under the same regulations, restrictions, and provisions, as have been heretofore established for the recovery, collection, distribution, and remission of forfeitures to the United States by the several revenue-laws.*

907. SEC. 2498. The preceding section shall not apply to vessels, or goods, wares, or merchandise imported in vessels of a foreign nation which does not maintain a similar regulation against vessels of the United States.*

908. SEC. 2499. There shall be levied, collected, and paid, on each and every non-enumerated article which bears a similitude, either in material, quality, texture, or the use to which it may be applied, to any article enumerated in this Title, as chargeable with duty, the same rate of duty which is levied and charged on the enumerated article which it most resembles in any of the particulars before mentioned; and if any non-enumerated article equally resembles two or more enumerated articles, on which different rates of duty are chargeable, there shall be levied, collected, and paid, on such non-enumerated article, the same rate of duty as is chargeable on the article which it resembles paying the highest duty; and on all articles manufactured from two or more materials, the duty shall be assessed at the highest rates at which any of its component parts may be chargeable. (22.)

909. SEC. 2500. Upon the re-importation of articles once exported, of the growth, product, or manufacture of the United States, upon which no internal tax has been assessed or paid, or upon which such tax has been paid and refunded by allowance or drawback, there shall be levied, collected, and paid a duty equal to the tax imposed by the internal-revenue laws upon such articles. (519.)†

910. SEC. 2501. There shall be levied, collected, and paid on all goods, wares, and merchandise of the growth or produce of the countries east of the Cape of Good Hope, (except wool, raw cotton, and raw silk, as reeled from the cocoon, or not further advanced than tram, thrown, or organzine,) when imported from places west of the Cape of Good Hope, a duty of ten per centum ad valorem in addition to the duties imposed on any such article when imported directly from the place or places of their growth or production. (724.)

911. SEC. 2502. A discriminating duty of ten per centum ad valorem, in addition to the duties imposed by law, shall be levied, collected, and paid on all goods, wares, and merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States; but this discriminating duty shall not apply to goods, wares, and merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States, entitled, by treaty or any act of Congress, to be entered in the ports of the United States on payment of the same duties as shall then be paid on goods, wares, and merchandise imported in vessels of the United States. (452.)

912. SEC. 2503. There shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all articles mentioned in the schedules contained in the next section, imported from foreign countries, the rates of duty which are by the schedules respectively prescribed. Provided, That on the goods, wares, and merchandise in this section enumerated and provided for, imported from foreign countries, there shall be levied, collected, and paid only ninety per centum of the several duties and rates of duty imposed by the said schedules upon said articles severally, that is to say:*

913. On all manufactures of cotton of which cotton is the component part of chief value. (716, also 61, 62, 63, 251-3, 374, 468, 469, 620.)

914. On all wools, hair of the alpaca, goat, and other animals, and all manufactures wholly or in part of wool or hair of the alpaca and other like animals, except umbrellas, parasols, and sunshades, covered with silk or alpaca. (717, also 526 to 529.)

915. On all iron and steel, and on all manufactures of iron and steel, of which such metals or either of them shall be the component part of chief value, excepting cotton-machinery. (718, also 128, 285, 352, 363.)

916. On all metals not herein otherwise provided for, and on all manufactures of metals of which either of them is the component part of chief value, excepting percussion-caps, watches, jewelry, and other articles of ornament: Provided, That all wire rope and wire strand or chain made of iron wire, either bright, coppered, galvanized, or coated with other metals, shall pay the same rate of duty that is now levied on the iron wire of which said rope or strand or chain is made; and all wire rope, and wire strand or chain made of steel wire, either bright, coppered, galvanized, or coated with other metals, shall pay the same rate of duty that is now levied on the steel wire of which said rope or strand or chain is made. (719, also 128, 285, 352, 363, 399, 579.)

1837. SEC. 2803. Any baggage or personal effects arriving in the United States, in transit to any foreign country, may be delivered by the parties having it in charge to the collector of the proper district, to be by him retained without the payment or exaction of any import duty, and to be delivered to such parties on their departure for their foreign destination, under such rules, regulations, and fees as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. (465.)

1838. SEC. 2804. No cigars shall be imported unless the same are packed in boxes of not more than five hundred cigars in each box; and no entry of any imported cigars shall be allowed of less quantity than three thousand in a single package; and all cigars on importation shall be placed in public store or bonded warehouse, and shall not be removed therefrom until the same shall have been inspected and a stamp affixed to each box indicating such inspection, with the date thereof. And the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to provide the requisite stamps, and to make all necessary regulations for carrying the above provisions of law into effect. (507.)

1839. SEC. 2837. All invoices shall be made out in the weights or measures of the country or place from which the importation is made, and shall contain a true statement of the actual weights or measures of such merchandise, without any respect to the weights or measures of the United States. (463.)

1840. SEC. 2838. All invoices of merchandise subject to a duty ad valorem shall be made out in the currency of the place or country from whence the importation shall be made, and shall contain a true statement of the actual cost of such merchandise, in such foreign currency or currencies, without any respect to the value of the coins of the United States, or of foreign coins, by law made current within the United States, in such foreign place or country. (12.)

1841. SEC. 2839. If any merchandise, of which entry has been made in the office of a collector, is not invoiced according to the actual cost thereof at the place of exportation, with design to evade payment of duty, all such merchandise, or the value thereof, to be recovered of the person making entry, shall be forfeited.†

1842. SEC. 2852. When any merchandise is admitted to an entry upon invoice, the collector of the port in which the same is entered shall certify the same under his official seal; and no other evidence of the value of such merchandise shall be admitted on the part of the owner thereof, in any court of the United States, except in corroboration of such entry.‡

1843. SEC. 2853. All invoices of merchandise imported from any foreign country shall be made in triplicate, and signed by the person owning or shipping such merchandise, if the same has actually been purchased, or by the manufacturer or owner thereof, if the same has been procured otherwise than by purchase, or by the duly authorized agent of such purchaser, manufacturer, or owner. (310.)

1844. SEC. 2854. All such invoices shall, at or before the shipment of the merchandise, be produced to the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent of the United States nearest the place of shipment, for the use of the United States, and shall have indorsed thereon, when so produced, a declaration signed by the purchaser, manufacturer, owner, or agent, setting forth that the invoice is in all respects true; that it contains, if the merchandise mentioned therein is subject to ad valorem duty, and was obtained by purchase, a true and full statement of the time when and the place where the same was purchased, and the actual cost thereof, and of all charges thereon; and that no discounts, bounties, or drawbacks are contained in the invoice but such as have actually been allowed thereon; and when obtained in any other manner than by purchase, the actual market-value thereof at the time and place when and where the same was procured or manufactured; and, if subject to specific duty, the actual quantity thereof; and that no different invoice of the merchandise, mentioned in the invoice so produced, has been or will be furnished to any one. If the merchandise was actually purchased, the declaration shall also contain a statement that the currency in which such invoice is made out is the currency which was actually paid for the merchandise by the purchaser. (310.)

1845. SEC. 2855. The person so producing such invoice shall at the same time declare to such consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent the port in the United States at which it is intended to make entry of merchandise; whereupon the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent shall indorse upon each of the triplicates a certificate, under his hand and official seal, stating that the invoice has been produced to him, with the date of such production, and the name of the person by whom the same was produced, and the port in the United States at which it shall be the declared intention to make entry of the merchandise therein mentioned. The consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent shall then deliver to the person producing the same, one of the triplicates, to be used in making entry of the merchandise; shall file another in his office, to be there carefully preserved; and shall, as soon as practicable, transmit the remaining one to the collector of the port of the United States at which it shall be declared to be the intention to make entry of the merchandise. (310.)

1846. SEC. 2856. In case of merchandise imported from a foreign country adjacent to the United States, the declaration in the two preceding sections required, may be made to, and the certificate indorsed by, the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent at or nearest to the port of clearance for the United States.*

1847. SEC. 2857. Whenever, from a change of the destination of any merchandise, after the production of the invoice thereof to the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent, or from other cause, the triplicate transmitted to the collector of the port to which such merchandise was originally destined, is not received at the port where the same actually arrives, and where it is desired to make entry thereof, the merchandise may be admitted to an entry on the execution by the owner, consignee, or agent, of a bond, with sufficient security, in double the amount of duty apparently due, conditioned for the payment of the duty which shall be found to be actually due thereon. The collector of the port where such entry shall be made shall immediately notify the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent to whom such invoice has been produced, to transmit to such collector a certified copy thereof; and such consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent shall transmit the same accordingly without delay; and the duty shall not be finally liquidated until such triplicate, or a certified copy thereof, shall have been received. Such liquidation, however, shall not be delayed longer than eighteen months from the time of making such entry. (310.)

1848. SEC. 2858. Whenever, from accident or other cause, it has become impracticable for the person desiring to make entry of any merchandise, to produce, at the time of making such entry, any invoice thereof, as hereinbefore required, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Treasury to authorize the entry of such merchandise upon such terms and in accordance with such general or special regulations as he may prescribe. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby invested with the like powers of remission in cases of forfeiture arising under the foregoing provisions as in other cases of forfeiture under the revenue laws. (310, 2d Prov.)

1849. SEC. 2859. The six preceding sections shall not apply to countries where there is no consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent of the United States. And whenever the value of the imported merchandise does not exceed one hundred dollars, the collector may admit it to entry without the production of the triplicate invoice, and without submitting the question to the Secretary of the Treasury, if he is satisfied that the neglect to produce such invoice was unintentional and that the importation was made in good faith, and without any purpose of defrauding or evading the revenue laws. (310, 483.)

1850. SEC. 2860. Except as allowed in the four preceding sections, no merchandise imported from any foreign place or country shall be admitted to an entry unless the invoice presented in all respects conforms to the requirements of sections twenty-eight hundred and fifty-three, twenty-eight hundred and fifty-four, and twenty-eight hundred and fifty-five, and has thereon the certificate of the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent in those sections specified, nor unless the invoice is verified at the time of making such entry by the oath of the owner or consignee, or of the authorized agent of the owner or consignee, certifying that the invoice and the declaration thereon are in all respects true, and were made by the person by whom the same purports to have been made, nor, unless the triplicate transmitted by the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent to the collector has been received by him. (310.)

1851. SEC. 2861. No consular officer of the United States shall grant a certificate for merchandise shipped from countries adjacent to the United States, which have passed a consulate after purchase for shipment. (815.)

1852. SEC. 2862. All consular officers are hereby authorized to require, before certifying any invoice under the provisions of the preceding sections, satisfactory evidence, either by the oath of the person presenting such invoices or otherwise, that such invoices are correct and true. In the exercise of the discretion hereby given, the consular officers shall be governed by such general or special regulations or instructions as may from time to time be established or given by the Secretary of State.*

1853. SEC. 2863. All consuls and commercial agents of the United States having any knowledge or belief of any case or practice of any person who obtains verification of any invoice whereby the revenue of the United States is or may be defrauded, shall report the facts to the collector of the port where the revenue is or may be defrauded, or to the Secretary of the Treasury. (304.)

1854. SEC. 2864. If any owner, consignee, or agent of any merchandise shall knowingly make, or attempt to make, an entry thereof by means of any false invoice, or false certificate of a consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent, or of any invoice which does not contain a true statement of all the particulars hereinbefore required, or by means of any other false or fraudulent document or paper, or of any other false or fraudulent practice or appliance whatsoever, such merchandise, or the value thereof, shall be forfeited. (310, 2199.)

1855. SEC. 2865. Every person who makes out or passes, or attempts to pass, through the custom-house any false, forged, or fraudulent invoice, or who shall aid or abet in making or passing such false, forged, or fraudulent invoice, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both in the discretion of the court.† (See amendment, post, 2238.)

1856. SEC. 2866. the ports of New York, Boston, and Portland, and any other ports in the United States which have been, or may from time to time be, specially designated by the President of the United States and destined for Her Britannic Majesty's possessions in North America, may be entered at the proper custom-house and conveyed in transit, without the payment of duties, through the territory of the United States, under such rules, regulations, and conditions for the protection of the revenue as the Secretary of the Treasury may, from time to time, prescribe; and, under like rules, regulations, and conditions, goods, wares, or merchandise may be conveyed in transit, without the payment of duties, from such possessions, through the territory of the United States, for export from the said ports of the United States. CHAPTER FIVE.

UNLADING.

1857. SEC. 2885. The officers of inspection of any port where distilled spirits or wines shall be landed, shall, upon the landing thereof, and as soon as the casks, vessels, and cases containing the same shall be inspected, gauged, or measured, brand or otherwise mark in durable characters, the several casks, vessels, and cases containing the same, and the marks shall express the number of casks, vessels, or cases, whether of spirits or wines, marked by each officer respectively, in each year, in progressive numbers for each of the articles; also the port of importation, the name of the vessel, and the surname of the master; also each kind of spirits or wines, for which different rates of duty are or shall be imposed, the number of gallons in each cask or case, and the rate of proof if spirits; also the name of the surveyor or chief officer of inspection for the port, and the date of importation; of all which particulars the chief officers of inspection shall keep fair and correct accounts, in books to be provided for that purpose. (2, 18, 19, 476, 496.)

1858. SEC. 2886. On the sale of any cask, vessel, or case, which has been or shall be marked as containing distilled spirits or wines, and which has been emptied of its contents, and prior to the delivery thereof to the purchaser, or any removal thereof, the marks and numbers, which shall have been set thereon by or under the direction of any officer of inspection, shall be defaced and obliterated in the presence of some officer of inspection or of the customs, who shall, on due notice being given, attend for that purpose, at which time the certificate which ought to accompany such chest, vessel, or case, shall also be returned and cancelled. Every person who shall obliterate, counterfeit, alter, or deface any mark or number placed by an officer of inspection upon any cask, vessel, or case, containing distilled spirits or wines, or any certificate thereof; or who shall sell or in any way alienate or remove any cask, vessel, or case, which has been emptied of its contents, before the marks and numbers, set thereon pursuant to the provisions of the preceding section, shall have been defaced or obliterated, in presence of an officer of inspection; or who shall neglect or refuse to deliver the certificate issued to accompany the cask, chest, vessel, or case, of which the marks and numbers shall have been defaced or obliterated in manner aforesaid, on being thereto required by an officer of inspection or of the customs, shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, with costs of suit. (2, 19, 476, 496.)

1859. SEC. 2895. Whenever any Spanish vessel shall arrive in distress, in any port of the United States, having been damaged on the coasts or within the limits of the United States, and her cargo shall have been unladen, in conformity with the provisions of the four preceding sections, the cargo, or any part thereof, may, if the vessel should be condemned as not seaworthy, or be deemed incapable of performing her original voyage, afterward be reladen on board any other vessel under the inspection of the officer who superintended the landing thereof, or other proper person. No duties, charges, or fees whatever, shall be paid on such part of the cargo as may be reladen and carried away, either in the vessel in which it was originally imported, or in any other.*

1860. SEC. 2898. In estimating the allowance for tare on all chests, boxes, cases, casks, bags, or other envelope or covering of all articles imported liable to pay any duty, where the original invoice is produced at the time of making entry thereof, and the tare shall be specified therein, the collector, if he sees fit, or the collector and naval officer, if any, if they see fit, may, with the consent of the consignees, estimate the tare according to such invoice; but in all other cases the real tare shall be allowed, and may be ascertained under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may from time to time prescribe; but in no case shall there be any allowance for draught. (302.)†

CHAPTER SIX.

APPRAISAL.

1861. SEC. 2899. No merchandise liable to be inspected or appraised shall be delivered from the custody of the officers of the customs, until the same has been inspected or appraised, or until the packages sent to be inspected or appraised shall be found correctly and fairly invoiced and put up, and so reported to the collector. The collector may, however, at the request of the owner, importer, consignee, or agent, take bonds, with approved security, in double the estimated value of such merchandise, conditioned that it shall be delivered to the order of the collector, at any time within ten days after the package sent to the public stores has been appraised and reported to the collector. If in the meantime any package shall be opened, without the consent of the collector or surveyor given in writing, and then in the presence of one of the inspectors of the customs, or if the package is not delivered to the order of the collector, according to the condition of the bond, the bond shall, in either case, be forfeited.‡

1862. SEC. 2900. The owner, consignee, or agent of any merchandise which has been actually purchased, or procured otherwise than by purchase, at the time, and not afterward, when he shall produce his original invoice to the collector and make and verify his written entry of his merchandise, may make such addition in the entry to the cost or value given in the invoice as in his opinion may raise the same to the actual market-value or wholesale price of such merchandise at the period of exportation to the United States in the principal markets of the country from which the same has been imported; and the collector within whose district the same may be imported or entered may cause such actual market-value or wholesale price to be appraised; and if such appraised value shall exceed by ten per centum or more the value so declared in the entry, then, in addition to the duties imposed by law on the same, there shall be collected a duty of twenty per centum ad valorem on such appraised value. The duty shall not, however, be assessed upon an amount less than the invoice or entered value. (474.)

1863. SEC. 2901. The collector shall designate on the invoice at least one

In Marriott vs. Brune, 9th How., 633, it was held that this word should be "draft," meaning dust and dirt, and not what is generally meant by "draught" or "draft." (1 Brightly, 358.)

package of every invoice, and one package at least of every ten packages of merchandise, and a greater number should he or either of the appraisers deem it necessary, imported into such port, to be opened, examined, and appraised, and shall order the package so designated to the public stores for examination; and if any package be found by the appraisers to contain any article not specified in the invoice, and they or a majority of them shall be of opinion that such article was omitted in the invoice with fraudulent intent on the part of the shipper, owner, or agent, the contents of the entire package in which the article may be, shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction; but if the appraisers shall be of opinion that no such fraudulent intent existed, then the value of such article shall be added to the entry, and the duties thereon paid accordingly, and the same shall be delivered to the importer, agent, or consignee. Such forfeiture may, however, be remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury on the production of evidence satisfactory to him that no fraud was intended. (22*b*.)

1864. SEC. 2902. It shall be the duty of the appraisers of the United States, and every of them, and every person who shall act as such appraiser, or of the collector and naval officer, as the case may be, by all reasonable ways and means in his or their power, to ascertain, estimate, and appraise the true and actual market-value and wholesale price, any invoice or affidavit thereto to the contrary notwithstanding, of the merchandise, at the time of exportation, and in the principal markets of the country whence the same has been imported into the United States, and the number of such yards, parcels, or quantities, and such actual market-value or wholesale price of every of them, as the case may require. All such merchandise, being manufactured of wool, or whereof wool shall be a component part, which shall be imported into the United States, in an unfinished condition, shall, in every such appraisal, be estimated to have been at the time of exportation, and place whence the same was imported into the United States, of as great value as if the same had been entirely finished.*

1865. SEC. 2903. The President may cause to be established fit and proper regulations for estimating the duties on merchandise imported into the United States, in respect to which the original cost shall be exhibited in a depreciated currency, issued and circulated under authority of any foreign government.†

1866. SEC. 2904. When the duty upon any imports shall be subject to be levied upon the true market-value of such imports in the principal markets of the country from whence the importation has been made, or at the port of exportation, the duty shall be estimated and collected upon the value on the day of actual shipment, whenever a bill of lading shall be presented showing the date of shipment, and which shall be certified by a certificate of the United States consul, commercial agent, or other legally authorized deputy. (172.)

1867. SEC. 2905. In all cases where merchandise, subject to ad-valorem duty, or on which the duties are to be levied upon the value of the square yard, and in all cases where any specific quantity or parcel of such merchandise has been imported into the United States from a country in which the same has not been manufactured or produced, the foreign value shall be appraised and estimated according to the current market-value or wholesale price of similar articles at the principal markets of the country of production or manufacture, at the period of the exportation of such merchandise to the United States.*

1868. SEC. 2906. When an ad-valorem rate of duty is imposed on any imported merchandise, or when the duty imposed shall be regulated by, or directed to be estimated or based upon, the value of the square yard, or of any specified quantity or parcel of such merchandise, the collector within whose district the same shall be imported or entered shall cause the actual market-value, or wholesale price thereof, at the period of the exportation to the United States, in the principal markets of the country from which the same has been imported, to be appraised, and such appraised value shall be considered the value upon which duty shall be assessed. (474.)

1869. SEC. 2907. In determining the dutiable value of merchandise, there shall be added to the cost, or to the actual wholesale price or general market-value at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence the same has been imported into the United States, the cost of transportation, shipment, and transshipment, with all the expenses included, from the place of growth, production, or manufacture, whether by land or water, to the vessel in which shipment is made to the United States; the value of the sack, box, or covering of any kind in which such merchandise is contained; commission at the usual rates, but in no case less than two and a half per centum; and brokerage, export duty, and all other actual or usual charges for putting up, preparing, and packing for transportation or shipment. All charges of a general character incurred in the purchase of a general invoice shall be distributed pro rata among all parts of such invoice; and every part thereof charged with duties based on value shall be advanced according to its proportion, and all wines or other articles paying specific duty by grades shall be graded and pay duty according to the actual value so determined. (516.)

1870. SEC. 2908. All additions made to the entered value of merchandise for charges shall be regarded as part of the actual value of such merchandise, and if such addition shall exceed by ten per centum the value declared in the entry, in addition to the duties imposed by law, there shall be collected a duty of twenty per centum on such value. But nothing contained in this and the preceding section shall apply to long combing or carpet wools costing twelve cents or less per pound, unless the charges so added shall carry the cost above twelve cents per pound, in which case one cent per pound duty shall be added (516, Provisos): Provided, That this and the preceding section shall not be construed as impairing the provisions relating to duties on the several classes of imported wools, contained in Section 2504 under Schedule L.

1871. SEC. 2909. [Where the actual value to be appraised, estimated, and ascertained as hereinbefore stated, of any merchandise imported into the United States, and subject to any ad-valorem duty, or whereon the duty is regulated by or directed to be imposed or levied on the value of the square yard, or other parcel or quantity thereof, shall exceed by ten per centum or more the invoice value, then, in addition to the duty imposed by law on the same, there shall be levied and collected on such merchandise twenty per centum of the duty imposed on the same, when fairly invoiced.] (21, last Proviso, and 459 and 516. Repealed, post, 2239.)

1872. SEC. 2910. When merchandise of the same material or description, but of different values, is invoiced at an average price, and not otherwise provided for, the duty shall be assessed upon the whole invoice at the rate to which the highest valued goods in such invoice are subject. (176.)

1873. SEC. 2911. Whenever articles composed wholly, or in part, of wool or cotton, of similar kind, but different quality, are found, in the same package, charged at an average price, it shall be the duty of the appraisers to adopt the value of the best article contained in such package, and so charged, as the average value of the whole.*

1874. SEC. 2912. When wool of different qualities is imported in the same bale, bag, or package, it shall be appraised by the appraiser, to determine the rate of duty to which it shall be subjected, at the average aggregate value of the contents of the bale, bag, or package; and when bales of different qualities are embraced in the same invoice at the same prices whereby the average price shall be reduced more than ten per centum below the value of the bale of the best quality, the value of the whole shall be appraised according to the value of the bale of the best quality; and no bale, bag, or package shall be liable to a less rate of duty in consequence of being invoiced with wool of lower value. (531, 2d Proviso.)

1875. SEC. 2913. In the appraisement of kid and all other gloves imported into the United States there shall be no discrimination in determining by appraisement the foreign market-value of such goods, whether protected by trade-mark or not; and in no case shall gloves so protected by trade-mark be appraised at a less foreign market-value than the like goods not so protected; and no sale or pretended sale of such goods shall be held to fix the value of the same. (829.)

1876. SEC. 2914. The standard by which the color and grades of sugar are to be regulated, shall be selected and furnished to the collectors of such ports of entry as may be necessary by the Secretary of the Treasury, from time to time, and in such manner as he may deem expedient. (326, Proviso.)

1877. SEC. 2915. The Secretary of the Treasury shall, by regulation, prescribe and require that samples from packages of sugar shall be taken by the proper officers, in such manner as to ascertain the true quality of such sugar; and the weights of sugar imported in casks or boxes shall be marked distinctly by the custom-house weigher, by scoring the figures indelibly on each package. (680, Proviso.)

1878. SEC. 2916. For the purpose of carrying into effect the classification of wool and hair of animals, prescribed by Schedule L, Title "DUTIES UPON IMPORTS," a sufficient number of distinctive samples of the various kinds of wool or hair embraced in each of the three classes named, selected and prepared under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, and duly verified by him, the standard samples of which shall be retained in the Treasury Department, shall be deposited in the custom-houses and elsewhere, as he may direct; which samples shall be used by the proper officers of the customs, to determine the class to which any imported wool or hair belongs. (530.)

1879. SEC. 2917. The standard for vinegar shall be taken to be that strength which requires thirty-five grains of bicarbonate of potash to neutralize one ounce troy of vinegar; and all import duties that may be imposed by law on vinegar imported from foreign countries shall be collected according to this standard. (784.)

1880. SEC. 2918. The Secretary of the Treasury may, under the direction of the President, adopt such hydrometer as he may deem best calculated to promote the public interest for the purpose of ascertaining the proof of liquors; and, after such adoption, the duties imposed by law upon distilled spirits shall be collected according to the proof ascertained by any hydrometer so adopted.*

1881. SEC. 2919. For the purpose of estimating the duties on importations of grain, the number of bushels shall be ascertained by weight, instead of by measuring; and sixty pounds of wheat, fifty-six pounds of corn, fifty-six pounds of rye, forty-eight pounds of barley, thirty-two pounds of oats, sixty pounds of pease, and forty-two pounds of buckwheat, avoirdupois weight, shall respectively be estimated as a bushel. (492.)

1882. SEC. 2920. In all cases in which the invoice or entry does not contain the weight, or quantity, or measure of merchandise, now weighed, or measured, or gauged, the same shall be weighed, gauged, or measured at the expense of the owner, agent, or consignee.

1883. SEC. 2921. If, on the opening of any package, a deficiency of any article shall be found, on examination by the appraisers, the same shall be certified to the collector on the invoice, and an allowance for the same be made in estimating the duties. (22*b*, last Prov.)

All testimony in writing, or depositions, taken by virtue of this section, shall be filed in the collector's office, and preserved for future use or reference, to be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury when he shall require the same. (21.)

1885. SEC. 2923. If any person so called shall neglect or refuse to attend, or shall decline to answer, or shall, if required, refuse to answer in writing any interrogatories, and subscribe his name to his deposition, or to produce such papers, when so required by an appraiser or collector and naval officer, he shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars; and if such person be the owner, importer, or consignee, the appraisement which the appraisers, or collector and naval officer, where there are no legal appraisers, may make of the merchandise shall be final and conclusive. (21.)

1886. SEC. 2924. Any person who shall willfully and corruptly swear falsely on an examination before any appraiser, or collector and naval officer, shall be deemed guilty of perjury; and if he is the owner, importer, or consignee, the merchandise shall be forfeited. (21.)

Whenever, in the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury, it may be necessary in order to carry into full effect the laws for the collection of the revenue, he may authorize the collector of any district into which merchandise, subject to duty, may be imported, to require the owner, importer, or consignee of such merchandise, to give bond, in a sum not exceeding the value of such merchandise, that he will produce or cause to be produced, within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Secretary, such proof as the Secretary may deem necessary, and as is in the power of the owner, importer, or consignee, to obtain, to enable the collector to ascertain the class or description of manufacture, or rate of duty, to which such merchandise is justly liable.*

1888. SEC. 2926. All merchandise, of which incomplete entry has been made, or an entry without the specification of particulars, either for want of the original invoice, or for any other cause, or which has received damage during the voyage, shall be conveyed to some warehouse or storehouse, to be designated by the collector, in the parcels or packages containing the same, there to remain with due and reasonable care, at the expense and risk of the owner or consignee, under the care of some proper officer, until the particulars, cost, or value, as the case may require, shall have been ascertained either by the exhibition of the original invoice thereof, or by appraisement, at the option of the owner, importer, or consignee; and until the duties thereon shall have been paid, or secured to be paid, and a permit granted by the collector for the delivery thereof. (4.)

1889. SEC. 2927. In respect to articles that have been damaged during the voyage, whether subject to a duty ad-valorem, or chargeable with a specific duty, either by number, weight, or measure, the appraisers shall ascertain and certify to what rate or percentage the merchandise is damaged, and the rate of percentage of damage, so ascertained and certified, shall be deducted from the original amount, subject to a duty ad-valorem, or from the actual or original number, weight, or measure, on which specific duties would have been computed. No allowance, however, for the damage on any merchandise, that has been entered, and on which the duties have been paid or secured to be paid, and for which a permit has been granted to the owner or consignee thereof, and which may on examining the same prove to be damaged, shall be made, unless proof to ascertain such damage shall be lodged in the custom-house of the port where such merchandise has been landed, within ten days after the landing of such merchandise. 1890. SEC. 2928. Before any merchandise which may be taken from any wreck shall be admitted to an entry, the same shall be appraised; and the same proceedings shall be ordered and executed in all cases where a reduction of duties shall be claimed on account of damage which any merchandise shall have sustained in the course of the voyage; and in all cases where the owner, importer, consignee, or agent shall be dissatisfied with such appraisement, he shall be entitled to the privileges of appeal as provided for in this title. (14 c.)

1891. SEC. 2929. The principal appraisers shall revise and correct the report of the assistant appraisers as they may judge proper, and report to the collector their decision thereon. If the collector deems any appraisement of goods too low, he may order a reappraisement, either by the principal appraisers, or by three merchants designated by him for that purpose, who shall be citizens of the United States; and may cause the duties to be charged accordingly.*

1892. SEC. 2930. If the importer, owner, agent, or consignee, of any merchandise shall be dissatisfied with the appraisement, and shall have complied with the foregoing requisitions, he may forthwith give notice to the collector, in writing, of such dissatisfaction; on the receipt of which the collector shall select one discreet and experienced merchant to be associated with one of the general appraisers wherever practicable, or two discreet and experienced merchants, citizens of the United States, familiar with the character and value of the goods in question, to examine and appraise the same, agreeably to the foregoing provisions; and if they shall disagree, the collector shall decide between them; and the appraisement thus determined shall be final, and deemed to be the true value, and the duties shall be levied thereon accordingly (21, 1st Prov.)

1893. SEC. 2931. On the entry of any vessel, or of any merchandise, the decision of the collector of customs at the port of importation and entry, as to the rate and amount of duties to be paid on the tonnage of such vessel or on such merchandise, and the dutiable costs and charges thereon, shall be final and conclusive against all persons interested therein, unless the owner, master, commander, or consignee of such vessel, in the case of duties levied on tonnage, or the owner, importer, consignee, or agent of the merchandise, in the case of duties levied on merchandise, or the costs and charges thereon, shall, within ten days after the ascertainment and liquidation of the duties by the proper officers of the customs, as well in cases of merchandise entered in bond as for consumption, give notice in writing to the collector on each entry, if dissatisfied with his decision, setting forth therein, distinctly and specifically, the grounds of his objection thereto, and shall within thirty days after the date of such ascertainment and liquidation, appeal therefrom to the Secretary of the Treasury. The decision of the Secretary on such appeal shall be final and conclusive; and such vessel, or merchandise, or costs and charges, shall be liable to duty accordingly, unless suit shall be brought within ninety days after the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury on such appeal for any duties which shall have been paid before the date of such decision on such vessel, or on such merchandise, or costs or charges, or within ninety days after the payment of duties paid after the decision of the Secretary. No suit shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any duties alleged to have been erroneously or illegally exacted, until the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been first had on such appeal, unless the decision of the Secretary shall be delayed more than ninety days from the date of such appeal in case of an entry at any port east of the Rocky Mountains, or more than five months in case of an entry west of those mountains. (450.)

No suit shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any such fees, costs, and charges, alleged to have been erroneously or illegally exacted, until the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been first had on such appeal, unless such decision of the Secretary shall be delayed more than ninety days from the date of such appeal in case of an entry at any port east of the Rocky Mountains, or more than five months in case of an entry west of those mountains. 1895. SEC. 2933. All drugs, medicines, medicinal preparations, including medicinal essential oils and chemical preparations, used wholly or in part as medicine, imported from abroad, shall, before passing the custom-house, be examined and appraised, as well in reference to their quality, purity, and fitness for medical purposes, as to their value and identity specified in the invoice. (28.)

1896. SEC. 2934. All medicinal preparations, whether chemical or otherwise, usually imported with the name of the manufacturer, shall have the true name of the manufacturer and the place where they are prepared, permanently and legibly affixed to each parcel by stamp, label, or otherwise; and all medicinal preparations imported without such names so affixed shall be adjudged to be forfeited. (29.)

1897. SEC. 2935. If, on examination, any drugs, medicines, medicinal preparations, whether chemical or otherwise, including medicinal essential oils, are found, in the opinion of the examiner, to be so far adulterated, or in any manner deteriorated, as to render them inferior in strength and purity to the standard established by the United States, Edinburgh, London, French, and German pharmacopœias and dispensaries, and thereby improper, unsafe, or dangerous to be used for medicinal purposes, a return to that effect shall be made upon the invoice, and the articles so noted shall not pass the custom-house, unless, on a re-examination of a strictly analytical character, called for by the owner or consignee, the return of the examiner shall be found erroneous, and it is declared as the result of such analysis, that the articles may properly, safely, and without danger, be used for medicinal purposes. (30.)

1898. SEC. 2936. The owner or consignee shall at all times, when dissatisfied with the examiner's return, have the privilege of calling, at his own expense, for a re-examination; and the collector, upon receiving a deposit of such sum as he may deem sufficient to defray such expense, shall procure some competent analytical chemist possessing the confidence of the medical profession, as well as of the colleges of medicine and pharmacy, if any such institutions exist in the State in which the collection-district is situated, to make* a careful analysis of the articles included in the return, and a report upon the same under oath. In case this report, which shall be final, shall declare the return of the examiner to be erroneous, and the articles to be of the requisite strength and purity, according to the standards referred to in the next preceding section, the entire invoice shall be passed without reservation, on payment of the customary duties. (31.)

1899. SEC. 2937. If the examiner's return, however, shall be sustained by the analysis and report, the articles shall remain in charge of the collector, and the owner or consignee, on payment of the charges of storage, and other expenses

1900. SEC. 2938. One of the assistant appraisers at the port of New York, to be appointed with special reference to his qualifications for such duties, shall, in addition to the duties that may be required of him by the appraiser, perform the duties of a special examiner of drugs, medicines, chemicals, and so forth. (501.)

1901. SEC. 2939. The collector of the port of New York shall not, under any circumstances, direct to be sent for examination and appraisement less than one package of every invoice, and one package at least out of every ten packages of merchandise, and a greater number should he, or the appraiser, or any assistant appraiser, deem it necessary. When the Secretary of the Treasury, however, from the character and description of the merchandise, may be of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of packages will amply protect the revenue, he may, by special regulation, direct a less number of packages to be examined. (499.)

1902. SEC. 2940. The Secretary of the Treasury may, on the nomination of the appraiser, appoint such number of examiners at the port of New York as the Secretary may in writing determine to be necessary, to aid each of the assistant appraisers in the examination, inspection, and appraisement of merchandise. No person shall be appointed such examiner who is not, at the time of his appointment, practically and thoroughly acquainted with the character, quality, and value of the article in the examination and appraisement of which he is to be employed; nor shall any such examiner enter upon the discharge of his duties, as such, until he shall have taken and subscribed an oath faithfully and diligently to discharge such duties. (501 b.)

1903. SEC. 2941. No appraiser, assistant appraiser, examiner, clerk, verifier, sampler, messenger, or other person employed in the departments of appraisal at the port of New York, or any of them, shall engage or be employed in any commercial or mercantile business, or act as agent for any person engaged in such business, during the term of his appointment. (502.)

1904. SEC. 2942. All provisions relating to the duties of appraisers, or to any proceedings consequent or dependent upon the action of such appraisers and not inconsistent with the provisions relating to the appraiser and assistant appraisers at the port of New York, shall be construed to apply to them. (504.)

1905. SEC. 2943. One of the assistant appraisers at the port of New York shall be detailed by the appraiser for the supervision of the department for the examination of merchandise damaged on the voyage of importation, and as far as practicable to make examinations and appraisals of such or any other merchandise as the appraiser may direct, and in all cases truly to report to him the extent of such damage, or the true value of the merchandise appraised, as the case may be, according to law; such report to be subject to revision, correction, and approval by the appraiser, and to be transmitted to the collector in the same manner as other appraisals. (501.)

1906. SEC. 2944. If at any time, from an increase of importation, or from any other cause, there shall be found upon the floors of the public stores in the city of New York an accumulation of merchandise awaiting appraisement, the appraiser shall, under regulations established by the Secretary of the Treasury, direct the assistant appraisers, and others associated with them in this branch of the public business, to devote time beyond the usual business hours, in each day, during daylight, to their respective duties, so that the business of appraisement may be faithfully and more promptly dispatched. (505.)

1907. SEC. 2945. Any merchant who shall be chosen by the collector to make any appraisement required under any act respecting imports and tonnage, and who shall, after due notice of such choice has been given to him in writing, decline or neglect to assist at such appraisement, shall be subject to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars, and to the costs of prosecution therefor.*

1908. SEC. 2946. When merchandise is entered at ports where there are no appraisers, the mode hereinbefore prescribed of ascertaining the foreign value thereof shall be carefully observed by the revenue officers to whom is committed the estimating and collection of duties. (23)

1909. SEC. 2947. The Secretary of the Treasury shall have authority to direct the appraisers for any collection-district to attend in any other collection-district for the purpose of appraising any merchandise imported therein. (14 b.)

1910. SEC. 2948. No portion of the additional duties provided by this Title shall be deemed a fine, penalty, or forfeiture, for the purpose of being distributed to any officer of the customs; but the whole amount thereof, when received, shall be paid directly into the Treasury.†

1911. SEC. 2949. The Secretary of the Treasury from time to time shall establish such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the United States, to secure a just, faithful, and impartial appraisal of all merchandise imported into the United States, and just and proper entries of such actual market-value or wholesale price thereof, and of the square yards, parcels, or other quantities, as the case may require, and of such actual market-value or wholesale price of each of them. (23 b.) The Secretary of the Treasury shall report all such rules and regulations, with the reasons therefor, to the then next session of Congress.

1912. SEC. 2950. The certificate of any one of the appraisers of the dutiable value of any imported merchandise required to be appraised, shall be deemed to be the appraisement of such merchandise required by law to be made by such appraisers. Where merchandise shall be entered at ports where there are no appraisers, the certificate of the revenue officer to whom is committed the estimating and collection of duties of the dutiable value of any merchandise required to be appraised, shall be deemed and taken to be the appraisement of such merchandise required by law to be made by such officer. (36.)

1913. SEC. 2951. Wherever the word "ton" is used in this chapter, in reference to weight, it shall be construed as meaning twenty hundred-weight, each hundred-weight being one hundred and twelve pounds avoirdupois. (170)

1914. SEC. 2952. The words "value" and "valued," used in this chapter, shall be construed as meaning the true market-value of merchandise in the principal markets of the country from whence exported at the date of exportation. (176.)

1915. SEC. 2953. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the leasing or hiring of such buildings or accommodations as may be required for the use of the United States appraisers for the due examination and appraisal of imported merchandise at the ports where such officers are provided by law, nor to prohibit the leasing or hiring by collectors of the customs, for short periods, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, of such stores as may be required for custom-house purposes at any of the smaller revenue ports of the United States.‡

Nothing herein contained shall be understood to prohibit the sale of such quantities of merchandise so stored as may be necessary to discharge the duties thereon, and all intervening charges, at the time or times when such duties shall become due and payable.‡

1926. SEC. 2964. 1990. SEC. 3027. No part of the additional or discriminating duty imposed by law on merchandise on account of its importation in foreign vessels shall be allowed to be drawback, but the whole shall be retained.*

1991. SEC. 3028. Where articles are imported in bulk they shall be exported in the packages, if any, in which they were landed; for which purpose the officer delivering the same shall return the packages they may be put into, if any, with their marks and numbers, and they shall not be entitled to drawback, unless exported in such packages, which shall be deemed the packages of original importation, nor unless they fully agree with the return made by the officer.

1992. SEC. 3029. It shall be lawful for the exporter of any liquors in casks, or any unrefined sugars, to fill up the casks or packages out of other casks or packages included in the same original importation, or into new casks or packages corresponding therewith, to be marked and numbered as the original casks or packages, in case the original casks or packages shall, in the opinion of the officer appointed to examine the same, be so injured as to be rendered unfit for exportation, and in no other case. The filling up or change of package must, however, be done under the inspection of a proper officer, appointed for that purpose by the collector and naval officer, where any, of the port from which such liquors or unrefined sugars are intended to be exported; and the drawback on articles so filled up, or of which the packages have been changed, shall not be allowed without such inspection.

1993. SEC. 3030. When the owner, importer, consignee, or agent, of any merchandise entitled to debenture, may wish to transfer the same into packages, other than those in which the merchandise was originally imported, the collector of the port where the same may be shall permit the transfer to be made, if necessary for the safety or preservation thereof.

1994. SEC. 3031. Due notice of the wish to make such transfer, in writing, setting forth sufficient cause for the transfer, shall be given to the collector, who shall appoint an inspector of the revenue to ascertain if the allegation be true, and, if found correct, to superintend the transfer, and to cause the marks and numbers upon the original packages to be inscribed upon the packages into which the merchandise shall be transferred.

1995. SEC. 3032. Every importer, owner, consignee, agent, or exporter, who shall enter merchandise for importation, or for exportation, or transportation from one port to another, with the right of drawback, shall deposit with the collector the original invoice of such merchandise, if not before deposited with the collector, and in that case an authenticated copy thereof, to be filed and preserved by him in the archives of the custom-house, which shall be signed by such importer, owner, consignee, agent, or exporter, and the oath to be made on the entry of such merchandise shall be annexed thereto.

1996. SEC. 3033. It shall be the duty of the collector to cause all merchandise entered for re-exportation, with the right of drawback, to be inspected, and the articles thereof compared with their respective invoices, before a permit shall be given for lading the same; and where the merchandise so entered shall be found not to agree with the entry it shall be forfeited.

1997. SEC. 3034. All merchandise, subject to advalorem duty, and intended for exportation, with benefit of drawback, which shall be transported from one district to another, shall be accompanied by a copy from the invoice, of the cost thereof, certified by the collector of the district from which it may have been last reshipped, which certified copy shall be produced to the collector of the district from which such merchandise is intended to be exported; and such merchandise, as well as all such merchandise subject to advalorem duty, as shall be exported from the district into which it may have been originally imported, shall be inspected by the appraisers at the time of exportation, in the same manner as on the importation of such merchandise; and if the same is found not to correspond with the original invoice, the merchandise shall be subject to forfeiture.

1998. SEC. 3035. The collector shall direct the surveyor, where any, to inspect, or cause to be inspected, the merchandise notified for exportation, and if it is found to correspond fully with the notice and proof concerning the same, the collector, together with the naval officer, if any, shall grant a permit for lading the same on board of the vessel named in such notice and entry. Such lading shall be performed under the superintendence of the officer by whom the same has been so inspected; and the exporter shall make oath that the merchandise, so noticed for exportation, and laden on board such vessel, previous to the clearance thereof, or within ten days after such clearance, is truly intended to be exported to the place whereof notice has been given, and is not intended to be relanded within the United States; otherwise the merchandise shall not be entitled to the benefit of drawback.

1999. SEC. 3036. All merchandise imported into the United States, the duties on which have been paid, or secured to be paid, may be transported by land, or partly by land and partly by water, or coastwise, from the district into which it was imported to any port of entry and exported from such port of entry with the benefit of drawback.

2000. SEC. 3037. Whenever the exporter entering any merchandise, for the benefit of drawback, shall not have completed such entry, by taking the oath or giving the bond required by the existing laws, within the period prescribed by law, but shall offer to complete the entry after the expiration of the period, the Secretary of the Treasury may, upon application to him made, by the exporter, setting forth the cause of his omission, under oath, and accompanied by a statement of the collector of all the circumstances attending the transaction within the knowledge of such collector, if he shall be satisfied that the failure to complete the entry was accidental, without any intention to evade the law or defraud the revenue, direct the entry to be completed, and the certificates or debentures, as the case may be, to issue in the same manner, as if such entry has been completed within the period prescribed by the existing laws of the United States.

2001. SEC. 3038. All debentures shall be issued and made payable to the original importer of the merchandise, entered for exportation, whenever the same shall be requested, in writing, by the exporter, and not otherwise. In respect to any merchandise, on which the duties shall have been paid prior to an entry for exportation, the debenture for the amount of the drawback of such duties shall be made payable in fifteen days, to be computed from the time of signing the bond, to be given as hereinafter directed.

2002. SEC. 3039. Whenever payment of any debenture is refused by the collector of the district where it was granted, for a longer time than three days, after the same shall have become payable, such refusal to be proved in the same manner as the non-payment of a bill of exchange, the possessor or assignee of such debenture may bring suit thereupon against the person to whom it was originally granted or against any indorser thereof.

2003. SEC. 3040. Debentures shall be assignable by delivery and indorsement of the parties who may receive the same.

2004. SEC. 3041. Where any merchandise is exported from any other district than the one into which it was originally imported, the collector of such district, together with the naval officer thereof, where there is one, shall grant to the exporter a certificate, expressing that such merchandise was exported from such district, with the marks, numbers, and descriptions of the packages and their contents, the names of the master and vessel in which and the port to which it was exported, and by whom, and the names of the vessel and master in which it was brought, and by whom shipped at the district from whence it came, and the amount of the drawback to which it is entitled. Such certificate shall entitle the possessor thereof to receive from the collector of the district with whom the duties on the merchandise were paid, a debenture or debentures, for the amount of the drawback expressed in the certificate, payable at the same time, and in like manner as is herein directed for debentures on merchandise exported from the port of original importation.

2005. SEC. 3042. The collector may refuse to grant such debenture, in case it shall appear to him that any error has arisen, or any fraud has been committed; and in case of such refusal, if the debenture claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars, it shall be the duty of the collector to represent the case to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall determine whether such debenture shall be granted or not. In no case, moreover, of an exportation of goods shall a drawback be paid, until the duties on the importation thereof shall have been first received.

2006. SEC. 3043. Before the receipt of any debenture, in case of exportation from the district of original importation, and in case of exportation from any other district before the receipt of any such certificate, as is hereinbefore required to be granted, the person applying for such debenture or certificate shall, previous to such receipt, and before the clearance of the vessel in which the merchandise was laden for exportation, give bond, with one or more sureties, to the satisfaction of the collector, who is to grant such debenture or certificate, as the case may be, in a sum equal to double the amount of the sum for which such debenture or certificate is granted, conditioned that such merchandise, or any part thereof, shall not be relanded in any port within the limits of the United States, and that the exporter shall produce, within the time herein limited, the proofs and certificates required of such merchandise having been delivered without such limits.

2007. SEC. 3044. All bonds which may be given for any merchandise exported from the United States, and on which any drawback of duties or allowance shall be payable, in virtue of such exportation, shall and may be discharged, and not otherwise, by producing within one year from the date thereof, if the exportation be made to any port of Europe or America, or within two years, if made to any part of Asia or Africa, a certificate under the hand of the consignee at the foreign port to whom the merchandise shall have been addressed, therein particularly setting forth and describing the articles so exported, their marks, numbers, description of packages, the number thereof, and their actual contents, and declaring that the same have been received by them from on board the vessel, specifying the names of the master and vessel from which they were so received; and where such merchandise is not consigned or addressed to any particular person at the foreign port to which the vessel is destined, or may arrive, but where the master, or other person on board such vessel may be the consignee of such merchandise, a certificate from the person to whom such merchandise may be sold or delivered, by such master or other person, shall be produced to the same effect as that required if the person receiving the same were originally intended to be the consignee thereof.

2008. SEC. 3045. In addition to such certificate, it shall be necessary to produce a certificate under the hand and seal of the consul or agent of the United States, residing at the place, declaring either that the facts stated in the certificate of such consignee, or other person, are to his knowledge true, or that such certificate is deserving of full faith and credit; which certificates of the consignee, or other person, and consul or agent, shall, in all cases, as respects the landing or delivery of the merchandise, be confirmed by the oath of the master and mate, if living, or, in case of their death, by the oath of the two principal surviving officers of the vessel in which the exportation shall be made. Where there is no consul or agent of the United States residing at the place of delivery, the certificate of the consignee, or other person hereinbefore required, shall be confirmed by the certificate of two reputable American merchants residing at the place, or if there are no such American merchants, then by the certificate of two reputable foreign merchants, testifying that the several facts stated in such consignee or other person's certificate, are, to their knowledge, just and true, or that such certificate is, in their opinion, worthy of full faith and credit; and such certificate shall also be supported by the oath of the master and mate, or other principal officers of the vessel, in manner as as before prescribed. The oath of the master and mate, or other principal officers, shall, in all cases, when taken at a foreign port, be taken and subscribed before the consul or agent of the United States residing at such foreign port, if any such consul or agent reside thereat.

2009. SEC. 3046. It shall be lawful for the consuls or agents of the United States, residing at the foreign ports, to demand twenty-five cents for administering each oath and one dollar for granting each certificate required by the preceding section, and if any consul or agent shall demand other or greater fees than are thus allowed, his bond shall be forfeited.

2010. SEC. 3047. In cases of loss by sea, or by capture or other unavoidable accident, or when, from the nature of the trade, the proofs and certificates before required are not, and cannot be, procured, the exporter shall be allowed to adduce to the collector of the port of exportation such other proofs as they may have, and as the nature of the case will admit; which proofs shall, with a statement of all the circumstances attending the transaction within the knowledge of such collector, be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall have power to allow a further reasonable time for obtaining such proofs; or if he be satisfied with the truth and validity of the proofs adduced, to direct the bond of such exporter to be canceled. If the amount of such bond shall not exceed the penal sum of two hundred dollars, the collector, with the naval officer, where there is one, and alone, where there is none, may, pursuant to such rules as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, admit such proof as may be adduced; and if they deem the same satisfactory, cancel such bond accordingly.

2011. SEC. 3048. So much money as may be necessary for the payment of debentures or drawbacks and allowances which may be authorized and payable, is hereby appropriated for that purpose out of any money in the Treasury, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of that Department, according to the laws authorizing debentures or drawbacks and allowances. The collectors of the customs shall be the disbursing agents to pay such debentures, drawbacks, and allowances. All debenture certificates issued according to law shall be received in payment of duties at the custom-house where the same have been issued, the laws regulating drawbacks having been complied with.

2012. SEC. 3049. If any merchandise entered for exportation, with intent to drawback the duties, or to obtain any allowance given by law on the exportation thereof, shall be landed within any port within the limits of the United States, all such merchandise shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture, together with the vessel from which such merchandise shall be landed, and the vessels or boats used in landing the same; and all persons concerned therein shall, upon indictment and conviction thereof, suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months. For discovery of frauds and seizure of merchandise re-landed contrary to law, the several officers established by this Title shall have the same powers, and, in case of seizure, the same proceedings shall be had, as in the case of merchandise imported contrary to law.

2013. SEC. 3050. If any merchandise, of which entry shall have been made in the office of a collector, for the benefit of drawback or bounty upon exportation, shall be entered by a false denomination, or erroneously as to the time when and the vessel in which it was imported, or shall be found to disagree with the packages, quantities, or qualities, as they were at the time of original importation, except such disagreement as may have been occasioned by necessary or unavoidable wastage or damage only, and except also in cases where permission shall have been obtained according to law to alter or change the quantities or packages thereof, all such merchandise, or the value thereof to be recovered of the owner or person making such entry, shall be forfeited, and the person making such false entry shall also forfeit a sum equal to the value of the articles mentioned or described in such entry.

2014. SEC. 3051. No forfeiture shall be incurred under the preceding section if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the collector and naval officer of the district, if there be a naval officer, and if there be no naval officer, to the satisfaction of the collector, or of the court in which a prosecution for the forfeiture shall be had, that such false denomination, error, or disagreement happened by mistake or accident, and not from any intention to defraud the revenue.

2015. SEC. 3052. None of the provisions of this Title shall operate to prevent the exportation of bonded merchandise from warehouse within three years from the date of original importation, nor its transportation in bond from the port into which it was originally imported to any other port for the purpose of exportation.

2016. SEC. 3053. Any merchandise imported from the British North American provinces adjoining the United States, which shall have been duly entered and the duties thereon paid or secured according to law at either of the ports of entry in the collection-districts situated on the northern, north-eastern, and northwestern frontiers of the United States, may be transported by land or by water, or partly by land and partly by water, to any port or ports from which merchandise may be exported for benefit of drawback, and be thence exported with such privilege to any foreign country. The laws relating to the transportation of merchandise entitled to drawback, and the due exportation and proof of landing thereof, and all regulations which the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for the security of the revenue, must, however, be complied with.

2017. SEC. 3054. Any imported merchandise, in the original packages, which shall have been duly entered and warehoused in pursuance of the provisions relating to warehouses, may be exported therefrom in conformity with law, and be transported, in the manner indicated, to ports in the adjoining British provinces, and become entitled to the benefits of those provisions.

2018. SEC. 3055. Merchandise imported into the United States and exported from the port of Lake Ponchartrain shall be entitled to the benefit of a drawback of the duties upon exportation to any foreign port, under the same provisions, regulations, restrictions, and limitations, as if such merchandise had been exported directly from New Orleans by way of the Mississippi River.

2019. SEC. 3056. Any imported merchandise which has been entered, and the duties paid or secured according to law, for drawback, may be exported to the British North American provinces adjoining the United States.

2020. SEC. 3057. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby further authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the United States, as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the laws relating to drawbacks, and to prevent the illegal re-importation of any merchandise which shall have been exported as herein provided.

CHAPTER ELEVEN.

PROVISIONS APPLYING TO COMMERCE WITH CONTIGUOUS COUNTRIES.

2021. SEC. 3095. Except into the districts hereinbefore described on the northern, northwestern, and western boundaries of the United States, adjoining to the Dominion of Canada, or into the districts adjacent to Mexico, no merchandise of foreign growth or manufacture, subject to the payment of duties, shall be brought into the United States from any foreign port in any other manner than by sea, nor in any vessel of less than thirty tons burden, agreeably to the admeasurement directed for ascertaining the tonnage of vessels; or landed or unladen at any other port than is directed by this Title, under the penalty of seizure and forfeiture of all such vessels, and of the merchandise imported therein, landed or unladen in any other manner.

2022. SEC. 3096. All persons may import any merchandise of which the importation shall not be entirely prohibited, into the districts which are or may be established on the northern and northwestern boundaries of the United States, in vessels or boats of any burden, and in rafts or carriages of any kind or nature whatsoever.

2023. SEC. 3097. All vessels, boats, rafts, and carriages, of what kind soever, arriving in such districts, on the northern and northwestern frontiers, containing merchandise subject to duties, on being imported into any port of the United States, shall be reported to the collector, or other chief officer of the customs at the port of entry in the district into which it shall be so imported; and such merchandise shall be accompanied with like manifests, and like entries shall be made, by the persons having charge of any such vessels, boats, rafts, and carriages, and by the owners or consignees of the merchandise laden on board the same; and the powers and duties of the officers of the customs shall be exercised and discharged in the districts last mentioned, in like manner as is prescribed in respect to merchandise imported in vessels from the sea; and generally, all such importations shall be subject to like regulations, penalties, and forfeitures as in other districts, except as is hereinafter specially provided.

2024. SEC. 3098. The master of any vessel, except registered vessels, and every person having charge of any boat, canoe, or raft, and the conductor or driver of any carriage or sleigh, and every other person, coming from any foreign territory adjacent to the United States into the United States, with merchandise subject to duty, shall deliver, immediately on his arrival within the United States, a manifest of the cargo or loading of such vessel, boat, canoe, raft, carriage, or sleigh, or of the merchandise so brought from such foreign territory, at the office of any collector or deputy collector which shall be nearest to the boundary-line, or nearest to the road or waters by which such merchandise is brought; and every such manifest shall be verified by the oath of such person delivering the same; which oath shall be taken before such collector or deputy collector; and such oath shall state that such manifest contains a full, just, and true account of the kinds, quantities, and values of all the merchandise so brought from such foreign territory.

2025. SEC. 3099. If the master, or other person having charge of any vessel, boat, canoe, or raft, or the conductor or driver of any carriage or sleigh, or other person bringing such merchandise, shall neglect or refuse to deliver the manifest required by the preceding section, or pass by or avoid such office, the merchandise subject to duty, and so imported, shall be forfeited to the United States, together with the vessel, boat, canoe, or raft, the tackle, apparel, and furniture of the same, or the carriage or sleigh, and harness and cattle drawing the same, or the horses with their saddles and bridles, as the case may be; and such master, conductor, or other importer shall be subject to a penalty of four times the value of the merchandise so imported.

2026. SEC. 3100. All merchandise, and all baggage and effects of passengers, and all other articles imported into the United States from any contiguous foreign country, except as hereafter provided, as well as the vessels, cars, and other vehicles and envelopes in which the same shall be imported, shall be unladen in the presence of, and be inspected by, an inspector or other officer of the customs, at the first port of entry or custom-house in the United States where the same shall arrive; and to [enable the proper officer thoroughly to discharge this duty, he may require the owner or his agent, or other person, having charge or possession of] any trunk, traveling-bag, or sack, valise, or other envelope, or of any closed vessel, car, or other vehicle, to open the same, or to deliver to him the proper key.

2027. SEC. 3101. If any owner, agent, or other person shall refuse or neglect to comply with his demands, allowed by the preceding section, the officer shall retain such trunk, traveling-bag, or sack, valise, or whatsoever it may be, and open the same, and, as soon thereafter as may be practicable, examine the contents; and if any article subject to the payment of duty shall be found therein, the whole contents, together with the envelope, shall be forfeited to the United States, and disposed of as the law provides in other similar cases. If any such dutiable merchandise or article shall be found in any such vessel, car, or other vehicle, the owner, agent, or other person in charge of which shall have refused to open the same or deliver the key as herein provided, the same, together with the vessel, car, or other vehicle, shall be forfeited to the United States, and shall be held by such officer, to be disposed of as the law provides in other similar cases of forfeiture.

2028. SEC. 3102. To avoid the inspection at the first port of arrival, the owner, agent, master, or conductor of any such vessel, car, or other vehicle, or owner, agent, or other person having charge of any such merchandise, baggage, effects, or other articles, may apply to any officer of the United States duly authorized to act in the premises, to seal or close the same, under and according to the regulations hereinafter authorized, previous to their importation into the United States; which officer shall seal or close the same accordingly; whereupon the same may proceed to their port of destination without further inspection. Every such vessel, car, or other vehicle, shall proceed, without unnecessary delay, to the port of its destination, as named in the manifest of its cargo, freight, or contents, and be there inspected. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to exempt such vessel, car, or vehicle, or its contents, from such examination as may be necessary and proper to prevent frauds upon the revenue and violations of this Title.

2029. SEC. 3103. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to make such regulations, and from time to time so to change the same as to him shall seem necessary and proper, for sealing such vessels, cars, and other vehicles, when practicable, and for sealing, marking, and identifying such merchandise, baggage, effects, trunks, traveling-bags, or sacks, valises, and other envelopes and articles; and also in regard to invoices, manifests, and other pertinent papers, and their authentication.

2030. SEC. 3104. If the owner, master, or person in charge of any vessel, car, or other vehicle so sealed, shall not proceed to the port or place of destination thereof named in the manifest of its cargo, freight, or contents, and deliver such vessel, car, or vehicle to the proper officer of the customs, or shall dispose of the same by sale or otherwise, or shall unload the same, or any part thereof, at any other than such port, or place, or shall sell or dispose of the contents of such vessel, car, or other vehicle, or any part thereof, before such delivery, he shall be deemed guilty of felony, and on conviction thereof, before any court of competent jurisdiction, pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court; and such vessel, car, or other vehicle, with its contents, shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized wherever found within the United States, and disposed of and sold as in other cases of forfeiture. Nothing in this section, however, shall be construed to prevent sales of cargo, in whole or in part, prior to arrival, to be delivered as per manifest, and after due inspection.

2031. SEC. 3105. If any unauthorized person or persons shall willfully break, cut, pick, open, or remove any wire, seal, lead, lock, or other fastening or mark attached to any vessel, car, or other vehicle, crate, box, bag, bale, basket, barrel, bundle, cask, trunk, package, or parcel, or anything whatsoever, under and by virtue of this Title and regulations authorized by it, or any other law, or shall affix or attach, or any way willfully aid, assist, or encourage the affixing [in] or attaching, by wire or otherwise, to any vessel, car, or other vehicle, or to any crate, box, bale, barrel, bag, basket, bundle, cask, package, parcel, article, or thing of any kind, any seal, lead, metal, or anything purporting to be a seal authorized by law, such person or persons shall be deemed guilty of felony, and shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding five years, or shall pay a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both, at the discretion of the court.

2032. SEC. 3106. Each vessel, car, or other vehicle, crate, box, bag, basket, barrel, bundle, cask, trunk, package, parcel, or other thing, with the cargo, or contents thereof, from which the wire, seal, lead, lock, or other fastening or mark shall have been broken, cut, picked, opened, or removed by any such unauthorized person or persons, or to which such seal, or other thing purporting to be a seal, has been wrongfully attached, shall be forfeited.

2033. SEC. 3107. If any store, warehouse, or other building shall be upon or near the boundary-line between the United States and any foreign country, and there is reason to believe that dutiable merchandise is deposited or has been placed therein or carried through or into the same without payment of duties, and in violation of law, and the collector, deputy collector, naval officer, or surveyor of customs, shall make oath before any magistrate competent to administer the same, that he has reason to believe, and does believe, that such offense has been therein committed, such officer shall have the right to search such building and the premises belonging thereto; and if any such merchandise shall be found therein, the same, together with such building, shall be seized, forfeited, and disposed of according to law, and the building shall be forthwith taken down or removed.

2034. SEC. 3108. Any person who shall have received or deposited in such building upon the boundary-line between the United States and any foreign country, or carried through the same, any merchandise, or shall have aided therein, in violation of law, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both.

2035. SEC. 3109. The master of any foreign vessel, laden or in ballast, arriving in the waters of the United States from any foreign territory adjacent to the northern, northeastern, or northwestern frontiers of the United States, shall report at the office of any collector or deputy collector of the customs, which shall be nearest to the point at which such vessel may enter such waters; and such vessel shall not proceed farther inland, either to unlade or take in cargo, without a special permit from such collector or deputy collector, issued under and in accordance with such general or special regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may in his discretion, from time to time, prescribe. For any violation of this section such vessel shall be seized and forfeited.

2036. SEC. 3110. If any merchandise shall, at any port in the United States on the northern, northeastern, or northwestern frontiers thereof, be laden upon any vessel belonging wholly or in part to a subject of a foreign country, and shall be taken thence to a foreign port to be reladen and reshipped to any other port in the United States on such frontiers, either by the same or any other vessel, foreign or American, with intent to evade the provisions relating to the transportation of merchandise from one port of the United States to another port of the United States, in a vessel belonging wholly or in part to a subject of any foreign power, the merchandise shall, on its arrival at such last-named port, be seized and forfeited to the United States, and the vessel shall pay a tonnage-duty of fifty cents per ton on her admeasurement.

of the United States shall touch at any port in the adjacent British provinces, and the master of such vessel shall purchase any merchandise for the use of the vessel, the master of the vessel shall report the same, with cost and quantity thereof, to the collector or other officer of the customs at the first port in the United States at which he shall next arrive, designating them as "sea-stores;" and in the oath to be taken by such master of such vessel, on making such report, he shall declare that the articles so specified or designated "sea stores" are truly intended for the use exclusively of the vessel, and are not intended for sale, transfer, or private use. If any other or greater quantity of dutiable articles shall be found on board such vessel than are specified in such report or entry of such articles, or any part thereof shall be landed without a permit from a collector or other officer of the customs, such articles, together with the vessel, her apparel, tackle, and furniture, shall be forfeited.

2038. SEC. 3112. If, upon examination and inspection by the collector or other officer of the customs, such articles are not deemed excessive in quantity for the use of the vessel, until an American port may be reached by such vessel, where such sea-stores can be obtained, such articles shall be declared free of duty; but if it shall be found that the quantity or quantities of such articles, or any part thereof so reported, are excessive, it shall be lawful for the collector or other officer of the customs to estimate the amount of duty on such excess, which shall be forthwith paid by the master of the vessel, on penalty of paying a sum of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than four times the value of such excess, or such master shall be punishable by imprisonment for not less than three months, and not more than two years.

2040. SEC. 3114. The equipments,* or any part thereof, including boats, purchased for, or the expenses of repairs made in a foreign country upon a vessel

* As to duty on equipments of vessels generally, the Treasury Regulations of 1857 ruled that, "although no part of the proper equipment of a vessel arriving in the United States is liable to duty, such equipment is not to comprehend more than the usual quantity of spare sails or other articles, and any redundancy becomes liable to duty, such as two sets of chains, for instance, where one set constitutes a proper equipment of the vessel."

"If new sails or other articles procured abroad be claimed as a part of such equipment, it must be shown to the satisfaction of the collector that they are necessary, with those on board, to complete her proper equipment, and are intended in good faith for the exclusive use of the vessel, and to be retained for that use."

"If brought into the United States for the purpose of being sold, or transferred to another vessel, or any purpose other than the use of the vessel bringing them, such sails or other articles procured abroad must be considered as merchandise, and subject either to the payment of duty or to seizure, as the facts may warrant."

"Anchors, sails, and chains, imported to be used for the equipment of a vessel, are liable to duty; and in a case where anchors and chains were bonded on importation, entered for exportation, and placed on board the vessel as a part of her equipment, it was decided by the Department that the export entry was a manifest evasion of the law, and that legal duties should be collected."

Foreign chains imported to be left in the United States as mooring chains for a line of foreign steam-packets become liable, on being landed, to duty as "manufactures of iron." (Tr. Reg., pp. 565-6.)

See also syllabus of the case of Weld v. Maxwell, 4 Bl. C. C., as to duty on equipments under previous acts. (Note to § 240 ante.)

The free entry of a new rudder and stern-post imported to replace those lost by a vessel entering in distress was refused on the ground that "there is no provision of law authorizing such free entry." (May 7, 1870. N. Y. Syn. Series, 657.)

Certain machinery of a vessel winter-bound in the United States, exported for repair, was held to be dutiable on its return. (Jan. 31, 1870, Burlington. Syn. Series, 567.)

Grain bags of foreign production and manufacture, which, under Department's ruling of November 28, 1871 (not published in Synopsis), are exempted from payment of duty as part of the equipment of the vessel, cannot be transferred from the vessel to which they belong to another vessel, without being first entered and subjected to the payment of duty. (January 2, 1874, N. O., Syn. Ser., 1749.) But see also notes to 484, and Tr. Reg., 1874, Art. 472.

enrolled and licensed under the laws of the United States to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers of the United States, or a vessel intended to be employed in such trade, shall, on the first arrival of such vessel in any port of the United States, be liable to entry and the payment of an ad-valorem duty of fifty per centum on the cost thereof in such foreign country; and if the owner or master of such vessel shall willfully and knowingly neglect or fail to report, make entry, and pay duties as herein required, such vessel, with her tackle, apparel, and furniture, shall be seized and forfeited.

2041. SEC. 3115. If the owner or master of such vessel shall, however, furnish good and sufficient evidence that such vessel, while in the regular course of her voyage, was compelled, by stress of weather or other casualty, to put into such foreign port and purchase such equipments, or make such repairs, to secure the safety of the vessel to enable her to reach her port of destination, then it shall be competent for the Secretary of the Treasury to remit or refund such duties, and such vessel shall not be liable to forfeiture, and no license or enrollment and license, or renewal of either, shall hereafter be issued to any such vessel until the collector to whom application is made for the same shall be satisfied, from the oath of the owner or master, that all such equipments and repairs made within the year immediately preceding such application have been duly accounted for under the provisions of this and the preceding sections, and the duties accruing thereon duly paid; and if such owner or master shall refuse to take such oath, or take it falsely, the vessel shall be seized and forfeited.

2042. SEC. 3116. The master of every vessel enrolled or licensed to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers of the United States, except canal-boats employed in navigating the canals within the United States, shall, before the departure of his vessel from a port in one collection-district to a port in another collection-district, present to the collector at the port of departure duplicate manifests of his cargo, or, if he have no cargo, duplicate manifests setting forth that fact; such manifests shall be subscribed and sworn to by the master before the collector, who shall indorse thereon his certificate of clearance, retaining one for the files of his office; the other he shall deliver for the use of the master.

2043. SEC. 3117. If any vessel so enrolled or licensed shall touch at any intermediate port in the United States, and there discharge cargo taken on board at an American port, or at such intermediate ports shall take on board cargo destined for an American port, the master of such vessel shall not be required to report such lading or unlading at such intermediate ports, but shall enter the same on his manifest obtained at the original port of departure, which he shall deliver to the collector of the port at which the unlading of the cargo is completed, within twenty-four hours after arrival, and shall subscribe and make oath as to the truth and correctness of the same.

2045. SEC. 3119. Nothing contained in the three preceding sections shall exempt masters of vessels from reporting, as now required by law, any merchandise destined for any foreign port. No permit shall be required for the unlading of cargo brought from an American port.

2046. SEC. 3120. No merchandise taken from any port in the United States on the northern, northeastern, or northwestern frontiers thereof, to a port in another collection-district of the United States on such frontiers, in any vessel, shall be unladen or delivered from such vessel within the United States, but in open day, that is to say, between the rising and setting of the sun, except by special license from the collector or other principal officer of the port for the purpose. The owner of every vessel whose master or manager shall neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred. The Secretary of the Treasury may, from time to time, make such regulations as to him shall seem necessary and expedient for unloading at and clearance from any port or place on such frontiers of ships or vessels at night. [And that the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized, in his discretion, to make such regulations as shall enable vessels engaged in the coasting-trade between ports and places upon Lake Michigan exclusively, and laden with American productions and free merchandise only, to unlade their cargoes without previously obtaining a permit to unlade.]

2049. SEC. 3123. Steam-tugs duly enrolled and licensed to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers of the United States, when exclusively employed in towing vessels, shall not be required to report and clear at the custom-house. When such steam-tugs, however, are employed in towing rafts or other vessels without sail or steam motive-power, not required to be enrolled or licensed under existing laws, they shall be required to report and clear in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided in similar cases for other vessels.

2050. SEC. 3124. The manifests, certificates of clearance, and oaths, provided for by the eight preceding sections, shall be in such form, and prepared, filled up, and executed in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may from time to time prescribe.

2051. SEC. 3125. If the master of any enrolled or licensed vessel shall neglect or fail to comply with any of the provisions or requirements of the nine preceding sections, such master shall forfeit and pay to the United States the sum of twenty dollars for each and every failure or neglect, and for which sum the vessel shall be liable, and may be summarily proceeded against, by way of libel, in any district court of the United States.

2052. SEC. 3126. Any vessel, on being duly registered in pursuance of the laws of the United States, may engage in trade between one port in the United States and one or more ports within the same, with the privilege of touching at one or more foreign ports during the voyage, and land and take in thereat merchandise, passengers and their baggage, and letters, and mails. All such vessels shall be furnished by the collectors of the ports at which they shall take in their cargoes in the United States, with certified manifests, setting forth the particulars of the cargoes, the marks, number of packages, by whom shipped, to whom consigned, at what port to be delivered; designating such merchandise as is entitled to drawback, or to the privilege of being placed in warehouse; and the masters of all such vessels shall, on their arrival at any port of the United States from any foreign port at which such vessel may have touched, as herein provided, conform to the laws providing for the delivery of manifests of cargo and passengers taken on board at such foreign port, and all other laws regulating the report and entry of vessels from foreign ports, and be subject to all the penalties therein prescribed.

either under the provisions relating to warehouses, or under the laws regulating the transportation coastwise of merchandise entitled to drawback, as well as any merchandise not entitled to drawback, but on which the import duties chargeable by law shall have been duly paid, shall not become subject to any import duty by reason of the vessel in which they may arrive having touched at a foreign port during the voyage.

2055. SEC. 3129. The Secretary of the Treasury, with the approbation of the President, provided the latter shall be satisfied that similar privileges are extended to vessels of the United States in the colonies hereinafter mentioned, is hereby authorized, under such regulations as he may prescribe, to protect the revenue from fraud, to permit vessels laden with the products of Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island, or either of them, to lade or unlade at any port within any collection-district of the United States which he may designate; and if any such vessel entering a port so designated, to lade or unlade, shall neglect or refuse to comply with the regulations so prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, such vessel, and the owner and master thereof, shall be subject to the same penalties as if no authority under this section had been granted to lade or unlade in such port.

Every cigar-manufacturer shall obtain from the collector of the district, who is hereby required to issue the same, a certificate setting forth the number of cigar-makers for which the bond has been given, and shall keep the same posted in a conspicuous place within the manufactory; and every cigar-manufacturer who neglects or refuses to obtain such certificate, or to keep the same posted as hereinbefore provided, shall be fined one hundred dollars. And every person who manufactures cigars of any description, without first giving bond as herein required, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and imprisoned not less than three months nor more than five years. Cigarettes and cheroots shall be held to be cigars under the meaning of this chapter. (567, 568.)

2083. SEC. 3392. All cigars shall be packed in boxes not before used for that purpose, containing, respectively, twenty-five, fifty, one hundred, two hundred and fifty, or five hundred cigars each; and every person who sells or offers for sale, or delivers or offers to deliver, any cigars in any other form than in new boxes as above described, or who packs in any box any cigars in excess of the number provided by law to be put in each box respectively, or who falsely brands any box, or affixes a stamp on any box denoting a less amount of tax than that required by law, shall be fined for each such offence not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the sale of cigars at retail by retail dealers who have paid the special tax as such from boxes packed, stamped, and branded in the manner prescribed by law. (569, 2283.)

2085. On cigars of all descriptions, made of tobacco or any substitute therefor, [five] dollars per thousand; on cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds per thousand, one dollar and [sixty] cents per thousand; on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per thousand, [five] dollars per thousand (566, 2203.)

2086. SEC. 3395. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall cause to be prepared, for payment of the tax upon cigars, suitable stamps denoting the tax thereon. Such stamps shall be furnished to collectors requiring them, and collectors shall, if there be any cigar-manufacturers within their respective districts, keep on hand at all times a supply equal in amount to two months' sales thereof, and shall sell the same only to the cigar-manufacturers who have given bonds and paid the special tax, as required by law, in their districts, respectively, and to importers of cigars, who are required to affix the same to imported cigars in the custody of customs officers, and to persons required by law to affix the same to cigars on hand after the first day of April, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine. Every collector shall keep an account of the number, amount, and denominate values of the stamps sold by him to each cigar-manufacturer, and to other persons above described. (570.)

2090. SEC. 3399. Whenever cigars of any description are manufactured, in whole or in part, upon commission or shares, or the material is furnished by one party and manufactured by another, or the material is furnished or sold by one party with an understanding or agreement with another that the cigars are to be received in payment therefor, or for any part thereof, the stamps required by law shall be affixed by the actual maker before the cigars are removed from the place of manufacturing. And in case of fraud on the part of either of said parties in respect to said manufacture, or of any collusion on their part with intent to defraud the revenue, such material and cigars shall be forfeited to the United States; and every person engaged in such fraud or collusion shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and imprisoned for not less than six months nor more than three years. (573.)

factured tobacco and cigars, and all machinery, tools, implements, apparatus, fixtures, boxes, barrels, and all other materials which shall be found in his possession, or in his manufactory, and used in his business as such manufacturer, together with his estate or interest in the building or factory, and the lot or tract of ground on which such building or factory is located, and all appurtenances thereunto belonging. (574.)

2092. SEC. 3401. All cigars imported from foreign countries shall pay, in addition to the import duties imposed thereon, the tax prescribed by law for cigars manufactured in the United States, and shall have the same stamps affixed. The stamps shall be affixed and cancelled by the owner or importer of the cigars while they are in the custody of the proper custom-house officers, and the cigars shall not pass out of the custody of such officers until the stamps have been so affixed and cancelled, but shall be put up in boxes containing quantities as prescribed in this chapter for cigars manufactured in the United States, before the stamps are affixed.* And the owner or importer of such cigars shall be liable to all the penal provisions of this Title prescribed for manufacturers of cigars manufactured in the United States. Whenever it is necessary to take any cigars so imported to any place other than the public stores of the United States, for the purpose of affixing and cancelling such stamps, the collector of customs of the port where such cigars are entered shall designate a bonded warehouse to which they shall be taken, under the control of such customs officer as such collector may direct. And every officer of customs who permits any such cigars to pass out of his custody or control, without compliance by the owner or importer thereof with the provisions of this section relating thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and imprisoned not less than six months nor more than three years. 2097. SEC. 3406. Whenever any stamped box containing cigars, cheroots, or cigarettes, is emptied, it shall be the duty of the person in whose hands the same is to destroy utterly the stamps thereon. And any person who wilfully neglects or refuses so to do shall, for each such offence, be fined not exceeding fifty dollars and imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than six months. And any person who fraudulently gives away or accepts from another, or who

* In addition to the existing requirements for the cancellation of internal revenue stamps on imported cigars, it is prescribed that each stamp, at the time of delivery to the customs officer to be placed on the box, shall have the signature of the importer, and the name of the month and year, duly written thereon. (Circular, November 4, 1870, Syn. Ser., 751.)

Customs cigar stamps should in every case, when practicable, be affixed on the cigars at the port of original entry, whether the cigars are entered for warehouse or not.

The internal revenue stamps, however, which represent the tax to be paid in case the cigars are withdrawn for consumption, need not be affixed on the cigars until they are entered for consumption at the final port. (May 16, 1872, Key West. Syn. Ser., 1124.)

Such goods, when manufactured in such warehouses, may be removed for exportation, under the direction of the proper officer having charge thereof, who shall be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, without being charged with duty, and without having a stamp affixed thereto. Any manufacturer of the articles aforesaid, or of any of them, having such bonded warehouse as aforesaid, shall be at liberty, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, to convey therein any materials to be used in such manufacture which are allowed by the provisions of law to be exported free from tax or duty, as well as the necessary materials, implements, packages, vessels, brands, and labels for the preparation, putting up, and export of the said manufactured articles; and every article so used shall be exempt from the payment of stamp and excise duty by such manufacturer. Articles and materials (except distilled spirits) so to be used may be transferred from any bonded warehouse in which the same may be, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, into any bonded warehouse in which such manufacture may be conducted, and may be used in such manufacture, and when so used shall be exempt from stamp duty; and the receipt of the officer in charge, as aforesaid, shall be received as a voucher for the manufacture of such articles. Any materials imported into the United States may, under such rules as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, and under the direction of the proper officer, be removed in original packages from on shipboard, or from the bonded warehouse in which the same may be, into the bonded warehouse in which such manufacture may be carried on, for the purpose of being used in such manufacture, without payment of duties thereon, and may there be used in such manufacture. No article so removed, nor any article manufactured in said bonded warehouse, shall be taken therefrom except for exportation, under the direction of the proper officer having charge thereof, as aforesaid, whose certificate, describing the articles by their marks, or otherwise, the quantity, the date of importation, and name of vessel, with such additional particulars as may from time to time be required, shall be received by the collector of customs in cancellation of the bonds, or return of the amount of foreign import duties. All labor performed and services rendered under these regulations shall be under the supervision of an officer of the customs, and at the expense of the manufacturer. (466.)

2120. SEC. 4229. No other or higher rate of duties shall be imposed or collected on vessels of Prussia, or of her dominions, from whencesoever coming, nor on their cargoes, howsoever composed, than are or may be payable on vessels of the United States, and their cargoes.

2121. SEC. 4230. The preceding section shall continue and be in force during the time that the equality for which it provides shall, in all respects, be reciprocated in the ports of Prussia and her dominions: and if at any time hereafter the equality shall not be reciprocated in the ports of Prussia and her dominions, the President may issue his proclamation, declaring that fact, and thereupon the section preceding shall cease to be in force.

2122. SEC. 4231. From Spanish vessels coming from any port or place in Spain or her colonies, where no discriminating or countervailing duties on tonnage are levied upon vessels of the United States, or from any other port or place to and with which vessels of the United States are ordinarily permitted to go and trade, there shall be exacted in the ports of the United States no other or greater duty on tonnage than at the time may be exacted of vessels of the United States.

2123. SEC. 4232. The mail steamships employed in the mail-service between the United States and Brazil shall be exempt from all port-charges and custom-house dues at the port of departure and arrival in the United States if, and so long as, a similar immunity from port-charges and custom-house dues is granted by the government of Brazil.

TITLE LXVIII.

REMISSION OF FINES, PENALTIES, AND FORFEITURES.

2124. SEC. 5292. Whenever any person who shall have incurred any fine, penalty, or forfeiture, or disability, or may be interested in any vessel or merchandise which has become subject to any seizure, forfeiture, or disability by authority of any provisions of law for imposing or collecting any duties or taxes, or relating to registering, recording, enrolling, or licensing vessels, [and for regulating the same,] or providing for the suppression of insurrections or unlawful combinations against the United States, shall prefer his petition to the judge of the district in which such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, or disability has accrued, truly and particularly setting forth the circumstances of his case, and shall pray that the same may be mitigated or remitted, the judge shall inquire, in a summary manner, into the circumstances of the case; first causing reasonable notice to be given to the person claiming such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, and to the attorney of the United States for such district, that each may have an opportunity of showing cause against the mitigation or remission thereof; and shall cause the facts appearing upon such inquiry to be stated and annexed to the petition, and direct their transmission to the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary shall thereupon have power to mitigate or remit such fine, forfeiture, or penalty, or remove such disability, or any part thereof, if, in his opinion, the same was incurred without willful negligence, or any intention of fraud in the person incurring the same; and to direct the prosecution, if any has been instituted for the recovery thereof, to cease and be discontinued, upon such terms or conditions [as] he may deem reasonable and just. [See §§ 3469, 3471, 3472, 5530, Rev. Stats.]

2125. SEC. 5293. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe such rules and modes of proceeding to ascertain the facts upon which an application for remission of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture is founded, as he deems proper, and, upon ascertaining them, to remit the fine, penalty, or forfeiture, if in his opinion it was incurred without willful negligence or fraud, in either of the following cases:

FIRST. [If the fine, penalty, or forfeiture was imposed under authority of any provisions of law for imposing or collecting any duties or taxes, or relating to registering, recording, enrolling, or licensing vessels, and the amount does not exceed fifty dollars.]* [If the fine, penalty, or forfeiture was imposed under authority of any revenue law, and the amount does not exceed one thousand dollars.] (2261.)

Second. Where the case occurred within either of the collection-districts in the States of California or Oregon.

Third. If the fine, penalty, or forfeiture was imposed under authority of any provisions of law relating to the importation of merchandise from foreign contiguous territory, or relating to manifests for vessels enrolled or licensed to carry on the coasting-trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers.

[Fourth.]

Fifth. If the fine, penalty, or forfeiture was imposed by authority of any provisions of law for levying or collecting any duties or taxes, or relating to registering, recording, enrolling, or licensing vessels, and the case arose within the collection district of Alaska, or was imposed by virtue of any provisions of law relating to fur-seals upon the islands of Saint Paul and Saint George.

2126. SEC. 5294. The Secretary of the Treasury may, upon application therefor, remit or mitigate any fine or penalty provided for in laws relating to steam-vessels, or discontinue any prosecution to recover penalties denounced in such laws, excepting the penalty of imprisonment, or of removal from office, upon such terms as he, in his discretion, shall think proper; and all rights granted to informers by such laws shall be held subject to the Secretary's power of remission, except in cases where the claims of any informer to the share of any penalty shall have been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction, prior to the application for the remission of the penalty; and the Secretary shall have authority to ascertain the facts upon all such applications, in such manner and under such regulations as he may deem proper.

2127. SEC. 5295. Any officer or other person entitled to or interested in a part or share of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred under any law of the United States, may be examined as a witness in any of the proceedings for the recovery of such fine, penalty, or forfeiture by either of the parties thereto, and such examination shall not deprive such witness of his share or interest in such fine, penalty, or forfeiture.

2128. SEC. 5296. When a poor convict, sentenced by any court of the United States to be imprisoned and pay a fine, or fine and cost, or to pay a fine, or fine and costs, has been confined in prison thirty days, solely for the non-payment of such fine, or fine and costs, such convict may make application in writing to any commissioner of the United States court in the district where he is imprisoned setting forth his inability to pay such fine, or fine and costs, and after notice to the district attorney of the United States, who may appear, offer evidence, and be heard, the commissioner shall proceed to hear and determine the matter. If on examination it shall appear to him that such convict is unable to pay such fine, or fine and costs, and that he has not any property exceeding twenty dollars in value, except such as is by law exempt from being taken on execution for debt, the commissioner shall administer to him the following oath: "I do solemnly swear that I have not any property, real or personal, to the amount of twenty dollars, except such as is by law exempt from being taken on civil process for debt by the laws of (naming the State where oath is administered;) and that I have no property in any way conveyed or concealed, or in any way disposed of, for my future use or benefit. So help me God." Upon taking such oath such convict shall be discharged; and the commissioner shall give to the keeper of the jail a certificate setting forth the facts. [See § 1042, Rev. Stats.]

TITLE LXXIV.

REPEAL PROVISIONS.

2129. SEC. 5595. The foregoing seventy-three titles embrace the statutes of the United States, general and permanent in their nature, in force on the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, as revised and consolidated by commissioners appointed under an act of Congress, and the same shall be designated and cited as the Revised Statutes of the United States.

2130. SEC. 5596. All acts of Congress passed prior to said first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, any portion of which is embraced in any section of said revision, are hereby repealed, and the section applicable thereto shall be in force in lieu thereof; all parts of such acts not contained in such revision, having been repealed or superseded by subsequent acts, or not being general or permanent in their nature: Provided, That the incorporation into said revision of any general and permanent provision, taken from an act making appropriations, or from an act containing other provisions of a private, local or temporary character, shall not repeal, or in any way affect any appropriation, or any provision of a private, local or temporary character, contained in any of said acts, but the same shall remain in force; and all acts of Congress passed prior to said last-named day, no part of which are embraced in said revision, shall not be affected or changed by its enactment.

2131. SEC. 5597. The repeal of the several acts embraced in said revision, shall not affect any act done, or any right accruing or accrued, or any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause before the said repeal, but all rights and liabilities under said acts shall continue, and may be enforced in the same manner, as if said repeal had not been made; nor shall said repeal in any manner affect the right to any office, or change the term or tenure thereof.

2132. SEC. 5598. All offences committed, and all penalties or forfeitures incurred under any statute embraced in said revision prior to said repeal, may be prosecuted and punished in the same manner and with the same effect, as if said repeal had not been made.

2133. SEC. 5599. All acts of limitation, whether applicable to civil causes and proceedings, or to the prosecution of offences, or for the recovery of penalties or forfeitures, embraced in said revision and covered by said repeal, shall not be affected thereby, but all suits, proceedings, or prosecutions, whether civil or criminal, for causes arising, or acts done or committed prior to said repeal, may be commenced and prosecuted within the same time as if said repeal had not been made.

2135. SEC. 5601. The enactment of the said revision is not to affect or repeal any act of Congress passed since the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and all acts passed since that date are to have full effect as if passed after the enactment of this revision, and so far as such acts vary from or conflict with any provision contained in said revision, they are to have effect as subsequent statutes, and as repealing any portion of the revision inconsistent therewith.

CHAP. CCCXCI.—An Act to amend the Customs-Revenue Laws and to repeal Moieties.

2144. SEC. 2. That all provisions of law under which moieties of any fines, penalties, or forfeitures, under the customs-revenue laws, or any share therein, or commission thereon, are paid to informers, or officers of customs, or other officers of the United States, are hereby repealed; and from and after the date of the passage of this act the proceeds of all such fines, penalties, and forfeitures shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

2145. SEC. 3. That it shall hereafter be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury, out of any money specifically appropriated by Congress, to make suitable compensation in certain cases under the customs-revenue laws, as hereinafter provided, and not otherwise; and for the purpose of making such compensation for the next fiscal year, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated; and he shall annually report to Congress, in detail, all payments by him for such purpose.

2146. SEC. 4. That whenever any officer of the customs or other person shall detect and seize goods, wares, or merchandise, in the act of being smuggled, or which have been smuggled, he shall be entitled to such compensation therefor as the Secretary of the Treasury shall award, not exceeding in amount one-half of the net proceeds, if any, resulting from such seizure, after deducting all duties, costs and charges connected therewith: Provided, That for the purposes of this act, smuggling shall be construed to mean the act, with intent to defraud, of bringing into the United States, or, with like intent, attempting to bring into the United States, dutiable articles without passing the same, or the package containing the same, through the custom-house, or submitting them to the officers of the revenue for examination. And whenever any person not an officer of the United States shall furnish to a district attorney, or to any chief officer of the customs, original information concerning any fraud upon the customs-revenue, perpetrated or contemplated, which shall lead to the recovery of any duties withheld, or of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred, whether by importers or their agents, or by any officer or person employed in the customs-service, such compensation may, on such recovery, be paid to such person so furnishing information as shall be just and reasonable, not exceeding in any case the sum of five thousand dollars; which compensation shall be paid, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, out of any money appropriated for that purpose.

2147. SEC. 5. That in all suits and proceedings other than criminal arising under any of the revenue-laws of the United States, the attorney representing the Government, whenever, in his belief, any business-book, invoice, or paper, belonging to or under the control of the defendant or claimant, will tend to prove any allegation made by the United States, may make a written motion particularly describing such book, invoice, or paper, and setting forth the allegation which he expects to prove; and thereupon the court in which suit or proceeding is pending may, at its discretion, issue a notice to the defendant or claimant to produce such book, invoice, or paper in court, at a day and hour to be specified in said notice, which, together with a copy of said motion, shall be served formally on the defendant or claimant by the United States marshal by delivering to him a certified copy thereof, or otherwise serving the same as original notices of suit in the same court are served; and if the defendant or claimant shall fail or refuse to produce such book, invoice, or paper in obedience to such notice, the allegations stated in the said motion shall be taken as confessed unless his failure or refusal to produce the same shall be explained to the satisfaction of the court. And if produced, the said attorney shall be permitted, under the direction of the court, to make examination (at which examination the defendant or claimant, or his agent may be present) of such entries in said book, invoice, or paper as relate to or tend to prove the allegation aforesaid, and may offer the same in evidence on behalf of the United States. But the owner of said books and papers, his agent or attorney, shall have, subject to the order of the court, the custody of them, except pending their examination in court as aforesaid.

2148. SEC. 6. That no payment shall be made to any person furnishing information in any case wherein judicial proceedings shall have been instituted, unless his claim to compensation shall have been established to the satisfaction of the court or judge having cognizance of such proceedings, and the value of his services duly certified by said court or judge for the information of the Secretary of the Treasury; but no certificate of the value of such services shall be conclusive of the amount thereof. And when any fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be collected without judicial proceedings, the Secretary of the Treasury shall, before directing payment to any person claiming such compensation, require satisfactory proof that such person is justly entitled thereto.

2149. SEC. 7. That except in cases of smuggling as aforesaid, it shall not be lawful for any officer of the United States, under any pretence whatever, directly or indirectly, to receive, accept, or contract for any portion of the money which may, under any of the provisions of this or any other act, accrue to any such person furnishing information; and any such officer who shall so receive, accept, or contract for any portion of the money that may accrue as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, and shall not be thereafter eligible to any office of honor, trust, or emolument. And any such person so furnishing information as aforesaid, who shall pay to any such officer of the United States, or to any person for his use, directly or indirectly, any portion of said money, or any other valuable thing, on account of or because of such money, shall have a right of action against such officer or other person, and his legal representatives, to recover back the same, or the value thereof.

2150. SEC. 8. That no officer, or other person entitled to or claiming compensation under any provision of this act, shall be thereby disqualified from becoming a witness in any action, suit, or proceeding for the recovery, mitigation, or remission thereof, but shall be subject to examination and cross-examination in like manner with other witnesses, without being thereby deprived of any right, title, share, or interest in any fine, penalty, or forfeiture to which such examination may relate; and in every such case the defendant or defendants may appear and testify and be examined and cross-examined in like manner.

as required by law, or of an affidavit made by the owner, importer, or consignee, before any officer authorized to administer oaths, showing why it is impracticable to produce such invoice.

2153. SEC. 11. That before such oath is taken, it shall be lawful for the collector or deputy administering the same to question the deponent touching the sources of his knowledge, information, or belief in the premises, and to require him to make oath to the same, and to produce any letter or paper, in his possession or under his control, which may assist the officers of the customs in ascertaining the dutiable value of the importation, or any part thereof; and in default of such production, when so requested, such owner, importer, consignee, and agent shall be thereafter debarred from producing any such letter or paper for the purpose of avoiding any penalty or forfeiture incurred under this act, unless he shall show to the satisfaction of the court that it was not in his power to produce the same when so demanded.

2154. SEC. 12. That any owner, importer, consignee, agent, or other person who shall, with intent to defraud the revenue, make, or attempt to make, any entry of imported merchandise, by means of any fraudulent or false invoice, affidavit, letter, or paper, or by means of any false statement, written or verbal, or who shall be guilty of any wilful act or omission by means whereof the United States shall be deprived of the lawful duties, or any portion thereof, accruing upon the merchandise, or any portion thereof, embraced or referred to in such invoice, affidavit, letter, paper, or statement, or affected by such act or omission, shall, for each offence, be fined in any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars nor less than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned for any time not exceeding two years, or both; and, in addition to such fine, such merchandise shall be forfeited; which forfeiture shall only apply to the whole of the merchandise in the case or package containing the particular article or articles of merchandise to which such fraud or alleged fraud relates; and anything contained in any act which provides for the forfeiture or confiscation of an entire invoice in consequence of any item or items contained in the same being undervalued, be, and the same is hereby, repealed.

2155. SEC. 13. That any merchandise entered by any person or persons violating any of the provisions of the preceding section, but not subject to forfeiture under the same section, may, while owned by him or them, or while in his or their possession, to double the amount claimed, be taken by the collector and held as security for the payment of any fine or fines incurred as aforesaid, or may be levied upon and sold on execution to satisfy any judgment recovered for such fine or fines. But nothing herein contained shall prevent any owner or claimant from obtaining a release of such merchandise on giving a bond, with sureties satisfactory to the collector, or, in case of judicial proceedings, satisfactory to the court, or the judge thereof, for the payment of any fine or fines so incurred: Provided, however, That such merchandise shall in no case be released until all accrued duties thereon shall have been paid or secured.

2156. SEC. 14. That wherever any statute requires that, to the cost or market-value of any goods, wares, and merchandise imported into the United States, there shall be added to the invoice thereof, or, upon the entry of such goods, wares, and merchandise, charges for inland-transportation, commissions, port-duties, expenses of shipping, export-duties, cost of packages, boxes, or other articles containing such goods, wares, and merchandise, or any other incidental expenses attending the packing, shipping, or exportation thereof from the country or place where purchased or manufactured, the omission, without intent thereby to defraud the revenue, to add and state the same on such invoice or entry shall not be cause of a forfeiture of such goods, wares, and merchandise, or of the value thereof; but in all cases where the same, or any part thereof, are omitted, it shall be the duty of the collector or appraiser to add the same, for the purposes of duty, to such invoice or entry, either in items or in gross, at such price or amount as he shall deem just and reasonable, (which price or amount shall, in the absence of protest, be conclusive,) and to impose and add thereto the further sum of one hundred per centum of the price or amount so added; which addition shall constitute a part of the dutiable value of such goods, wares, and merchandise, and shall be collectible as provided by law in respect to duties on imports.

2157. SEC. 15. That it shall be the duty of any officer or person employed in the customs-revenue service of the United States, upon detection of any violation of the customs-laws, forthwith to make complaint thereof to the collector of the district, whose duty it shall be promptly to report the same to the district attorney of the district in which such frauds shall be committed. Immediately upon the receipt of such complaint, if, in his judgment, it can be sustained, it shall be the duty of such district attorney to cause investigation into the facts to be made before a United States commissioner having jurisdiction thereof, and to initiate proper proceedings to recover the fines and penalties in the premises, and to prosecute the same with the utmost diligence to final judgment.

2158. SEC. 16. That in all actions, suits, and proceedings in any court of the United States now pending or hereafter commenced or prosecuted to enforce or declare the forfeiture of any goods, wares, or merchandise, or to recover the value thereof, or any other sum alleged to be forfeited by reason of any violation of the provisions of the customs revenue laws, or any of such provisions, in which action, suit, or proceeding an issue or issues of fact shall have been joined, it shall be the duty of the court, on the trial thereof, to submit to the jury, as a distinct and separate proposition, whether the alleged acts were done with an actual intention to defraud the United States, and to require upon such proposition a special finding by such jury; or, if such issues be tried by the court without a jury, it shall be the duty of the court to pass upon and decide such proposition as a distinct and separate finding of fact; and in such cases, unless intent to defraud shall be so found, no fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be imposed.

2159. SEC. 17. That whenever, for an alleged violation of the customs-revenue laws, any person who shall be charged with having incurred any fine, penalty, forfeiture, or disability other than imprisonment, or shall be interested in any vessel or merchandise seized or subject to seizure, when the appraised value of such vessel or merchandise is not less than one thousand dollars, shall present his petition to the judge of the district in which the alleged violation occurred, or in which the property is situated, setting forth, truly and particularly, the facts and circumstances of the case, and praying for relief, such judge shall, if the case, in his judgment, requires, proceed to inquire, in a summary manner, into the circumstances of the case, at such reasonable time as may be fixed by him for that purpose, of which the district attorney and the collector shall be notified by the petitioner, in order that they may attend and show cause why the petition should be refused.

2160. SEC. 18. That the summary investigation hereby provided for may be held before the judge to whom the petition is presented, or, if he shall so direct, before any United States commissioner for such district, and the facts appearing thereon shall be stated and annexed to the petition, and, together with a certified copy of the evidence, transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereupon have power to mitigate or remit such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, or remove such disability, or any part thereof, if, in his opinion, the same shall have been incurred without wilful negligence or any intention of fraud in the person or persons incurring the same, and to direct the prosecution, if any shall have been instituted for the recovery thereof, to cease and be discontinued upon such terms or conditions as he may deem reasonable and just.

2161. SEC. 19. That it shall not be lawful for any officer or officers of the United States to compromise or abate any claim of the United States arising under the customs-laws, for any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred by a violation thereof; and any officer or person who shall so compromise or abate any such claim, or attempt to make such compromise or abatement, or in any manner relieve or attempt to relieve from such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, on conviction thereof, shall suffer imprisonment not exceeding ten years and be fined not exceeding ten thousand dollars: Provided, however, That the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power to remit any fines, penalties, or forfeitures, or to compromise the same, in accordance with existing law.

2162. SEC. 20. That whenever any application shall be made to the Secretary of the Treasury for the mitigation or remission of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture, or the refund of any duties, in case the amount involved is not less than one thousand dollars, the applicant shall notify the district attorney and the collector of customs of the district in which the duties, fine, penalty, or forfeiture accrued; and it shall be the duty of such collector and district attorney to furnish to the Secretary of the Treasury all practicable information necessary to enable him to protect the interests of the United States.

2163. SEC. 21. That whenever any goods, wares, and merchandise shall have been entered and passed free of duty, and whenever duties upon any imported goods, wares, and merchandise shall have been liquidated and paid, and such goods, wares, and merchandise shall have been delivered to the owner, importer, agent, or consignee, such entry and passage free of duty and such settlement of duties shall, after the expiration of one year from the time of entry, in the absence of fraud and in the absence of protest by the owner, importer, agent, or consignee, be final and conclusive upon all parties.

2164. SEC. 22. That no suit or action to recover any pecuniary penalty or forfeiture of property accruing under the customs-revenue laws of the United States shall be instituted unless such suit or action shall be commenced within three years after the time when such penalty or forfeiture shall have accrued: Provided, That the time of the absence from the United States of the person subject to such penalty or forfeiture, or of any concealment or absence of the property, shall not be reckoned within this period of limitation.

2165. SEC. 23. That in lieu of the salaries, moieties, and perquisites of whatever name or nature, and commissions on disbursements, now paid to and received by the collectors, naval officers, and surveyors, connected with the customs-service in the several collection-districts of the United States hereinafter named, there shall be paid, from and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, an annual salary, as follows: To the collector of the district of New York, twelve thousand dollars. To the collectors of the districts of Boston and Charlestown, Massachusetts; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, each eight thousand dollars. To the collectors of the district of San Francisco, California; Baltimore, Maryland; and New Orleans, Louisiana, each seven thousand dollars. To the collector of the district of Portland and Falmouth, Maine, six thousand dollars. To the naval officer for the district of New York, eight thousand dollars. To the naval officers of the districts of Boston and Charlestown, Massachusetts; and San Francisco, California; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, each five thousand dollars. To the surveyor of the port of New York, eight thousand dollars. To the surveyors of the ports of Boston, Massachusetts; and San Francisco, California; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, each five thousand dollars.

2166. SEC. 24. That the Secretary of the Treasury shall, from time to time, make such regulations as he may deem necessary for the conduct and management of the bonded warehouses, general order stores, and other depositories of the imported merchandise throughout the United States; all regulations or orders issued by collectors of customs in regard thereto shall be subject to revision, alteration, or revocation by him; and no warehouse shall be bonded and no general order store established without his authority and approval. [No. 52.] Joint Resolution for the Relief of certain Persons in respect of Duties demanded of them upon the import of certain Articles named therein.

2312. WHEREAS, By a circular of the Secretary of the Treasury, issued in eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, after a decision of a case between the United States and an importer in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, all the articles named in the following resolution were directed to be imported on payment of a duty of thirty-five per cent. ad valorem; and

WHEREAS, The Secretary of the Treasury, by letter of March twelfth, eighteen hundred and eighty, to the House of Representatives, has communicated his purpose to revoke said circular, and subject said articles to the specific duty imposed by existing law on all band, hoop, and scroll iron; and

WHEREAS, It is represented, that confiding in the said circular of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, parties have contracted for such articles to be imported under the duty of thirty-five per centum ad valorem, and it is right and proper to relieve them from the effect of the change of orders by the Secretary of the Treasury upon his construction of the existing law, but without intending to alter existing law, or to interpret by legislative act the effect thereof, leaving that to the judicial tribunals, except as to the special cases herein provided for; therefore,

MARCH 3, 1881.

(U. S. STATUTES AT LARGE, VOL. XXI., p. 502.)

CHAP. 138.—An act to authorize the registration of trade-marks and protect the same.

2315. That owners of trade-marks used in commerce with foreign nations, or with the Indian tribes, provided such owners shall be domiciled in the United States, or located in any foreign country or tribes which by treaty, convention or law, affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States, may obtain registration of such trade-marks by complying with the following requirements:

First. By causing to be recorded in the Patent Office a statement specifying name, domicile, location, and citizenship of the party applying; the class of merchandise and the particular description of goods comprised in such class to which the particular trade-mark has been appropriated; a description of the trade-mark itself, with fac-similes thereof, and a statement of the mode in which the same is applied and affixed to goods, and the length of time during which the trade-mark has been used.

Second. By paying into the Treasury of the United States the sum of twenty-five dollars, and complying with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Patents.

2316. SEC. 2. That the application prescribed in the foregoing section must, in order to create any right whatever in favor of the party filing it, be accompanied by a written declaration verified by the person, or by a member of a firm, or by an officer of a corporation applying, to the effect that such party has at the time a right to the use of the trade mark sought to be registered, and that no other person, firm, or corporation has the right to such use, either in the identical form or in any such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive; that such trade-mark is used in commerce with foreign nations or Indian tribes, as above indicated; and that the description and fac-similes presented for registry truly represent the trade-mark sought to be registered.

SEC. 3. That the time of the receipt of any such application shall be noted and recorded. But no alleged trade mark shall be registered unless the same appear to be lawfully used as such by the applicant in foreign commerce or commerce with Indian tribes, as above mentioned, or is within the provision of a treaty, convention, or declaration with a foreign power; nor which is merely the name of the applicant; nor which is identical with a registered or known trade-mark owned by another and appropriate to the same class of merchandise, or which so nearly resembles some other person's lawful trade-mark as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the mind of the public, or to deceive purchasers. In an application for registration the Commissioner of Patents shall decide the presumptive lawfulness of claim to the alleged trade-mark; and in any dispute between an applicant and a previous registrant, or between applicants, he shall follow, so far as the same may be applicable, the practice of courts of equity of the United States in analogous cases.

2317. SEC. 4. That certificates of registry of trade-marks shall be issued in the name of the United States of America, under the seal of the Department of the Interior, and shall be signed by the Commissioner of Patents, and a record thereof, together with printed copies of the specifications, shall be kept in books for that purpose. Copies of trade-marks and of statements and declarations filed therewith and certificates of registry so signed and sealed shall be evidence in any suit in which such trade-marks shall be brought in controversy.

2318. SEC. 5. That a certificate of registry shall remain in force for thirty years from its date; except in cases where the trade-mark is claimed for and applied to articles not manufactured in this country, and in which it receives protection under the laws of a foreign country for a shorter period, in which case it shall cease to have any force in this country by virtue of this act at the time that such trade-mark ceases to be exclusive property elsewhere. At any time during the six months prior to the expiration of the term of thirty years such registration may be renewed on the same terms, and for a like period.

2319. SEC. 6. That applicants for registration under this act shall be credited for any fee, or part of a fee, heretofore paid into the Treasury of the United States with intent to procure protection for the same trade-mark.

2320. SEC. 7. That registration of a trade mark shall be prima facie evidence of ownership. Any person who shall reproduce, counterfeit, copy or colorably imitate any trade-mark registered under this act and affix the same to merchandise of substantially the same descriptive properties as those described in the registration, shall be liable to an action on the case for damages for the wrongful use of said trade-mark, at the suit of the owner thereof; and the party aggrieved shall also have his remedy according to the course of equity to enjoin the wrongful use of such trade-mark used in foreign commerce or commerce with Indian tribes, as aforesaid, and to recover compensation therefor in any court having jurisdiction over the person guilty of such wrongful acts; and courts of the United States shall have original and appellate jurisdiction in such cases without regard to the amount in controversy.

2321. SEC. 8. That no action or suit shall be maintained under the provisions of this act in any case when the trade-mark is used in any unlawful business, or upon any article injurious in itself, or which mark has been used with the design of deceiving the public in the purchase of merchandise, or under any certificate of registry fraudulently obtained.

2322. SEC. 9. That any person who shall procure the registry of a trade-mark, or of himself as the owner of a trade-mark or an entry respecting a trade-mark, in the office of the Commissioner of Patents, by a false or fraudulent representation or declaration, orally or in writing, or by any fraudulent means, shall be liable to pay any damages sustained in consequence thereof to the injured party, to be recovered in an action on the case.

2323. SEC. 10. That nothing in this act shall prevent, lessen, impeach, or avoid any remedy at law or in equity which any party aggrieved by any wrongful use of any trade-mark might have had if the provisions of this act had not been passed.

2324. SEC. 11. That nothing in this act shall be construed as unfavorably affecting a claim to a trade-mark after the term of registration shall have expired; nor to give cognizance to any court of the United States in an action or suit between citizens of the same State, unless the trade-mark in controversy is used on goods intended to be transported to a foreign country, or in lawful commercial intercourse with an Indian tribe.

2325. SEC. 12. That the Commissioner of Patents is authorized to make rules and regulations and prescribe forms for the transfer of the right to use trade-marks and for recording such transfers in his office.

2326. SEC. 13. That citizens and residents of this country wishing the protection of trade-marks in any foreign country, the laws of which require registration here as a condition precedent to getting such protection there, may register their trade-marks for that purpose as is above allowed to foreigners, and have certificate thereof from the Patent Office.

MARCH 3, 1883.

(U. S. STATUTES AT LARGE, VOL. XXII., p. 488.)

CHAP. 121.—An Act to reduce Internal Revenue Taxation, and for other purposes.

SEC. 6. That on and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty-three, the following sections shall constitute and be a substitute for Title thirty-three of the Revised Statutes of the United States :

TITLE XXXIII.

DUTIES UPON IMPORTS.

* SEC. 2502. There shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all articles imported from foreign countries, and mentioned in the schedules herein contained, the rates of duty which are, by the schedules, respectively prescribed, namely :

SCHEDULE A—CHEMICAL PRODUCTS.

* For convenient reference, the editor, at the suggestion of the Treasury Department, has conformed his numeration of the paragraphs in this act to that of the tariff pamphlet recently published by the Department. But as there are some ten or twelve pertinent sections in this act, which precede, and are not included in the numeration of the pamphlet, he found that in order to avoid the alternative of double numerations or the introduction of other designations or marks of distinction, and consequent confusion in the references of his general schedule, as well as to preserve intact the long-tried plan of his book now familiar to the whole customs service, it would be necessary to transpose these sections, and to group them as appropriately as possible with their related sections following the "Free List," giving, of course, in addition to the consecutive numbers of the paragraphs, the proper statutory number of each section.

The numbers at the end, or in the body of paragraphs, refer to paragraphs in Part I., unless otherwise indicated by the addition of the word "post," or letter "p."

* Iron kentledge, purchased in the United States and used exclusively as ballast, if landed in the United States, will, if of foreign production or manufacture, be liable to duty; and if of American production or manufacture, be entitled to free entry under 145. (Tr. Reg., p. 554.)

† Department's letter of March 19, 1869, held that where "the officers of the customs are satisfied that pieces of new iron, whether more or less than six inches in length, are fit to be made into spikes or bolts, that is, could appropriately and with reasonable expectation of profit on the part of the manufacturer be put to such use, . . . then they should not classify them as scrap iron. It was not intended, however, to limit the application of this principle to pieces of new iron fit only to be made into spikes or bolts, but it must be held to embrace all pieces of new iron, when in the condition in which imported they are fit to be manufactured directly into wire, or any other article, and such new iron should not be classified as scrap iron.

"It sometimes happens that importations of so-called scrap iron are mixed with pieces of bar iron, six inches or more in length, and it is practically impossible to separate them, so as to determine what amount should pay duty as scrap and what as bar iron. Where an importation of this character contains any considerable quantity of clippings or pieces of new bar iron, which cannot, under Department's decisions of February 25, and March 19, 1869, be properly classified as scrap iron, then the whole box or lot, or, if it be necessary, the whole importation, in which such pieces are found, should be classified as bar iron." (Feb. 1, 1870, N. Y. Syn. Ser., 568.)

"On application to import, free of duty, old railroad iron from Canada, to be rerolled in the United States, and returned to Canada, it was decided by the Department that such free importation could not be legally allowed; but that the iron under such circumstances would be chargeable with duty as 'old iron in scrap.' Nor could the iron in question be entered, rerolled, and exported in bond to be cancelled on proof of delivery in Canada." (Tr. Reg., p. 577.)

‡ This embraces so-called "sheet-iron," fit for some of the uses to which plate-iron is applied, to wit: among others, of tank and shutter plates. (Feb. 11, 1867, Boston.)

§ Dunnage mats, used as dunnage to protect sheet-iron from damage during the voyage of importation, if charged in invoice or of merchantable value, are subject to duty. (March 31, 1863, Boston.) Iron bands on sheet-iron, being of trifling value, and absolutely necessary to insure safe transportation of the sheets, are not deemed to be an item of expense to the importer, and not liable to duty, and should be considered free. (Jan. 4, 1865, N. Y.)

|| Sheet-iron of slightly polished appearance, from being rolled in single sheets, to toughen it for the manufacture of spoons, etc., to be covered with tin, should be classified as "sheet-iron, common or black," and pay duty according to its gauge. (March 23, 1872. N. Y., Syn. Ser., 1072.)

* Haytian peppers imported in salt and water, not to be used in that form as a "pickle," but for the preparation of pepper sauce, are not embraced in this classification. (October 30, 1857, N. Y.) So also, walnuts imported in salt and water. (September 30, 1858, Boston.)

† "Powdered acorns," held by the experts to be the article enumerated in 1183 (now 290), but asserted by the importers to be intended or designed for medicinal purposes, were adjudged to be subject to a duty of three cents per pound under said clause. (November 17, 1863, Baltimore.)

‡ Boxes and bags containing oranges, lemons and macaroni, become merchandise when they enter into the value and are sold with the articles they contain; and their cost is properly included in the dutiable value of the contents. (January 30, 1866, Baltimore.)

§ Fruits put with water in bottles, and the atmosphere expelled by the application of heat, are classified as fruit preserved in their own juice. (March 8, 1860, N. O.)

305. Nuts, of all kinds, shelled or unshelled, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, two cents per pound. (1343.)

306. Mustard, ground or preserved, in bottles or otherwise, ten cents per pound. (1341.)

SCHEDULE H.—LIQUORS.

307. { a. Champagne, and all other sparkling wines, (981.) in bottles* containing each not more than one quart and more than one pint, seven dollars per dozen bottles;
b. Containing not more than one pint each and more than one-half pint, three dollars and fifty cents per dozen bottles;
c. Containing one-half pint each, or less, one dollar and seventy-five cents per dozen bottles;
d. In bottles containing more than one quart each, in addition to seven dollars per dozen bottles, at the rate of two dollars and twenty-five cents per gallon on the quantity in excess of one quart bottle. (981.)
308. { a. Still wines, in casks, fifty cents per gallon; (2173.)
b. In bottles, (2174.) one dollar and sixty cents per case of one dozen bottles containing each not more than one quart and more than one pint, or twenty-four bottles containing each not more than one pint;
c. And any excess beyond these quantities found in such bottles shall be subject to a duty of five cents per pint or fractional part thereof;
d. But no separate or additional duty shall be collected on the bottles: (2174.)
e. Provided, That any wines imported containing more than twenty-four per centum of alcohol shall be forfeited to the United States; (2174.)
f. Provided further, That there shall be no allowance for breakage, leakage, or damage on wines, liquors, cordials, or distilled spirits. (2174.)
309. Vermuth, the same duty as on still wines. (987.)
310. Wines, brandy, and other spirituous liquors imported in bottles, shall be packed in packages containing not less than one dozen bottles in each package; and all such bottles, except as specially enumerated or provided for in this act, shall pay an additional duty of three cents for each bottle. (981.)
311. { a. Brandy, and other spirits manufactured or distilled from grain or other materials and not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, two dollars per proof gallon; (982.)

* Wines not in bottles could, under the act of July 28, 1866 (508, Vol. I.), be imported in packages of any capacity whatever. (September 4, 1866, D. & Sons; also, January 21, 1867, P. H.'s Nephews.)

The importation of wines together with assorted spirituous liquors, or of an assortment of spirituous liquors in a case or package, is not prohibited by section 21, of the act of July 14, 1870, provided the package contain not less than one dozen bottles of liquor. (Feb. 15, 1871, Port Huron.)

In a letter to the collector at Baltimore, dated February 24, 1871, the Department authorized the adoption of the "practice of stating in entries of distilled spirits the actual number of wine gallons, with the duty assessed thereon, according to the number of degrees proof, at four cents a degree of each gallon, instead of stating the number of proof gallons at two dollars per gallon."

But see circular of May 15, 1871, in which the Department directs that in future entries the notation of the proof of spirituous liquors shall conform to the scale of Tagliabue's hydrometer, as corrected and explained in his manual, placing proof spirits at one hundred degrees, instead of at fifty degrees according to Tralle. Under this rule the duty would of course be two cents a degree instead of four cents. (See also Oct. 23, 1871 Balt. Syn. Ser., 941.)

The following instructions, in reference to the branding or marking of imported distilled spirits in casks, are hereby issued for the future guidance of officers of the customs, and will be held by them to supersede all former regulations on the same subject, so far as they conflict therewith:

1st. Upon the landing of distilled spirits in casks upon the wharf, and the due examination thereof by the gauger, each cask shall be marked by him, or under his supervision, so as to show the name of the port, date of importation, rate of proof, and number of gallons contained therein.

2d. A record of these facts shall be made by the gauger who marks the casks, in a book to be furnished him by the surveyor, or other supervising officer, for that purpose. The records to be made at the time of marking, and the books, when full, to be placed on file at the custom-house, for reference whenever necessary. (Circular, April 30, 1872. Syn. Ser., 1112.)

- b. Each and every gauge or wine gallon of measurement shall be counted as at least one proof gallon ;
311. c. And the standard for determining the proof of brandy and other spirits or liquors of any kind imported shall be the same as that which is defined in the laws relating to internal revenue ; (982.)
- d. But any brandy or other spirituous liquors imported in casks of less capacity than fourteen gallons shall be forfeited to the United States. (982.)
312. On all compounds or preparations,* of which distilled spirits are a component part of chief value, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, there shall be levied a duty not less than that imposed upon distilled spirits. (983.)
313. Cordials,† liquors, arrack, absinthe, kirschwasser, ratafia, and other similar spirituous beverages or bitters, containing spirits, and not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, two dollars per proof gallon. (984.)
- a. No lower rate or amount of duty shall be levied, collected, and paid on brandy, spirits, and other spirituous beverages than that fixed by law for the description of first proof; but it shall be increased in proportion for any greater strength than the strength of first proof ; (985.)
314. b. And all imitations of brandy or spirits or wines imported by any names whatever shall be subject to the highest rate of duty provided for the genuine articles respectively intended to be represented, and in no case less than one dollar per gallon. (985.)
315. Bay-rum, or bay-water, whether distilled or compounded, one dollar per gallon of first proof, and in proportion for any greater strength than first proof. (1200.)
316. Ale, porter, and beer, in bottles or jugs of glass, stone, or earthen ware, thirty-five cents per gallon ;‡ otherwise than in bottles or jugs of glass, stone, or earthen ware, twenty cents per gallon. (986.)
317. Ginger ale or ginger-beer, twenty per centum ad valorem, but no separate or additional duty shall be collected on bottles or jugs containing the same. (1816.)

* Of a "compound or preparation containing of alcohol 90 per centum, and 10 per centum of castor oil and of alkanet root," the Department, prior to the passage of the above act, held that "it is an unenumerated article, and by virtue of the 20th section of the Act of August, 1842, it must pay duty according to the highest rate to which any of its component parts are liable;" and affirmed "the decision of the collector in assessing duty on the said article at the rate of two and a half dollars per gallon for fifty degrees, and five cents for each additional degree, being the rates to which alcohol was liable." (June 18, 1866. A. C. B.)

A "medical tincture" so called, which was found to be an alcoholic compound, of which alcohol formed the principal ingredient, was held to have been properly assessed at the rate of two and a half dollars per gallon of fifty degrees proof, and five cents for each degree above fifty. (February 2, 1867. S. & L.)

† Cordials, if they are compounds or preparations of which distilled spirits are a component part of chief value, will be liable to forfeiture if imported in casks or packages of less capacity than 30 gallons. (September 1, 1866. A. W.)

See Department Letter of January 4, 1865, to collector at San Francisco, as to the inclusion of the cost of boxes, bottles, etc., in ascertaining the dutiable value of wines, and see notes to 516, Vol. I. See also letter of July 26, 1866, to W. E. B. & Co., by which the assessment of the separate duty of two cents per bottle in addition, under the act of June 30, 1864, was affirmed.

In an appeal as to the duty on claret wine, imported from Bordeaux, in bottles, and in the dutiable value of which the cost of bottles, corks, labels, caps, straw, and cases was included, the Department held that these constituted an integral part of the market value, and that the duty was properly assessed. (March 15, 1866. Phil.)

Under the Act of 1864, it was held that "the duty on 'champagne or sparkling wines in bottles,' is not exclusively specific; the same schedule which governs all other wines as provided for in section 2, governs 'champagne or sparkling wines in bottles;' but a provision of the law directs that said wines shall not pay a less rate of duty than six dollars per dozen bottles, etc. Unquestionably, if the value justifies it, they must pay more." (Dec. 13, 1874. W. & C. Attys.)

The importation of wines together with assorted spirituous liquors or of an assortment of spirituous liquors in a case or package, is not prohibited by section 21, of the Act of July 14, 1870, provided the packages contain not less than one dozen bottles of liquor. (Feb. 15, 1871. Post Huxon.)

Wines not in bottles may be imported in packages of any capacity whatever. (September 4, 1866, D. & Son; also January 21, 1867, P. H.'s Nephews.)

See Instructions of Department to collector at Wilmington, N. C., in regard to estimation, by gallons, of quantity contained in a dozen bottles. (Jan. 19, 1867. See also Jan. 18, 1869, Syn. Series, 336.)

For rules as to duty on sour ale or beer, see May 3, 1869, Cape Vincent (Syn. Series, 1869, p. 21), where it was held that sour ale or beer is to be classified as ale or beer (however inferior), so long as it retains its identity and has not become what is commonly known and used as vinegar. If it becomes sour on the voyage of importation, its classification is not changed. (Ibid.)

* Cotton velvet elaborately embroidered and cut in slips or patterns of the size and shape of slippers was held to be embraced in the embroidery clause under the act of 1857. (August 24, 1857, New York.)

† It has been the practice to classify under these sections (of the acts of 1861 and 1862), (commonly known as the embroidery clauses) such goods as are commercially known as 'embroideries,' and not manufactures of any material to which embroidery may be added." (April 20, 1865, New York.)

The term "embroidered or tamboured," as used in those sections, can only be properly and safely applied to those fabrics figured or ornamented by the employment of the needle, whether directed by the hand, or by machinery in the loom or frame; and consequently manufactures figured in the loom or machine which weaves the fabric, as the texture is formed, without the employment of the needle either by hand or by mechanical agency, are not, therefore, to be considered as comprehended in this classification and liable to duty as "embroidered or tamboured." (See Tr. Reg., p. 565.)

‡ In the case of an importation of four hundred and seventy-eight tin boxes containing spool cotton, it was found that the spool cotton had been purchased by the dozen spools and not by the box, and afterwards put into the boxes by the purchaser at his own expense to prevent damage on the voyage. Held, "that the boxes do not enter into the market value or form part of the wholesale price of the spool cotton at the period of exportation." (March 29, 1866, New York.)

§ "Yarn is a single thread, more or less twisted, and used for warp or weft in manufacture, when, by the packing of the loom, it is held together without much twisting, and answers, too, a better purpose than twine."

"Twine is a double and retwisted thread. Sometimes the manufacturer will designate a poor and slightly

337. Flax or linen laces and insertings, (962.) embroideries, or manufactures of linen, if embroidered or tamboured in the loom or otherwise, by machinery or with the needle or other process, and not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, (1264.) thirty per centum ad valorem.

338. Burlaps, not exceeding sixty inches in width, of flax, jute, or hemp, or of which flax, jute, or hemp, or either of them, shall be the component material of chief value (except such as may be suitable for bagging for cotton), thirty per centum ad valorem. (963.)

339. Oil-cloth foundations, or floor-cloth canvas, or burlaps exceeding sixty inches in width, made of flax, jute, or hemp, or of which flax, jute, or hemp, or either of them, shall be the component material of chief value, forty per centum ad valorem. (963-4.)

342. Bags and bagging, and like manufactures, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act (except bagging for cotton), composed wholly or in part of flax, hemp, jute, gunny cloth, gunny bags, or other material, forty per centum ad valorem. (966.)

Bagging for cotton,† or other manufactures not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, suitable to the uses for which cotton bagging is applied, composed in whole or in part of hemp, jute, jute butts, flax, gunny bags, gunny cloth, or other material, and valued at seven cents or less per square yard, one and one-half cents per pound; valued at over seven cents per square yard, two cents per pound. (967.)

344. Tarred cables or cordage,‡ three cents per pound. (968.)

345. Untarred manila cordage,‡ two and one half cents per pound. (969.)

346. All other untarred cordage,‡ three and one-half cents per pound. (970.)

twisted twine as yarn, because not fit for the purposes for which twine is used, and only fit for the purposes for which yarn is used, this, however, does not make it 'yarn.'" (November 28, 1863, N. Y.)

* Gunny bags into which bags of rice were placed for greater security, and on landing were removed and sold without reference to the rice, possessed an independent value, and were held to be liable to duty under this clause. (May 30, 1865. W. P. C. & Co.) As to tare on gunny cloth, see letter of March 30, 1866. N. Y.

† "Cotton bagging" is commercially known, and understood to apply exclusively to articles used and suitable for the baling of cotton, without reference to material; and this the phraseology of the law clearly indicates." (May 20, 1863. N. Y.)

"A duty on 'cotton bagging' can be levied only on articles known as such in commerce when the act imposing the duty was passed." (Curtis v. Martin, 3 How., 109; Bacon v. Bancroft, 1 Story, 341.)

‡ The term "cordage," as used in the tariff, being considered only applicable to ropes used in the rigging of vessels, "common bale rope for baling cotton," not used for that purpose, nor commonly known as "cordage," is entitled to entry as a manufacture of hemp. (Tr. Reg., p. 563.)

§ An importation claimed to be a seine, but destitute of the usual weights, sinkers, and ropes, necessary to constitute a complete "seine" within the meaning of the law imposing duties on "seines," was adjudged to be liable to duty as a flax twine at 40 per cent. (June 2, 1866, G. C.)

|| The usual width of sail duck is 24 inches. A manufacture of flax 33 inches wide is not the article recognized as sail duck, nor the article intended for vessels' sails; being much too wide for strength; but subject to duty as a manufacture of flax, etc. (Jan. 23, 1864. N. Y.)

SCHEDULE K.—WOOL AND WOOLLENS.

352. All wools, hair of the alpaca, goat, and other like animals, shall be divided, for the purpose of fixing the duties to be charged thereon, into the three following classes: (1149.)*

353. CLASS ONE, CLOTHING WOOLS.—That is to say, merino, mestiza, metz, or metis wools, or other wools of merino blood, immediate or remote, down clothing wools, and wools of like character with any of the preceding, including such as have been heretofore usually imported into the United States from Buenos Ayres, New Zealand, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Russia, Great Britain, Canada, and elsewhere, and also including all wools not hereinafter described or designated in classes two and three. (1150.)

354. CLASS TWO, COMBING WOOLS.—That is to say, Leicester, Cotswold, Lincolnshire, Down combing wools, Canada long wools, or other like combing wools of English blood, and usually known by the terms herein used, and also all hair of the alpaca, goat, and other like animals. (1151.)

355. CLASS THREE, CARPET WOOLS AND OTHER SIMILAR WOOLS.—Such as Donskoi, native South American, Cordova, Valparaiso, native Smyrna, and including all such wools of like character as have been heretofore usually imported into the United States from Turkey, Greece, Egypt, Syria, and elsewhere. (1152.)

| | | b. The duty upon wool of the sheep, or hair of the alpaca, goat, and other like animals, which shall be imported in any other than ordinary condition, as now and heretofore practiced, or which shall be changed in its character or condition for the purpose of evading the duty, or which shall be reduced in value by the admixture of dirt or any other foreign substance, shall be twice the duty to which it would be otherwise subject. (1153.) |
| 357. | { | a. Wools of the first class , the value whereof at the last port or place whence exported to the United States, excluding charges in such port, shall be thirty cents or less per pound, ten cents per pound; (1154.) |
| | | b. Wools of the same class , the value whereof at the last port or place whence exported to the United States, excluding charges in such port, shall exceed thirty cents per pound, twelve cents per pound. (1154.) |

| | | b. Wools of the same class , the value whereof, at the last port or place whence exported to the United States, excluding charges in such port, shall exceed twelve cents per pound, five cents per pound. (1158.) |

* Classification by race and blood the rule. (Feb. 26, 1869. N. Y. Syn. Ser., 361.)

† The percentage of allowance for increase of weight of wool should be ascertained by the appraisers and reported to collect or in the same manner as estimates of damage. (May, 1871. N. Y.)

360. Wools on the skin,* the same rates as other wools, the quantity and value to be ascertained under such rules as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. (1159.)

361. Woollen rags,† shoddy, mungo, waste, and flocks,‡ ten cents per pound. (1161.)

362. Woollen cloths, woollen shawls, and all manufactures of wool of every description, made wholly or in part of wool, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, valued at not exceeding eighty cents per pound, thirty-five cents per pound and. thirty-five per centum ad valorem; valued at above eighty cents per pound, thirty-five cents per pound, and in addition thereto forty per centum ad valorem.§ (1162.)

364. Bunting, ten cents per square yard, and in addition thereto, thirty-five per centum ad valorem. (1165.)

* This clause subjects the wool to duty according to class and value as a distinct article. The proper way to ascertain the allowance to be made for the pelts is by pulling (not shearing) the wool from the skins, for the purpose of estimating the correct weight of the same. † Section 2910 of the Revised Statutes provides as follows:

"When merchandise of the same material or description, but of different values, is invoiced at an average price and not otherwise provided for, the duty shall be assessed upon the whole invoice at the rate to which the highest-valued goods in such invoice are subject."

This section of law does not authorize an advance in value, but only regulates the rate of duty to be assessed, and directs that the duty in such cases shall be assessed upon the whole invoice at the rate to which the highest-valued goods in such invoice are subject.

The appraiser should therefore have made the proper appraisement under the law, and the duty should be assessed at the rate to which the highest-valued goods so appraised are subject. (S. S., 3683.)

† The special provision under the former laws for "iron cables or cable-chains," (Pt. I, 1017,) enacted "that no chains made of wire or rods of a diameter less than one-half of an inch shall be considered a chain cable."

‡ See definition of "burlaps," (S. S. 3481.) Under the former laws the provision for burlaps, (Pt. I, 963,) embraced the words "and like manufactures of flax, jute or hemp," etc., which covered some goods called "padding." But these words do not appear in the new law, and therefore the provisions for "padding" in 334 seems now to include all goods commercially known by that name.

* The editor, in a note on page 22 of his "Pocket Tariff" remarked that "as the paragraph (366.) in 'Schedule K,' for clothing ready-made, etc., is the only specific provision for ready-made clothing in the new tariff act, it would seem to cover clothing of all kinds (not knit), and of whatever material." Literally or strictly construed, this, he still thinks, is clearly the only conclusion the language admits of. But it cannot have been the intention of Congress to introduce and apply the pound rates of duty to clothing of cotton, linen, silk, and other like materials, upon no other mfs. of which such a rate is, either in the old or the new act, applied, but must have been intended (although I do not think the phraseology expresses it) to embrace "clothing and wearing apparel," in the limiting words, "composed wholly or in part of wool," etc. I have, on mature consideration, classified clothing of other materials, accordingly, as mfs. of such materials, respectively, not otherwise provided for.

† A drawback of 75 cts per ton is allowed on all imported bituminous coal used for fuel on steam-vessels engaged in coasting or foreign trade, the latter applicable to foreign as well as American vessels. (April 2, 1883. Baltimore.)

* Upon investigation it is found that the weight of cotton-thread varies from one to one and a half per ct., according to the condition of the atmosphere, and that no uniform invoice weight can be given of such thread shipped from Europe to this country.

To ascertain the true weight on which duties should be levied in case of importation from Europe of such thread, or of cotton yarn, you will, when an importation is found to exceed in weight the amount noted in the invoice, allow not exceeding one per ct. for increase in weight caused by absorption of moisture on the voyage, provided there is no reason to suspect fraud or error in the invoice, (S. S., 2590.)

* If these instruments were made wholly of undutiable materials they would probably be entitled to entry free under 825, as similitudes of glaziers' diamonds. By decisions of the Department (S. S., 2865, 3556, and 5521,) they were classified as "precious stones set," under the provisions of former laws, (see Pt. I., 1396.) But the new tariff act contains no similar provision; and that for "jewelry of all kinds," (459,) does not seem to me to be applicable to articles of this kind, as they are certainly not jewelry; nor are they classifiable as non-enumerated manufactures, for they are composed in part of metal or wood, (both dutiable), and are provided for in 216 as "manufactures, articles, or wares + + + composed wholly or in part iron, steel, . . . or any other metal."—EDITOR.

† Department decision of Jan. 8, 1883, (S. * There may be some doubt whether paragraph 630 limits downs alike with feathers by the word "bed-." The practice under the former law, of precisely the same language, has, I believe, been to the contrary.—EDITOR.

† I do not feel quite certain that this provision, in the connection in which it now stands in the law, covers any other than so-called "all wool" goods. But as it embraced mixed goods in the former law, Congress probably did not intend to change its effect in the new.—EDITOR.

S., 5549.) But as the new law specifically includes earthen-ware "statuettes" painted or ornamented in any manner in the provision for ornamented earthen-ware, the question arises whether like productions, not painted or ornamented, are not now dutiable as earthen-ware under paragraph 127.

‡ This includes chemical earthen-ware. (S. S., 2377.) and glazed earthen-ware beer mugs, with pewter tops or covers, (S. S., 2904.) Also plaster figures composed simply of "plaster of Paris," (S. S., 2544.)

‡ Under the late tariff laws these preparations were decided not to be "proprietary medicines;" but as the provisions of the new law (paragraph 99.) seem to be much more comprehensive, embracing "all preparations or compositions recommended to the public as proprietary articles, (medicinal and other)," the editor is of the opinion that they should now be classified under that paragraph. The same remark is applicable to the new provision for "all chemical compounds and salts, by whatever name known," (paragraph 92.) and seems to include all the above effervescent, which are not proprietary.—EDITOR.

* The question decided in Wilkins v. Arthur, and acquiesced in by the Department (S. S., 3597), was one of classification exclusively, based upon the distinction made in the late tariff laws between seatings of different widths, and had no relation, whatever, to the inclusion of the selvedge in computing the number of square yards for the assessment of duty on the goods. The present law has abolished this distinction in classification, and imposed the same rate of duty upon all "hair seating," without regard to width. The basis of the decision, therefore, no longer exists, and as the selvedge on these, in common with that on other goods, is certainly dutiable, the principle laid down in an analogous case by a ruling of the Department, May 16, 1863, seems to me to be applicable here, to wit: that the selvedge being "an integral part of the fabric, should be included in computing the width to ascertain the square yard," for the purpose of estimating, n. v. the rate of duty, but the amount thereof to be collected.—EDITH.

* Under the ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court in Zimmerman v. Arthur, referred to in Department decision, S. S., 5642, it is doubtful whether all such goods of whatever material, fit for hat-bands exclusively, should not be classified under 448 at a duty of 20 per cent. But it will be observed in regard to the very article embraced in that ruling, ("cotton hat-bands,") the former provisions in both the cotton schedule and that for "hat materials," for braids and trimmings, were modified by the words, "not otherwise provided for," while under the present law there is no such limitation in 325 as to cotton trimmings, but on the other hand that for hat materials (448) expressly limits its operations to "materials not specially enumerated or provided for in this act." The question then arises whether in this limitation of the word "material" such articles or materials as are specially enumerated or provided for in the act, even in general terms, are not excluded. And query whether the clause "composed of straw, chip," etc., was not intended to apply to the "hats, bonnets, and hoods," rather than to the materials embraced in this paragraph?—EDITOR.

† No chains made of wire or rods less than $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick to be considered chain cables, (1017.) Quære: Under the late law the diameter was clearly referable to the material wire or rod of which the chain was made. Is this the fact also under the new provision? It seems to be the reasonable construction, although the language is indefinite.—EDITOR.

In S. S., 5208, the Department made the rule that "articles of jewelry, which are to contain precious stones by way of adornment, and which are as complete as those which are not intended to be set, are practically within the range of jewelry, as understood by the trade."

Laces, animal hair, (see below, "Worsted.")

* The term "lace" was under former laws held by judicial and Department rulings to include only those fabrics made wholly by the lace-maker upon a cushion, from thread of different materials, flax, cotton, silk, or other, white or colored, wound on bobbins, moved by hand. "There are articles, such as some kinds of fichus, collars, and other similar articles for ladies' use, which are manufactured into the form of fichus and collars originally by the lace-maker, and pass from the hands of the lace-maker, without further manufacture or addition, into a condition fit for actual wear." "These articles the Department regards as laces, dutiable according to their classification and character of their component materials." But fichus, collars, wearing apparel, or other articles, wholly or partly of lace, made up or completed after the same has left the lace-maker's hands, are not so regarded, (S. S., 1630, 5223, 5322, 5457, 5482, and 5534.) But quare? as to how far the above definitions apply to the present laws, which eliminate the term "thread lace" and substitute those of "cotton lace" and "flax lace."

If commercial usage extends the term "lace" to articles cotton or linen, not made on cushions, etc., in the manner of "thread lace," it would seem that they must be regarded as cotton or linen laces under the new provisions of the statutes, and that the classification of thread laces now depends upon the material of which they are made.

There is no specific provision for laces of any other vegetable, or of any animal fibre. The classification of these must therefore be made either under the general provisions for manufactures of such fibres respectively, or in accordance with their use as trimmings, wearing apparel, etc., or, if applicable, under the provisions for similitudes.

Lawrence, classifying shawls as wearing apparel, (excepting only those wholly of wool, or commercially known as "woollen shawls," specifically provided for by § 2.)

Referring to the case of Friedman v. Arthur, the Department, (S. S., 5117.) says: "The principle established by the decision in this case is that shawls made partly of wool, and partly of worsted, or other materials, but of which wool is the component of chief value, or which were known commercially, as woollen shawls, when the act of 1867 was passed, are to be classified as woollen shawls."

* "Such timber only as is evidently to be used for the frame or keel of a vessel, or its masts or spars, is entitled to free entry under the provision of 734 for "ship-timber." Boards and planks used in finishing a vessel are not comprehended under such provision, and are consequently liable to duty." (S. S., 1343.) The provisions for the free entry of ship-timber, in 734, and for lumber and timber, in 834, are not inconsistent. Ship-timber includes only such timber as is evidently to be used as above-stated, and is absolutely free on importation, while under 834 the articles specified therein, which include not only ship-timber, but all lumber and timber, are free only when used in the construction of vessels for foreign trade. (S. S., 1555.) "Ship-timber squared" was held to be free under 734. (S. S., 3602.)

* "The act of March 3, 1883, has the effect of repealing all previous enactments imposing rates of duty on silk and manufactures thereof." (S. S., 5676.)

† Under this provision mixed fabrics or manufactures of silk and other materials, not specifically enumerated in the tariff act, would seem to be dutiable, (if silk is not the component material of chief value,) at the highest rates to which articles of the same or similar class or description made wholly of the material of chief value, would be liable, under the provisions for goods of that material. Thus, if the article should be a cloth of silk and cotton, cotton chief value, and the specific rates for countable cottons should be the highest rates on like cotton cloths, it would be dutiable as a countable cotton cloth. If, on the other hand, it should be thread, hosiery, clothing, embroidery, or other article provided for in paragraphs 318, 322, 323, 324, 325, and 326, it should be classified under the special provisions for cotton goods of like class or character. This provision does not apply to articles which are specifically enumerated and provided for, made of two or more materials, even if the materials are not named.

* It will be seen that this provision differs essentially from that for dutiable similitudes. This seems to require that an article must have all the qualities above-mentioned, combined, in order to be entitled to free entry; that is to say, that it must not only be "similar in material and quality, and texture, and the use to which it may be applied, to some article on the free list;" but also that in the manufacture thereof no dutiable material shall have been used.—EDITOR.

† Upon investigation it is found that the weight of cotton-thread varies from one to one and a half per ct., according to the condition of the atmosphere, and that no uniform invoice weight can be given of such thread shipped from Europe to this country.

To ascertain the true weight on which duties should be levied in case of importation from Europe of such thread, or of cotton yarn, you will, when an importation is found to exceed in weight the amount noted in the invoice, allow not exceeding one per ct. for increase in weight caused by absorption of moisture on the voyage, provided there is no reason to suspect fraud or error in the invoice, (S. S., 2590.)

* I do not feel quite certain that this provision, in the connection in which it now stands in the law covers any other than so-called "all wool" goods. But as it embraced mixed goods in the former law, Congress probably did not intend to change its effect in the new.—Error.

† "One thousand pieces, of four feet each in length, or four thousand lineal feet, constitute the 'thousand' mentioned in the statutes. When clapboards are planed and finished, an additional duty of fifty cents per thousand feet, board measure, for each side which may be so planed and dressed, shall be assessed thereon," (S. S., 1265.)

‡ "The term 'board measure,' as applied to lumber, is synonymous with 'inch measure;' and as the law prescribes certain rates of duty on sawed lumber by the thousand feet, board measure, all such lumber, whether under or over one inch in thickness, should be reduced to inch measure for the purpose of such assessment of duty," (S. S., 1770.)

* Section 2912, of the Rev. Stat., (Pt. I. 1874.) still in force, provides that "when wool of different qualities is imported in the same bale, bag, or package, it shall be appraised by the appraiser, to determine the rate of duty to which it shall be subjected, at the average aggregate value of the contents of the bale, bag, or package; and when bales of different qualities are embraced in the same invoice at the same prices, whereby the average price shall be reduced more than ten per ct. below the value of the bale of the best quality, the value of the whole shall be appraised according to the value of the bale of the best quality; and no bale, bag, or package shall be liable to a less rate of duty in consequence of being invoiced with wool of lower value."

† The Department did not intend by its letter of the 8th inst., (S. S., 1404.) to abandon, directly or indirectly, the classification of wools by race or blood, but the conclusion arrived at therein was in consequence of the difficulty of deciding in most cases, from the noils, whether they are made, when apparently of class 2, without admixture of wool of the first class, including down-wools, which by the act of March 2, 1867, if of a clothing character, whether in the fleece or in sorts, are of class 1., (Feb. 26, 1873, S. S., 1433.)

‡ Held to include hair of the alpaca, goat, and other like animals, (S. S., 2490.)

§ Section 2902 of the Rev. Statutes, relating to appraisements, provides that "merchandise, being manufactured of wool, or whereof wool shall be a component part, which shall be imported into the United States, in an unfinished condition, shall, in every such appraisal, be estimated to have been at the time of exportation, and place whence the same was imported into the United States, of as great value as if the same had been entirely finished," (see Pt. I., 1864.)

* The present legal value of all United States coins, when of full weight, is the same as the nominal value, excepting that of the gold coins minted before July 31, 1834, which is put at 94 8-10 cents per pennyweight. There are, however, none of the latter now in circulation. "Stat." in the last column, means "Statutes at Large;" and the initials "H. D.," refer to "Heyl's Digest."

† The intrinsic value of the gold coins authorized by the Act of 1873, differs slightly from those of prior issue, after July 21, 1834, on account of the diminished proportion of silver in the alloy. But see Treas. Reg. post p. 3.

‡ Reissue provided for by Act of Feb. 28, 1878.

§ The Act of 1873 fixes the weight of the Half Dollar at 12½ grammes, and the Quarter Dollar and Dime at ½ and 1-5 thereof. The reduction of the weight of these coins to grains, is made in accordance with the Act of July 28, 1866, ch. 307.

UNITED STATES TREASURY REGULATIONS AS TO MONEYS
RECEIVABLE FOR DUTIES.

ART. 1001. Gold coins of the United States* are receivable for duties at their nominal value, in unlimited sums, provided the loss of weight by abrasion or ordinary wear does not exceed one-half of one per centum in twenty years, or in that proportion for a shorter period of circulation; but coins of less than the least current weight shall be received at their valuation, in proportion to their actual weight. (Act Feb. 12, 1873, ch. 131, § 14. 17 Stat., p. 426.)

Silver dollars of the United States, other than the trade-dollar, are receivable for duties, at their nominal value, in unlimited sums. (Act February 28, 1878, ch. 20, § 1, 20 stat. p. 25, S. S. 3498.)

Silver half-dollars, quarter-dollars, dimes, and half-dimes, coined previous to April, 1853, are receivable for duties, at their nominal value, in unlimited sums. (Act Jan. 18, 1837, ch. 3, § 9. H. D., p. 733.)

Silver trade-dollars, also silver half-dollars, quarter-dollars, dimes, and half-dimes, coined since April 1, 1853, are receivable for duties in amounts not exceeding five dollars in one payment. (Acts Feb. 21, 1853, ch. 79, §§ 1, 2 (H. D., p. 742), and Feb. 12, 1873, ch. 131, § 15. 17 Stat., p. 427.)

Five-cent pieces, coined between the years 1866 and† 1873, are receivable for duties in amounts not exceeding one dollar in one payment. (Act May 16, 1866, ch. 81, § 3. H. D., p. 754.)

Three-cent pieces, composed in part of silver and coined between the years 1851 and 1865, are receivable in sums not exceeding thirty cents in one payment, and three cent pieces, composed in part of nickel and coined between the years 1865 and‡ 1873, are receivable in amounts not exceeding sixty cents in one payment. (Acts March 3, 1851, ch. 20, § 11, and March 3, 1865, ch. 100, § 3. H. D., pp. 739, 752.)

Five-cent pieces, three cent pieces, and one-cent pieces, coined under the "coinage act of eighteen hundred and seventy-three," are receivable in amounts not exceeding twenty-five cents in one payment. (Act Feb. 12, 1873, ch. 131, § 16. 17 Stat., p. 427.)

Two-cent pieces and one-cent pieces, coined previous to‡ 1873, are receivable in sums not exceeding four cents in one payment. (Act March 3, 1865, ch. 100, § 6. H. D., p. 753.)

United States demand notes are receivable for duties at their nominal value, in unlimited amounts.

Coin certificates, being certificates of the deposit of gold coin‡ with the Treasurer or Assistant Treasurers of the United States, are receivable for duties at their nominal value to the amount of the duties to be paid.

ART. 1002. United States legal-tender notes and the circulating notes of national banks are receivable, at their nominal values, for all payments other than duties on imports; and the fractional-currency notes of the United States are receivable for all payments, other than customs, when offered in sums not exceeding five dollars.||

ART. 1003. Payments in gold coin should be weighed by single pieces; but if in bulk, the coins must be separately examined and tested as far as necessary; one-dollar pieces must be separated from larger coins and weighed apart, and the weighing in bulk must be done by amounts of ten dollars, one hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, or multiples thereof.

* Excepting those minted before July 31, 1834, which rate at $94\frac{8}{10}$ cents per pwt. (Act June 28, 1834, ch. 95, § 3. H. D., p. 730.)

|| Defaced and Mutilated Currency.—Defaced and mutilated fractional and legal-tender notes, each equalling or exceeding by face measurement three-fifths of its original proportions in one piece, are, under previous regulations of the Department, if in a condition that the genuineness can be clearly ascertained, received at their full face value in payment of all currency dues to the United States. Smaller fragments cannot be received for such dues, but are, on conditions published, redeemable at the Treasury. Every officer of the Treasury Department is required to stamp the word "COUNTERFEIT" upon every spurious note presented to him, purporting to have been issued by the United States, or by a National Bank. (Act June 30, 1864, ch. 172, § 5. H. D., p. 816.)

RECIPIENTS OF CUSTOMS DUES.

In weighing coins the ounce troy, and the decimals thereof, are to be used.

The standard weight and the least current weight of certain specified sums, in gold coins above the dollar, are as follows:

Amount.	Standard weight.	Least current weight.
$100,	5.375 oz.	5.348 oz.
5000,	268.750 oz.	267.407 oz.

The gold dollar continuing current until the allowed deviation from standard weight in manufacture is exceeded by wear and abrasion, 5000 pieces will be current when weighing not less than $266\frac{145}{1000}$ ounces troy.

The standard weight and the least current weight of single gold coins of the United States, above the dollar, are as follows:

Coin.	Standard weight.	Least current weight.
Quarter-eagle,	64.5 grs.	64.18 grs.
Three-dollar,	77.4 grs.	77.02 grs.
Half-eagle,	129.0 grs.	128.36 grs.
Eagle,	258.0 grs.	256.71 grs.
Double-eagle,	516.0 grs.	513.42 grs.

As the coinage law tolerates a deviation from the standard weight of one-quarter of a grain, or less, in the manufacture of the dollar piece, that coin will be current and receivable so long as it is not reduced below $25\frac{55}{100}$ grains in actual weight.

RECIPIENTS OF CUSTOMS DUES.

ART. 1004. At custom-houses where there are regularly designated cashiers, such cashiers shall be the sole recipients of customs moneys; at all other custom-houses or stations, either the collectors personally, or an officer specially designated for each custom-house or station, or inspectors of baggage, when so authorized, shall be the recipients of such moneys.

ART. 1005. Receipts may be demanded, and, when demanded, must be given as a matter of right for any payments of money on account of customs or other dues to the United States; but, for the due protection of the revenue, the collector should require an additional entry of the goods, or an additional copy of the document, to be presented, on which the receipt should be entered.

WEIGHT, FINENESS, AND VALUE OF FOREIGN COINS,

As determined by U. S. Mint Assays, and proclaimed Jan. 1, 1874, by the Secretary of the Treasury.

EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

1. The weight is expressed in fractions of an ounce troy, agreeing with the terms used in the United States mints.

If it is desired to have the weight of any piece in grains, regard the thousandths of an ounce as integers, take their half, from which deduct four per cent. of that half, and the remainder will be grains.

2. The fineness is expressed in thousandth parts, i. e., so many parts of pure gold or silver in 1000 parts of the coin. The old carat system is generally abandoned (except for jewelry), but it may be worth while to say that 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ thousandths equal one carat.

3. The valuation of gold is a direct calculation from weight and fineness, at the legal rate of 25.8 grains, 900 fine, being equal to one dollar; or $20.672 (nearly) per ounce of fine gold.

Foreign coins, if converted into United States coins, will be subject to a charge of one-fifth of one per cent.

4. For the silver there is no fixed legal valuation as compared with gold. The value of the silver coins is computed at the rate of 120 cents per ounce, 900 fine, payable in subsidiary silver coin, that having been the mint price when the assays were made.

The gold value of silver is to be found in the bullion markets; at present it is about 113 cents per ounce, 900 fine.

5. These tables generally give the one principal coin of each country, from which the other sizes are easily deduced. Thus, when the franc system is used, there are generally gold pieces of 40, 20, 10, and 5 francs, all in due proportion. But in silver the fractional coins are very often of less intrinsic value than the normal coin, proportionally. These are seldom exported.

* The doubloon (doblon, or more properly onza, though not really an ounce Spanish) is now generally discontinued. These figures answer as well for the doubloon of Peru, Chili, Bolivia, &c., and therefore, this item stands for all. Popayan pieces were rather inferior.

† The sovereigns coined at Melbourne and Sydney, in Australia, and distinguished only by the mint marks M and S, are the same as those of the London mint. Sovereigns generally are up to the legal fineness, 916 $\frac{2}{3}$ (or 22 carats).

‡ The last coinage of mohurs was in 1862.

INVOICE CURRENCIES.

SECTION 2838 of the Revised Statutes (see Part I, paragraph 1840), provides that "all invoices of merchandise subject to a duty ad valorem shall be made out in the currency of the place or country from whence the importation shall be made, and shall contain a true statement of the actual cost of such merchandise, in such foreign currency or currencies, without any respect to the value of the coins of the United States, or of foreign coins, by law made current within the United States, in such foreign place or country."

Invoices of free goods, or of goods paying strictly specific duty, may be made out in the currency of the United States, or that of any other country where its value is fixed by our laws. (R. R., pt. iv, Art. 25.)

In ascertaining the value of imports for the assessment of duties, the currency of the invoice must be converted into money of the United States according to the rates of value ascertained and made known in pursuance of law; the standard gold dollar being the unit of the money of account of the United States. (Tr. Regs., Acts 345 and 993.)

"Where the standard value of a foreign currency has been proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury in the manner provided by law, or, not having been so proclaimed, has been fixed by a special enactment, that value is to be taken in all cases in estimating customs duties, unless collectors have been otherwise instructed, or unless a depreciation of the value of the foreign currency expressed in an invoice from the standard of that currency shall be shown by consular certificate thereto attached."* (Ibid., Art. 993, as amended June 29, 1874, S. S., 1870.)

Where the standard value of a foreign currency has not been so proclaimed, an invoice expressed in such currency must be accompanied by a consular certificate, showing its value in standard gold dollars of the United States. (Ibid.)

"When silver is the legal standard of a foreign currency and represents the unit of account, its value is to be reduced to the basis of gold on the assumption that the ratio of $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 1, or such other ratio as may be from time to time established, represents the relative values of silver and gold." (Ibid., Art. 994.)

Invoices of Swiss goods made out in the "franc federal," do not require the consular currency certificate. (Ibid., Art. 995.)

"In the absence of the required currency certificate, the goods will be admitted to entry on the usual appraisement, but the importer will be required to give bond to produce such certificate, whether the import be subject to duty or not, and the final liquidation of duties will be delayed until the filing of the certificate or the expiration of the bond." (Ibid., Art. 998.)

German thalers have ceased to be the unit of value in Germany, excepting Bavaria and Wurtemberg, and the mark has been substituted. All invoices of goods subject to a duty ad valorem, imported from Germany, other than from Bavaria and Wurtemberg, should be made out in marks, and such invoices representing other currencies should be rejected. (S. S., 2262.)

An invoice made out in the currency actually paid may be received by a collector of customs, if it contains also a true statement of the actual cost of the merchandise in the currency of the country whence the goods were imported, and in all other respects complies with the laws and regulations governing the subject. (S. S., 2536.)

* See ante, Part I, paragraph 1865, for statutory provision as to depreciated currency.

To reduce Lineal Metres, Aunes, and Berlin Ells to Lineal yards, proceed as follows:

Metres, by adding to their number, $\frac{1}{12}$, $\frac{1}{100}$, and $\frac{1}{36}$ of $\frac{1}{100}$; Aunes, by adding to their number $\frac{1}{4}$, or 25 per cent. thereof; and Berlin Ells,* by multiplying their number by .7294, or by .73, which is sufficiently accurate for ordinary purposes.

To reduce the lineal yards thus obtained to square yards, the above table may, of course, be used as in other cases.

SQUARE YARDS

May be readily produced from LINEAL YARDS, METRES, AUNES, and BERLIN ELLS, of any width from $\frac{1}{4}$ inch to 72 inches, by the use of the following table and rules, substantially copied from a manuscript kindly furnished for this work by Mr. H. MILLARD, Entry Clerk at the NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE, where it has been in use for some years. Metres are estimated at 39.37 inches, according to Act of Congress, July 28, 1866, Chap. 301 (ante, Part I, p. —); Aunes (of Lyons and Switzerland only), at 1.25 yards, and Berlin Ells at .73 of a yard.

This table gives the equivalent in sterling money and in francs, per lineal yard and lineal meter, on different widths of cotton cloths, at the several values prescribed under the cotton schedule of the Act of 1883, as the minimum for the imposition of the ad valorem duty of 40 per cent, showing the dividing cost line on lineal measurements, according to which the rates, specific or ad valorem, are required to be assessed. It may also be used to ascertain the specific duties on lineal measurements of other goods of any of the stated widths at 8, 10, 12, and 15 cents per square yard.

[The following tables of money, weights, and measures, prepared for the United States Treasury Department by Mr. E. B. Elliott, are copied from "Webster's Counting-house Dictionary."]

- SHOWING, IN TERMS OF THE STANDARD GOLD COINAGE OF THE UNITED STATES,
- (1.) THE INTRINSIC VALUES OF THE PRINCIPAL GOLD AND SILVER COINS OF DIFFERENT FOREIGN COUNTRIES DUE TO THEIR LEGAL WEIGHT AND FINENESS.
 - (2.) THE INTRINSIC VALUES DUE TO THEIR ACTUAL AVERAGE WEIGHT AND FINENESS AS ASCERTAINED BY TRIAL AT MINTS OF THE UNITED STATES AND OF OTHER COUNTRIES: AND
 - (3.) THE RATES FIXED BY UNITED STATES LAW AT WHICH CERTAIN FOREIGN COINS OR CURRENCY SHALL BE RECEIVED IN PAYMENT OF CUSTOMS DUES.

In reducing the value of silver coins to the gold standard of the United States, the value of gold has been considered to be $15\frac{3}{4}$ times that of silver of the same weight and fineness—this rate being the average of those obtaining in the London market for the fourteen years, 1853–1866.

The values of silver coins derived from trials at the U. S. mint, as here given, are less by about 1.220 per cent. than the corresponding values published in the Official Tables; the latter values having been reduced to a gold basis on the assumption that the market price of gold is 15.1875 times that of silver, instead of $15\frac{3}{4}$ times, as here employed.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES OF THE UNITED STATES.

STANDARD UNITS.

Standard of Length.—The actual standard of length of the United States, is a brass scale of eighty-two inches in length, prepared for the survey of the coast of the United States, by Troughton, of London, and now in the possession of the United States Treasury Department, and deposited at the office of Weights and Measures. The yard measure is between the twenty-seventh and the sixty-third inches of the scale. The temperature at which this scale was designed to be standard, and at which it is so used in conducting the operations of the United States Coast Survey, is 62° Fahrenheit. Late comparisons show that on the United States standard scale at 62° Fahrenheit, the yard is in excess of the British standard by 0.00087 inch. According to a report made as Chairman of the Committee of Weights and Measures, by Professor A. D. Bache, late Superintendent of the United States Coast Survey, in 1860, before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "the standard temperature of the United States yard has never been authoritatively here fixed."

The unit of length—the yard—is derived from ancient arbitrary standards in England. Its thirty-sixth part—the inch—is said to be contained 39.13929 times in the length of the pendulum that, in a vacuum and at the level of mid-tide, under the latitude of London, vibrates seconds of mean time.

Comparison of the Common with the Metric Standards of Length.—According to Hassler, the meter contains 39.38091714 of the inch divisions of the Troughton scale at 82° Fahrenheit; and, consequently, making due allowance for the expansion by heat of the metal scale, 39.36850154 of these inch-divisions, when the bar is at 62° Fahrenheit. The number of imperial inches in the meter, according to Kater, and adopted in the late Act of Parliament, which rendered the use of the metric system permissible in Great Britain, is 39.37079. The number of United States inches in the meter, according to the Act of Congress of 1866, authorizing the use of the metric system of weights and measures in the United States, is 39.37.

Standard of Weight.—The weights of the United States are designed to be identical with those of England. The standard of weight is the troy pound, copied in 1827, by Captain Kater, from the imperial troy pound of England, for the use of the mint of the United States, and there deposited. This pound is standard when in air in which the mercury stands at 30 inches in a barometer, and at 62 degrees in the Fahrenheit thermometer. The pound troy is assumed to contain 5760 grains; the commercial or avoirdupois pound, contains 7000 of these grains.

Standards of Volume.—The standard of liquid measure is the gallon; of dry measure, the bushel. The former is almost exactly equivalent to a cylinder 7 inches in internal diameter, and 6 inches in height; the latter to a cylinder of 18.5 inches internal diameter, and 8 inches in height, and when heaped the cone must not be less than 6 inches high, containing for a true cone, 2747.715 cubic inches.

The gallon, if filled with distilled water at the temperature of its maximum density (say 39.83° Fahrenheit, as determined by Mr. Hassler), contains, according to the official report, at that temperature, if weighed in air in which the barometer is 30 inches at 62° Fahrenheit, 58.372.2 standard grains (8.3389 pounds avoirdupois). The bushel is a measure containing 543.391.89 standard grains (77.6274 pounds avoirdupois) of distilled water at the temperature of maximum density, and barometer at 30 inches at 62° Fahrenheit.

According to Mr. Hassler's comparisons, the weight of a cubic foot of water at its maximum density, the barometer being 30 inches at 62° Fahrenheit, is 998.068 ounces avoirdupois; the weight of a cubic inch of such water being 252.6937 grains. The United States gallon is thus the old wine gallon of 231 inches, nearly; and the United States bushel, the Winchester bushel of 2150.42 cubic inches, nearly.

The British standard measure of volume, by Act of 1824, is the imperial gallon, containing, when weighed in air, both air and water being at the temperature of 62° Fahrenheit, and the barometer at 30 inches, 10 pounds avoirdupois. The cubic inch of distilled water (temperature 62°, barometer 30 inches), is declared to contain 252.458 grains; hence the imperial standard gallon contains 277.274 cubic inches. The imperial bushel, of 8 imperial gallons, contains 2218.192 cubic inches. Its dimensions are 19.5 inches outside diameter, 8.5 inside diameter, 18.25 depth, and 6 inches height of cone for heaped measure; the contents of the heaped bushel being 2815.488 cubic inches.

The United States standard gallon is to the imperial standard gallon, nearly, as 5 to 6; the United States standard bushel is to the imperial standard bushel, nearly, as 32 to 33.

METRIC SYSTEM.

Metric System of Weights and Measures Permissible.—By an Act of Congress approved in July, 1866 (ante, Part III, p. 31), the use of the weights and measures of the metric system is made permissible; and contracts are declared not to be invalid because the weights and measures expressed or referred to therein are weights and measures of that system.

The following tables of equivalents are also therein recognized in the construction of contracts and in all legal proceedings.

Metric Standards to be furnished each State.—By a joint Congressional resolution of the same date, the Secretary of the Treasury was "authorized and directed" to furnish to each State, "one set of the standard weights and measures of the metric system."

Metric Postal Balances to be furnished certain Post-offices.—By another act of the same date, the Postmaster-General was "authorized and directed to furnish to the post-offices exchanging mails with foreign countries, and to such other officers as he shall think expedient, postal balances denominated in grammes of the metric system; and until otherwise provided by law, one half ounce avoirdupois shall be deemed and taken for postal purposes as the equivalent of fifteen grammes of the metric weights, and so adopted in progression; and the rates of postage shall be applied accordingly."

It will be seen on reference to the tables above given, that one-half ounce avoirdupois is actually equal to about 14.176 grammes instead of fifteen grammes.

Length of the Meter.—The meter was designed to be the ten-millionth part ($\frac{1}{10,000,000}$) of the earth's meridian passing through Dunkirk and Formentera.* Later investigations, however, based on additional measures of meridional arcs in other parts of the world, have shown that the meter sensibly exceeds such ten-millionth part of the quadrant—the excess being equal (as is stated by Sir John Herschel) to about one part in 6400.

This weight is applied to all coarse articles, such as hay, meat, fish, potash, groceries, hemp, flax, butter, cheese, &c., and all metals, except gold and silver. Gross weight is the weight of goods with the boxes, casks, or bags which contain them. Net weight is the weight of the goods only. Formerly the usual custom was to allow 112 pounds for a hundredweight, and 28 pounds for a quarter; but this practice has very nearly passed away. In buying and selling all articles of commerce estimated by weight, the laws of most of the States, as well as general usage, call 100 pounds a hundredweight, and 25 pounds a quarter. The custom-house, however, continues the old usage.

* Sir John Herschel has called attention to the remarkable fact, not generally known, that the earth's polar semi-axis contains almost precisely 1001 millions of English quarter inches: and recommends the augmentation of the existing English measures of length by their one thousandth aliquot part; the augmented measures to be designated "geometrical measures."

Thus augmented, a cubic double foot (or a cube, the sides of which are each twenty-four "geometrical" inches), will contain almost exactly 1000 half pounds avoirdupois (more exactly 1000.131), of distilled water at its temperature of maximum density; and a square the side of which measures 10,000 of the new (or geometrical) quarter-inches, will contain almost precisely one acre (more exactly 0.9984 acre). These close approximations to integral ratios, show that the familiar units of measure and weight may be very nearly preserved in a decimal system based upon a natural unit.

compounding medicines; but drugs and medicines are bought and sold by avoirdupois weight. The pound and ounce in this weight are the same as the troy pound and ounce.

Shipping Admeasurement.

REGISTER TON.—For Register Tonnage, or for measurement of the entire internal capacity of a vessel: 100 cubic feet = 1 register ton.

This number is arbitrarily assumed to facilitate computation.

SHIPPING TON.—For the measurement of cargo:

40 cubic feet . . .	{ = 1 U. S. shipping ton.
	{ = 31.16 imperial bushels.
	{ = 32.143 U. S. bushels.
42 cubic feet . . .	{ = 1 British shipping ton.
	{ = 32.719 imperial bushels.
	{ = 33.75 U. S. bushels.
350 cubic feet . . .	= 1 keel.
1 U. S. (or Winchester) bushel	= 2150.42 cubic inches.
1 imperial bushel . . .	{ = 2218.192 cubic inches.
	{ = 1.0315157 U. S. bushel.
	{ = 8 imperial bushels.
1 English quarter . . .	{ = 8½ U. S. bu. (nearly).
	{ = 1745.54 cubic inches.
	{ = 10.2694 cubic feet.

A shipping ton (U. S.) of 40 cubic feet equals three and nine-tenths (3.895) English quarters of 8 imperial (or 8½ U. S.) bushels each. A shipping ton (British) of 42 cubic feet, equals four and one-tenth (4.09) English quarters. A shipping ton of 41 (or more exactly 40.9776) cubic feet, would equal exactly four English quarters; i. e., 32 imperial bushels, or 33 United States bushels.

WHEAT A STANDARD OF VOLUME AND WEIGHT.—Wheat is a standard alike for the volume and weight of cargoes. When in bulk on board ship, this commodity occupies about fifteen per cent. less space than when filled into measures of capacity in the customary way. So compressed, a ton of 2240 pounds occupies about 40 cubic feet.

MEASUREMENT CARGO.—The capacity of a vessel for cargo, on voyages of average length, is usually estimated at from 20 to 25 per cent. less than her Register Tonnage, or entire internal capacity. This net space, in cubic feet, divided by 40, gives, in shipping tons of 40 cubic feet each, her "Measurement Cargo," so called, or her net carrying capacity, in shipping tons. Her measurement cargo is, therefore, from 1¼ to 2 times the number of register tons, of 100 cubic feet each, in her Register Tonnage.

DEAD WEIGHT CARGO.—The "Dead Weight Cargo" of a vessel, or the net weight in tons, of the cargo which the vessel can safely carry on voyages of average length, is approximately ascertained by dividing the entire internal capacity of the vessel in cubic feet by 63, and deducting from the gross result one-fourteenth (or about 7 per cent.) for the weights of water, provisions, crew, and luggage. The number of tons weight in this net result is, therefore, about 1½ times the Register Tonnage, or number of tons of volume in the entire internal capacity of the vessel.

LOAD DISPLACEMENT.—The "Load Displacement" of a vessel, or the entire weight of the vessel, cargo, &c. when fully equipped and ready for sea, may be ascertained by dividing the number of cubic feet of sea-water displaced by the vessel by 35, the number of cubic feet, occupied by a ton (2240 pounds) of sea-water.

RELATIVE BUOYANCY OF IRON AND WOODEN HULLS. In case of vessels of wooden hulls, whether sailing or steam, about 60 per cent. of the "load displacement" is for cargo, and 33 per cent. for the hull, the remaining 7 per cent. being for the weights of water, provisions, crew, &c. In case of iron hulls, if of sailing vessels, the weight allowed for cargo is about 68 per cent. of the displacement, if of steam, 65 per cent. The weight of cargo which be carried is therefore relatively greater with iron hulls than with wooden; 13 per cent. greater if of sailing vessels, 9 per cent. if of steam.

NEW MODE OF ADMEASUREMENT OF VESSELS.—The new "mode" for the admeasurement of vessels in use in the United States, since the Act of Congress of May, 1864, is very accurate; prior to that date, the system was rude, and, in its results, inaccurate. The new system differs somewhat from the British system (adopted by Act of Parliament in 1854), chiefly as applied to steamers. In the British measurement of steamers deductions are made for the space occupied by engines, boilers, and coal; no such deductions being made for United States steamers under the United States law. Under the new United States method, the Register Tonnage of double-decked and three-decked vessels is somewhat augmented, of clipper and half clipper vessels diminished, of single-decked sailing vessels, canal boats, and freight barges on the Western rivers diminished, and of river and lake steamers largely increased.

NORTH GERMAN CONFEDERATION.

(New System.)

By a decree of the 17th of August, 1863, the metrical (French) system of weights and measures has been adopted, commencing with the 1st of January, 1870, and will be compulsory from the 1st of January, 1872.

The base of the new system is the meter or stab; the same as the French mètre.

The unit of length is also the meter or stab.

0.01 meter, . . . = 1 zentimeter or neu-zoll.

0 001 meter, . . . = 1 millimeter or strich.

The unit of surface is the quadrat-meter (square meter), or quadrat stab.

0.01 of a quadrat-meter, . . . = 1 ar.

0 001 of a quadrat-meter, . . . = 1 hektar.

The unit of volume is the 0 001 of a kubik-meter or kubik-stab, and is called a liter or kanne.

$\frac{1}{2}$ liter, = 1 schoppen.

100 liter, = 0.1 kubik-meter, = 1 hectoliter or fass.

50 liter, = 1 scheffel.

The unit of weight is the kilogramme (equal to 2 pfund).

10 grammes, = 1 dekagramme or neu-loth.

0.1 gramme, = 1 dezigramme.

0.01 gramme, = 1 zentigramme.

0.001 gramme, = 1 milligramme.

$\frac{1}{2}$ kilogramme, { = 1 pfund, = 110.23106 lb. avdp.

50 kilogramme, or 100 pfund, = 1 zentner.

1000 kilogramme, or 2000 pfund, = 1 tonne.

The unit of money-weight continues to be the münzpfund (of 500 grammes) divided into 10,000 ass.

The unit of weight for purposes of assay, or for trying gold and silver, is the 0 001 part of the münzpfund (= $\frac{1}{2}$ gramme or 500 milligrammes), which unit is again divided into 1000 parts.

Notice to consulates of the taking of the depositions of captains or seamen before local authorities is also required. In the event of a vessel of either nation "being wrecked or cast on shore upon the coast of the other," "all merchandise and goods not destined for consumption in the country in which the wreck takes place, are free of all duties." Upon merchandise brought from Cuba and Porto Rico in Spanish vessels this discriminating impost duty still attaches.

A Spanish vessel leaving a port of Spain for a port in Cuba, but not finding there a satisfactory market, proceeding, without breaking bulk or taking in any goods at said island, to a port in the United States, would not, nor her cargo, on entry be subject to any other or higher duties of tonnage or imposts than she would be if coming direct from a port of Spain to the United States; the voyage, under the circumstances, being regarded as continuous.

ART. 285. Swiss Confederation.—Convention November 25, 1850, proclaimed November 9, 1855 (11 Stat., 587).

By this convention it is stipulated in the 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th articles that in all that relates to the importation, exportation, and transit of their respective products, the United States and the said Confederation shall treat each other reciprocally as the most favored nation, union of nations, state, or society. Neither of the contracting parties to impose any higher or other duties upon the importation, exportation, or transit of the natural or industrial productions of the other, than are or shall be payable upon the like articles, being the produce of any other country, not embraced within its present limits. Each of the contracting parties engaging itself not to grant any favor in commerce to any nation, union of nations, state, or society, which shall not immediately be enjoyed by the other party; and should one of the contracting parties impose differential duties upon the products of any nation, the other party to be at liberty to determine the manner of establishing the origin of its own products destined to enter the country by which the differential duties are imposed.

By the 12th article of the convention it is provided that no port of the United States shall be closed to articles arriving from Switzerland when conveyed in vessels of the United States, or in vessels of any country having free access to the ports of said States. Swiss merchandise, therefore, arriving under the flag of the United States, or under that of one of the nations most favored by them, is to pay the same duties as the merchandise of such nation. Under any other flag it is to be treated as the merchandise of the country to which the vessel belongs.

In accordance with these stipulations, it has been decided that Swiss goods imported in French vessels are not liable to discriminating duty, no such duty being chargeable on the products or manufactures of France, when directly imported from that country.

ART. 286. Tripoli.—By treaty of June 4, 1895 (8 Stat., 214), vessels are to be reciprocally subject to the same duties and charges and enjoy the same privileges as the most favored nation, and must be provided with proper passports.

ART. 287. Tunis.—By treaty of August, 1797, modified by convention of March 26, 1799 (8 Stat., 157), and by subsequent articles of February 24, 1824 (8 Stat., 298), and ratified by the United States Senate January 13, 1825, vessels of the United States may enter all ports of Tunis on paying the usual duties paid by vessels of the most favored nations. Commerce with Tunis, under the United States flag, to be conducted on precisely the same footing, as to import duties, fees, and all charges whatsoever, as is commerce under the flag of the most favored nation.

ART. 288. Vessels belonging to nations not enumerated in this chapter fall in Class 3 and are subject to the exactions indicated in Article 277.

ADDENDA.

Great Britain, Denmark, Austro-Hungary, and the German Empire, having adopted a mode of admeasurement of vessels similar to that of the United States, Art. 137 of the Treasury Regulations of January 1st, 1874, makes the following provisions, to wit: "That vessels of those countries whose registers indicate their tonnage under the present law, shall be taken in ports of the United States to be of the tonnage so expressed in their documents, with the addition of the amount of the deductions made under such law not authorized by the admeasurement law of the United States."

"Usually the gross tonnage may be ascertained from the register. In such cases the vessel will be entirely exempt from admeasurement."

"If the gross tonnage is not indicated by the register, it may be necessary to measure the spaces appropriated to crew and to engines below the upper deck whose tonnage has been deducted under their law; but the admeasurement will be made only when and to such extent as absolutely necessary."

"Fees will be charged only for the services actually performed, and no more."

By Treasury Circular of January 2d, 1874, these regulations are extended to Italian vessels thus measured, similar courtesies having been extended by all the above nations to vessels of the United States.

France.—A proclamation of the President of the United States, dated September 22d, 1873, directs that on and after the 1st day of October, 1873, the discriminating duty of ten per centum ad valorem, directed by proclamation of October 30th, 1872, to be assessed and collected "upon all merchandise imported in French vessels from countries other than France," shall be abolished. (See Treasury Circular, Sept. 27th, 1873.)

Canadian Coasting Trade.—The following Treasury Circular was issued March 30th, 1874.

"For the information of all concerned, the following extract is published from a recent act of the Dominion of Canada, which went into operation on the sixteenth of March, instant:

"An Act respecting the coasting trade of Canada.

"No goods or passengers shall be carried by water, from one port of Canada to another, except in British ships; and if any goods or passengers are so carried, as aforesaid, contrary to this act, the master of the ship or vessel so carrying the same shall forfeit the sum of four hundred dollars, and any goods so carried shall be forfeited, as smuggled, and such ship or vessel may be detained by the Collector of Customs, at any port or place to which such goods or passengers are brought, until such penalty is paid, or security for the payment thereof given to his satisfaction, and until such goods (if any) are delivered up to him, to be dealt with as goods forfeited under the provisions of the act passed in the thirty-first year of Her Majesty's reign, and entitled 'An act respecting the customs.'

"It will be observed, however, that by Article 30 of the recent treaty between the United States and Great Britain, citizens of the first-named country may carry in United States vessels without payment of duty, goods, wares, and merchandise from one port or place in the British Possessions of North America, to another port or place within the said Possessions, if a portion of such transportation is made through the territory of the United States by land carriage and in bond, under rules agreed upon between the two governments; and that by Article 26 the navigation of the rivers St. Lawrence, Yukon, Porcupine, and Stikine is left open under certain regulations."

Recognition of Judicial Tribunals in Egypt.—Under the authority of the Act of March 23d, 1874, the President of the United States, by proclamation dated March 27th, 1876, after reciting said Act, and that satisfactory information had been received by him that the Government of Egypt had organized other tribunals on a basis likely to secure to citizens of the United States in the dominions subject to said Government, the impartial justice which they then enjoyed there under the judicial functions exercised by the Minister, Consul, or other functionaries of the United States, pursuant to the Act of Congress approved June 22d, 1860, "suspended the operation of the said Act of June 22d, 1860, as to the said dominions subject to the Government of Egypt, in which such tribunals have been organized, so far as the jurisdiction of said tribunals may embrace matters cognizable by the Minister, Consuls, or other functionaries of the United States in said dominions, except as to cases actually commenced before the date" of said proclamation. CONSULAR REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE AUTHENTICATION OF INVOICES.

Prescribed by the President of the United States, May 1, 1881.

ARTICLE XXX.

TREASURY REGULATIONS.

636. The instructions in this article have been carefully revised by the Treasury Department, and have the sanction of the Secretary of the Treasury. Consular officers will take particular note of the forms in which several important changes have been made.

1. AUTHENTICATION OF INVOICES OF IMPORTATIONS INTO THE UNITED STATES.

637. All invoices of importations from countries in which there are such officers* must, before the shipment of the merchandise, be produced to and authenticated by the United States Consular Officer nearest the place of shipment for the United States.

638. By the place of shipment is meant the place where the merchandise has been manufactured, finished, or finally prepared for exportation, and where the journey to the United States commences, and is not necessarily the place where it is actually put on board ship. Exceptions to this rule may be made in cases where the principal offices of the shippers are in one place while the goods are manufactured at, or shipped from, another place; as, for instance, where the merchant resides in London and has his manufactory at Glasgow, invoices of such goods shipped from Glasgow to the United States may be certified by the Consular Officer at London. In all such cases, however, both the place of consular certification and place of actual shipment must be within the limits of the same country or political domain.

639. But no Consular Officer of the United States shall grant a certificate for goods, wares, or merchandise shipped from countries adjacent to the United States which have passed a Consulate after purchase for shipment. In countries adjacent to the United States the authentication may be by the Consular Officer at or nearest to the port or place of clearance for the latter, provided the merchandise shall not have passed a Consulate after purchase for shipment.

640. Consular certificates are not required in connection with the entry of goods passing in transit through the United States to or from countries adjacent thereto under combined entry for transportation and exportation, such goods not being considered as ordinary importations. See paragraph 670 for rules as to sealing and manifesting of goods.

641. All such invoices must be in triplicate; the three copies to be regarded as one invoice, and subject to only one charge for Consular certificate.

The invoices, however, will be made in quadruplicate, and two of the copies, after authentication, will be delivered to the person producing them, in all cases where the merchandise is intended for transportation, without appraisement, to any of the following-named ports mentioned in section 7 of the act of June 10, 1880, viz.: To Genesee (Rochester), New York and Buffalo, N. Y.; Burlington, Vt.; Boston, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; New Haven, Hartford, and Middletown, Conn.; Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Baltimore, Md.; Wilmington, Del.; Georgetown, D. C.; Norfolk and Richmond, Va.; Wilmington, N. C.; Charleston, S. C.; Savannah, Ga.; New Orleans, La.; Portland and Bath, Me.; Portsmouth, N. H.; Chicago, Ill.; Detroit and Port Huron, Mich.; Saint Louis, Mo.; Saint Paul, Minn.; Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo, Ohio; Milwaukee, Wis.; Louisville, Ky.; San Francisco and San Diego, Cal.; Portland, Oreg.; Memphis, Tenn.; Mobile, Ala.; and Galveston, Tex.

* In countries without a United States Consular Officer, the authentication is made, 1st, by a Consul of a country in amity with the United States who resides there; or, 2d, if there be no such Consul, then by two respectable resident merchants.

642. The authentication must be by certificate under the Consular seal, and must be either indorsed on each copy of the invoice, or attached by tape, cord, or ribbon, passed under the seal in such manner as to secure integrity.

643. The certificate must state that the invoice has been produced to the officer certifying; also the date of such production, the name and identity of the person producing, and the intended port of destination of the merchandise in the United States, as declared by such person.

644. It is desirable that it should also, as far as practicable, indicate the facts in regard to market values at the principal markets of the country of all merchandise the duty on which is in any respect or part based on such values. (See note to paragraph 654.)

645. The statutes fully recognized the solemnity of these certificates, and the importance of Consular fidelity in regard to them; but Consular Officers are not to consider themselves authorized absolutely to withhold their certificates, even when they believe the cost or market-values set forth in the invoice to be too low. The form of Consular certificate is given in Form No. 140.

646. But in all such cases they will, on due investigation, certify on the invoice what, in their opinion, is such true market-value, and let the importer take the hazard of satisfying the customs officers of the contrary. To facilitate this, every invoice should, upon its face, at the right-hand margin, have a blank column for "Consular corrections of invoices," in which, when he deems it necessary, the Consular Officer may enter in figures what he regards as the true values at the principal markets of the country, and certify accordingly. He must also immediately advise the Department of State of the grounds on which he bases his judgment.

647. It is the duty of Consular Officers to acquaint themselves as thoroughly as possible with market-values at the principal markets of their districts; with the weights, measures, tares, bounties, etc., there used; and in general with all requisites to enable them to certify intelligently. They may retain invoices for a reasonable time for proper inquiry.

648. To judge correctly the market-value of any given article, it will often be important to inquire carefully as to prices in sales thereof for other markets than our own. When the United States are the only or principal consumers, and fictitious sales to create nominal values are detected, Consuls should ascertain the actual cost of production, and add the customary percentage for profits. In such cases especial care is enjoined as to certificates.

649. They will, in all proper cases, and particularly as to textile fabrics, require samples of the merchandise to be deposited with them, especially when the invoice descriptions of merchandise are not specific and full enough to enable them, or customs officers, intelligently to judge of the market-value without inspection of the merchandise itself. It is particularly enjoined upon Consular Officers in Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Germany, China, and Japan, generally to require samples of all merchandise imported from these countries, of a nature to be sampled.

650. All samples must be accompanied by a card (see Form No. 147)* or statement, which, if practicable, shall be attached thereto, containing the particulars indicated on the form prescribed by the Department, including the certificate at the bottom thereof, which must be signed by the shipper or his agent; and samples of textiles and fibrous goods must be in triplicate, and of such size as may be indicated by the proper revenue officer of the Treasury Department.

651. One of the triplicate samples should be retained at the Consulate, one sent to the office of the Board of General Appraisers in New York, and one sent to the collector of customs of the port of destination of the goods. All other samples, when not too bulky, heavy, or fragile, should be forwarded to the collector of the port to which the merchandise is destined at the same time with the triplicate invoice. But in all cases it is left to the judgment of the Consular Officer to determine whether it is practicable or proper that samples should be called for from shippers for such purpose, or whether more than one sample should be required. As to standard articles of uniform character and well known to the trade, occasional samples will be sufficient, and a like discretion will be exercised. Samples must, in all cases when practicable, be sent to the General Appraisers when requested by them, or either of them.

652. All samples must be carefully preserved, together with the cards or statements accompanying them, and must not be suffered to be inspected or seen by others than officers or agents of the Government, except in cases of exhibition for the purpose of ascertaining or establishing the market-value or price; in which case the name of the shipper will not be made known.

653. Every invoice must be signed by the owners or shippers of the merchandise invoiced, if the same has been actually purchased; or by the manufacturers or owners, if the same has been otherwise obtained; or, if in either case this is impracticable, then by a duly authorized agent. (See paragraph 656.)

654. It must, when produced to the Consul, be indorsed with a declaration signed by such purchaser, manufacturer, owner, or agent, setting forth:—

(a) That it is in all respects true.

(b) That no different invoice of the articles therein mentioned has been, or will be, furnished to any one.

(c) That it sets forth the actual quantity, respectively, of all articles therein named which are subject to specific duty.

(d) That as to all articles therein named, which are subject, either wholly or partly, to a duty based upon their value, and obtained by purchase, it contains a true and full statement of the time and place of purchase, their actual cost, and all charges upon them in the currency paid therefor; and, when otherwise obtained, the actual market-value thereof, respectively, at the principal markets of the country in which they were obtained or manufactured.* Shippers of goods subject, either wholly or partly, to a duty based upon their value, must in all cases be required to state, separately, upon their invoices the following items, viz.:

1°. The market-value of the merchandise;

2°. The cost of transportation to port of shipment and the costs of shipment;

3°. The amount of packing charges, including cartons; and

4°. Commissions, etc.

(e) That no discounts, bounties, or drawbacks are contained in said invoice, but such as have been actually allowed (Forms Nos. 138, 139, and 145).

655. This declaration on the part of the owner, manufacturer, purchaser, or agent, whether under oath or not, is the verification of the invoice before shipment recognized and prescribed by the statutes, and must not be confounded with consular authentication. In cases where the party making the declaration resides at a remote distance from the Consulate where the invoice is to be authenticated, the declaration may be made before any other Consul. This is not, however, to be understood as superseding the existing practice of requiring the personal presence of the party making the declaration before the Consul authenticating the invoice except in the cases mentioned, nor as changing the rule that invoices must be authenticated by the Consular Officer nearest the place of shipment. What Consular Officer shall certify goods transported to, and imported from, intermediate ports in other countries, depends upon the fact of the original destination of the goods, as shown by the original invoices thereof, or other primary evidence.

656. The declaration should, if possible, be made by the actual owner, manufacturer, or shipper of the merchandise. No agent must be permitted to make it, or otherwise verify the invoice, without having first filed with the Consul a duly-executed power of attorney, authorizing him to act for and bind his principal. (See paragraph 653.) If, however, the agent is a partner acting in behalf of his firm, a copy of the articles of copartnership, authenticated to the satisfaction of the Consul, may, if desired by the firm, be substituted. A form of power of attorney is given in Form 104.

657. When a verification by oath or affirmation of the owner, shipper, manufacturer, or agent, is deemed necessary by the Consular Officer, the affiant may, in countries where an oath, to be of legal force, must be taken before a local magistrate, or other officer, take the same before any such officer. The language and form of the oath, if taken by foreigners, should be those of their country. If Consular Officers in China and Japan shall be satisfied, in any case, that it is not practicable to take the oath required by law, they may authenticate the invoice and proceed without the oath, as in cases where none is required; leaving all questions in regard thereto to be disposed of by the proper authorities in the United States.

658. Consular Officers are forbidden to be in any way interested in the fees, or to interfere with the selection of such magistrate or other officer. They may, in their discretion, on points on which they are in doubt, examine experts and others, either on affidavit or orally, without charge or expense to the United States Government.

659. To facilitate the operations of the custom-house, Consuls will take care that, when practicable, all invoices are properly folded and indorsed, and all blanks properly filled.

660. One invoice must not embrace merchandise shipped by two or more vessels.

661. Every invoice must truly state quantities in the weights and measures of the country or place from which the importations are made, without respect to those of the United States, and should set forth the quantity by weight of all woolen, worsted, mohair, and mixed goods (excepting carpeting and bunting); also of cotton-bagging, of crinoline, of corset, and hat steel wire, and the quantity by weight, measure, or tale, respectively, of all other goods the duty on which is estimated partly on either weight, measure, or tale.

662. When the value of a foreign currency mentioned in the invoice is not fixed in pursuance of United States laws, as set forth in the annual estimates of values (Form No. 148), or shall be depreciated, or have been debased subsequently to the passage of such laws, the invoice must be accompanied by a Consular certificate (Form No. 144), showing the value of such currency in United States gold dollars. No such certificates are required as to invoices of Swiss goods, made out in the franc federal; the franc of France being the standard value thereof.

663. The Consular Officer must return one of the triplicates to the person producing them; file one in his office for careful preservation; and, as soon as practicable, transmit the remaining one directly to the collector of the port of destination of the merchandise, either by the master of the vessel in which shipment is made or by mail, and without the intervention of any party in interest.

664. Prior to forwarding the last-named copy, the Consul shall stamp, near the bottom of its first page, at the left hand corner, and upon his certificate (on which he shall personally write his name), the amount of the invoice, its Consular number, the name of the Consulate, and the amount and number of the fee received for the Consular authentication.

665. The said copy (or copies, if there are two or more invoices to be forwarded by the same vessel or mail) must then be placed in an envelope, carefully addressed to the collector, and stamped with the name of the Consulate and the date. The blank for the numbers of the invoices must be filled in writing. A small silk cord or narrow ribbon must then be passed through the envelope, near the ends and sides, and under the Consular seal, with which the envelope must be carefully sealed (Form No. 142).

666. When invoices are transmitted from a Consulate in the interior, or place of purchase, or manufacture, to the Consul of the port of shipment therein designated, to be thence forwarded to the proper collector, the package must be accompanied with a descriptive list to facilitate comparison with the ship's manifest, before taking the master's receipt, as per Forms Nos. 141 and 143. The latter Consul must see that the integrity of the package is duly secured in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph.

667. The copy filed in the Consulate must be carefully folded, and indorsed with its number, date, the name of the owner or shipper, and the name of the vessel in which the merchandise is shipped. Forms of the invoice book required to be kept by Consular Officers, and the digest of its contents to be sent to the Department of State, are given in Forms Nos. 117 and 133.

668. Consular Officers will, on request of the proper collectors, supply them, free of charge, with copies of any such documents on file in their offices as they may need in the discharge of their official duties. Copies prepared by other persons for their own use will, on request, be certified on payment of two dollars. When, however, duplicates of originals are required, or the copy is prepared by the Consul, the schedule fee will be exacted as for original service. They are also required to furnish to the Secretary of the Treasury, or to such officers of the customs as he may direct, as often as may be required, the prices current of all articles of merchandise usually exported to the United States from the port or place in which the Consular Officer is stationed.

669. If a Consular Officer ascertains and has reliable evidence of the falsity of an oath, administered either by himself or by a local magistrate whose certificate he has authenticated, he should notify the Treasury Department; which will transmit to him the original invoice and oath, to be used, if deemed expedient, in a prosecution for perjury. He should also promptly inform the Treasury Department, and the collector of the port to which goods may be destined, of all errors and frauds discovered in invoices that have been certified by him.

670. The statute authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to make regulations for sealing vessels, cars, and other vehicles coming into the United States with dutiable merchandise from any contiguous foreign lands or countries. The declaraton to be made in such case is shown in Form No. 146.

FREE ENTRY OF PRODUCTS OF AMERICAN FISHERIES.

671. Fish, oil, bone, pearl-shells, and all other products of American fisheries brought into the United States from foreign places, in a vessel other than the one by which the same were taken, will be admitted to free entry only on the production to the collector of customs at the port of importation, by the master of the importing vessel, of a manifest of said articles, duly subscribed and sworn to by the master of the fishing vessel by which such articles were taken, and certified by the United States Consular Officer at the foreign port where the transshipment of such articles occurred. Such manifest and certificate will be in the form given, respectively, in Forms Nos. 157 and 158.

672. Articles the product of American fisheries in the Pacific may be landed from the fishing vessel at Panama, New Granada, and transported across the Isthmus of Panama, and shipped to a port of the United States, on the Atlantic or Gulf of Mexico, and be treated on arrival as if imported direct from the whaling or fishing ground in the original vessel, on due compliance with these Regulations. A manifest must be made out and verified in the manner above indicated. The United States Consul at Panama, or the revenue inspector, if there be one, will examine the packages, and make comparison thereof with the manifest, and certify thereon the result under his hand and official seal, stating in his certificate that the articles so manifested were placed, under his inspection, on the cars or other vehicles for transportation to the port or place of shipment on the Atlantic side. On arrival of the articles at the Atlantic terminus of the route, the manifest aforesaid must be presented to the United States Consul at Aspinwall, or to the revenue inspector, if there be one, who will certify thereon to the due shipment of the same under his inspection on board the vessel, naming the vessel and her master, for its destination in the United States. Like proceedings will be had in case of products of American fishery transported by the route of San Juan de Nicaragua.

673. Provision has been made by law for the free entry into the United States of animals from beyond the seas when imported for breeding purposes. The customs regulations require in such cases that the owner of the animals shall produce to the collector at the port of importation a certificate from the Consular Officer of the United States at the port of shipment, showing that the animals are, to the best of his information and belief, intended for such purpose, and also a statement of the owner, under oath, that the animals were purchased abroad and imported into the United States especially for breeding purposes. The collector must also be satisfied that the animals are of superior stock, adapted to improving the breed in the United States. The term "beyond the seas" is held to apply to any territory beyond the limits of the United States. The form of the owner's statement and the Consular certificate will be found in Form No. 66.

674. The statute also provides for the free admission of the teams of animals, including tackle and harness, and the wagons, sleighs, or other vehicles drawn by such teams, when brought into the United States by emigrants. In such cases the emigrant must produce to the collector of customs at the port of importation an affidavit showing that the same have been in actual use by him abroad; that they are at the time in actual use for the purpose of emigration; and that they are brought into the United States for his own use and not for sale. The affidavit may be made before a collector of customs, or a Consular Officer, or before any local official qualified to administer oaths. No formal Consular certificate is required; but if the papers for such an entry are executed before a Consular Officer they should be in the form prescribed in Form No. 93. No greater fee than fifty cents shall be collected by a Consular Officer for the services rendered in such cases under any pretext, and his services shall include the necessary blanks and the preparation of them when required.

675. The statute provides for the entry at ports of the United States, free of duties, of paintings, statuary, fountains, and other works of art, the production of American artists. The fact of such production must be verified by the certificate of a Consul or Minister indorsed upon the written declaration of the artist. The forms applicable to such cases will be found in Forms Nos. 155 and 156.

676. It frequently happens, in regard to the importation of lumber from countries adjacent to the United States, that the lumber is imported in two or more canal-boats or barges towed by a single steamer. The regulation under which authority was given to shippers to embrace in a single Consular certificate the lumber on all the boats or barges of a tow has been rescinded. Hereafter a separate Consular certificate will be required for the lumber on each boat or barge of a tow.

677. Representations have from time to time been received at the Department of State that shipments of general merchandise are often divided into small lots, in order to bring each lot under the value of one hundred dollars, for the purpose of securing entry at the custom-house without the production of Consular invoices. This division of shipments has, in some quarters, grown into a general practice, and has been encouraged hitherto by the admission of such non-invoiced goods without special inquiry as to the reasons for the failure to produce verified invoices. At the instance of that Department the attention of customs officers has been called by the Secretary of the Treasury to section 2860 of the Revised Statutes, which provides that, except in the cases mentioned in the four preceding sections, no merchandise shall be admitted to entry from any foreign country unless an invoice is presented conforming to the requirements of sections 2853 to 2855 of the Revised Statutes. The principal exception to this rule is found in section 2859 of the Revised Statutes, which provides that, whenever the value of imported merchandise does not exceed one hundred dollars, the collector at the port of arrival may admit it to entry without the production of a Consular invoice, if he is satisfied that the neglect to produce such invoice was unintentional and that the importation was made in good faith, and without any purpose of defrauding or evading the revenue laws.

678. Circular instructions were issued to collectors of customs enjoining them, where an entry of merchandise valued at less than one hundred dollars is presented, to make due examination in order to ascertain whether the failure to produce a Consular invoice was unintentional, and otherwise free from the objections specified in the statute. Where the merchandise is not clearly entitled to the privilege of entry without Consular invoice, they are directed to require a bond for the production of such invoice in the usual manner. Shipments of small quantities of butter, eggs, garden produce, and other like articles brought to the United States by parties living along the border, and who are producers of the same, have been heretofore considered as not being subject to the requirements of Consular invoices, and no objection will be made to a continuance of this rule.

2. RELATIONS BETWEEN CONSULAR OFFICERS AND REVENUE AGENTS.

679. Consular Officers will confer freely with the Treasury Revenue Agents who may be appointed to visit and examine the Consulates. They will remember, however, that these agents have no authority to instruct them as to their official acts. Consular Officers will also render to such Revenue Agents every assistance in their power in the performance of their duties, giving them free access to the records and papers of their Consulates relating to trade with the United States; communicating to them promptly any information acquired by the former, showing or indicating actual or contemplated frauds in the exportation of merchandise to the United States, or which may be in any wise useful to such agents in the prosecution of their inquiries or the performance of their duties; and generally co-operating with them therein, and particularly giving special attention to any invoices or merchandise in which, or in relation to which, such agents may advise them that there is reason to apprehend that fraud or irregularity has been or is likely to be committed. Where samples are susceptible of being divided, such agents will be entitled to one-half of any such sample on application therefor; and in all cases they will be entitled to make such use of samples as may be necessary to enable them to prosecute any inquiry, or procure any required proof, in the performance of their duties.

3. DEBENTURE AND LANDING-CERTIFICATES.

680. An important duty of Consular Officers is the giving of debenture and landing-certificates for goods brought to their ports from this country, under export bonds, without payment of customs duties or internal taxes, or with benefit of drawback after payment of duties or taxes. To prevent frauds, they are cautioned not to certify without personal inspection, or undoubted proof of their truth. Such proof may consist of the production, whenever practicable, of the certificate of the collector of customs or chief revenue officer of the port where the merchandise has been landed.

681. For the discharge of the export bond covering imported merchandise, the exporter must produce a certificate from the consignees (Form No. 150) and joint affidavit of the master and mate of the exporting vessel (Form No. 153) and the certificate (Form No. 151) of the Consul of the United States at the port to which the goods were exported, verifying the consignee's certificate; or in case the latter certificate cannot be produced, a certificate from two merchants residing at the place to which the goods were exported (Form No. 152). He must also produce, whenever practicable, the certificate of the chief revenue officer or collector of the foreign port (appended thereto) under the hand and seal of that officer, certifying that the merchandise described has been landed and duly entered at the custom-house at said port, and that the duties imposed thereon by the laws of the country in which the port is situated have been fully paid or secured to be paid (Form No. 154). The fact that the oaths of the master and mate (Form No. 153) are wanting in a landing-certificate does not debar the Consul from authenticating such certificate, he being satisfied that the same is correct.

682. For the discharge of export bonds covering the exportation of articles manufactured in part from domestic alcohol, under the provisions of the twentieth section of the act of March 3, 1879, the same proof of shipment and like certificates, or other evidence of the landing of the manufactured articles at a foreign port, are required as in the case of bonds given to secure the exportation of imported merchandise withdrawn from warehouse.

683. For the discharge of export bonds covering articles exported in bond under the internal-revenue laws of the United States, the importer must produce and deliver to the proper collector of customs, within the time limited in each bond, a landing-certificate embracing, in addition to the evidence required in other cases, evidence of the following description, viz.:

684. (1.) The certificate of the chief revenue officer or collector of the foreign port (appended to the foregoing) under the hand and seal of that officer, certifying that the merchandise described has been landed, weighed, and duly entered at the custom-house at said port, and that the duties imposed thereon by the laws of the country in which the port is situated have been fully paid, or secured to be paid (Form No. 154).

685. (2.) The certificate of the Consular Officer of the United States residing at such port certifying to the truth of the statements set forth in the certificate of the consignee, and also that the person signing the foregoing certificate is the chief revenue officer of the port, and that his signature is genuine (Form No. 151).

686. Where there is no United States Consular Officer residing at the foreign port of landing and delivery, this verification will be signed by two American merchants, if any such reside there, and in failure of both of these, by two respectable foreign merchants, in which case the blank must be filled up with the words "nor American merchants" (Form No. 152).

A register of landing-certificates is required to be kept by Consular Officers in the form given in Form No. 134.

REPORTS TO THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

571. It is the duty of every Consular Officer to furnish to the Secretary of the Treasury, as often as shall be required, the prices-current of all articles of merchandise usually exported to the United States from the port or place in which he shall be located. They are also requested to transmit, at least once a month, if opportunity offers, to the Secretary of State and to the* Comptroller of the Treasury, the rates of exchange, and also a statement of the rates at which any depreciated currency of the country in which they reside is computed in United States or Spanish dollars, or in silver or gold coins of other countries, observing in all cases of an estimate of the value of the currency in such foreign coins that their weight and standard should be made known to the Department.

572. Consular Officers will also report monthly to the Treasury Department the rates of exchange prevailing between the ports or places at which they reside and the following places, to wit, London, Paris, Amsterdam, and Hamburg; also New York, and other principal ports in the United States; and they will keep the Department regularly and fully advised of the course and progress of trade from the several ports of their Consulates to the United States.

* The first Comptroller of the Treasury.

573. Consular Officers will forward regularly, and as often as practicable, directly to the general appraisers residing at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and San Francisco, such prices-current, manufacturers' statements of prices, or merchants' printed circulars of prices, and such other general information as may be useful to appraisers in the discharge of their duties. They will include in their several reports, in detail, information on any other points which they may think proper, in order to an ascertainment of the value of merchandise forwarded to the United States, and the assessment of the legal duties, forwarding any printed or other documents which they may think desirable that the Department should possess.

CONSULAR SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE statutes of the United States classify the Consulates General, Consulates, and Commercial Agencies into three classes: 1. Those embraced in a schedule known as Schedule B, the incumbents of which receive a fixed salary, and are not allowed to transact business. 2. Those embraced in a schedule known as Schedule C, the incumbents of which receive a fixed salary, and are allowed to transact business. 3. All other Consulates, the incumbents of which are compensated by the fees collected in their offices, and are allowed to transact business. Under the Act of June 11, 1874, the Consulates in Schedules B and C are subdivided into seven classes, according to salary, Schedule C embracing all of Class 7. The classification is indicated by the number annexed to each Consulate.

TREASURY CIRCULAR,

RELATIVE TO THE GUANO ISLANDS APPERTAINING TO THE UNITED STATES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

TO COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS:

You will find hereto annexed a corrected list of the Guano Islands, bonded under the Act of August 18, 1856, as appears by the bonds and papers, transmitted from the Department of State, now on file in the office of the First Comptroller of the Treasury.

The several islands named and described in said list having been duly bonded, and considered by the President of the United States "as appertaining to the United States," in manner and form prescribed by said Act, and, as a consequence thereof, brought under the laws regulating the coasting trade, your attention is directed to the same with a view to the proper enforcement of these laws regulating intercourse with said islands.

By the first proviso of the second section of the above-named Act [11 Stat., p. 119.] it is provided:

"That no guano shall be taken from said islands, rock, or key, except for the use of citizens of the United States, or of any person resident therein." [For partial suspension of this prohibition, see second section of the Act of July 28, 1866.]

It is further provided by the aforesaid second section, that "The introduction of guano from said islands, rocks, or keys, shall be regulated as the coasting trade between the different parts of the United States, and the same laws shall govern the vessels concerned therein."

And, as the laws of the United States forbid foreign vessels from engaging in the coasting trade, and as commercial intercourse with these islands thus form a part of said trade, you are hereby requested to use all due vigilance to prevent the infraction of any law or regulation upon that subject.

H. McCULLOCH,

Secretary of the Treasury.

EXTRACTS FROM POST-OFFICE ACTS.

(U. S. REVISED STATUTES.)

SEC. 3912. The rate of United States postage on mail-matter sent to or received from foreign countries with which different rates have not been established by postal convention or other arrangement, when forwarded by vessels regularly employed in transporting the mail, shall be ten cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof on letters, unless reduced by order of the Postmaster General; two cents each on newspapers; and not exceeding two cents per each two ounces, or fraction thereof, on pamphlets, periodicals, books, and other printed matter, which postage shall be prepaid on matter sent and collected on matter received; and, to avoid loss to the United States in the payment of balances, the Postmaster General may collect the unpaid postage on letters from foreign countries in coin or its equivalent.

SEC. 3913. All letters conveyed by vessels not regularly employed in carrying the mail shall, if for delivery within the United States, be charged with double postage, to cover the fee paid to the vessel.

SEC. 3916. To facilitate letter correspondence, and to provide for the transmission in the mails, at a reduced rate of postage, of messages, orders, notices, and other short communications, either printed or written in pencil or ink, the Postmaster General is authorized and directed to furnish and issue to the public, with postage-stamps impressed upon them, "postal cards," manufactured of good, stiff paper, of such quality, form, and size as he shall deem best adapted for general use; which cards shall be used as a means of postal intercourse, under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Postmaster General, and when so used shall be transmitted through the mails at a postage charge of one cent each, including the cost of their manufacture.

SEC. 3986. No person shall carry any letter or packet on board any vessel which carries the mail otherwise than in such mail, except as provided in section three thousand nine hundred and ninety-three; and for every such offence the party offending shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars.

SEC. 3987. No vessel departing from the United States for any foreign port shall receive on board or convey any letter or packet originating in the United States which has not been regularly received from the post-office at the port of departure, and which does not relate to the cargo of such vessel, except as provided in section three thousand nine hundred and ninety-three; and every collector, or other officer of the port empowered to grant clearances, shall require from the master of such vessel, as a condition of clearance, an oath or affirmation that he has not received on board, has not under his care or control, and will not receive or convey any letter or packet contrary to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3988. No vessel arriving within any port or collection district of the United States shall be allowed to make entry or break bulk until all letters on board are delivered at the nearest post-office, and the master thereof has signed and sworn to the following declaration, before the collector or other proper customs officer:

"I, A. B., master of the —, arriving from —, and now lying in the port of —, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have, to the best of my knowledge and belief, delivered at the post-office at —, every letter, and every bag, packet, or parcel of letters, which were on board the said vessel during her last voyage, or which were in my possession or under my power or control."

And any master who shall break bulk before he has delivered such letters, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars, recoverable, one-half to the officer making the seizure, and the other to the use of the United States.

SEC. 3989. Any special agent of the Post-Office Department, when instructed by the Postmaster General to make examinations and seizures, and the collector or other customs officer of any port,* without special instructions, shall carefully search all vessels for letters which may be on board, or which have been conveyed contrary to law.

SEC. 3990. Any special agent of the Post-Office Department, collector, or other customs officer, or United States marshal or his deputy, may at all times seize all letters and bags, packets or parcels, containing letters which are being carried contrary to law on board any vessel or on

* "Importations through the Mail.—The Postmaster General complains that registered letters and packages received through the mail from foreign countries are seized and detained by the collector of customs at the port in the United States at which they first arrive, and requests that measures shall be taken to prevent such alleged violation of the postal laws.

"It has been agreed that collectors shall not require postmasters to deliver to them any letter or package addressed to a person residing at another port or place where a customs officer is stationed. A careful inspection, however, should be made by the postmaster, and, if any such letter or package be suspected to contain dutiable articles, the postmaster at the place of destination should be notified, in order that he may inform the proper officer of the customs. Such letters and packages should be opened in the presence of an officer of the customs by the person to whom addressed, and any dutiable article contained therein, not mentioned in a postal convention applicable, should be seized and held to await the decision of this department, upon any application which may be made for a mitigation of the forfeiture incurred."—(Treasury Circular, November 26, 1873. Syn. Series, No. 1723.)

any post-route, and convey the same to the nearest post-office; or may, by the direction of the Postmaster General or Secretary of the Treasury, detain them until two months after the final determination of all suits and proceedings which may, at any time within six months after such seizure, be brought against any person for sending or carrying such letters.

SEC 3991. Every package or parcel seized by any special agent of the Post-Office Department, collector, or other customs officer, or United States marshal or his deputies, in which any letter is unlawfully concealed, shall be forfeited to the United States, and the same proceedings may be had to enforce the forfeiture as are authorized in respect to goods, wares, and merchandise forfeited for violation of the revenue laws; and all laws for the benefit and protection of customs officers making seizures for violating revenue laws shall apply to officers making seizures for violating the postal laws.

SEC 3992. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the conveyance or transmission of letters or packets by private hands without compensation, or by special messenger employed for the particular occasion only.

SEC. 3993. All letters inclosed in stamped envelopes, if the postage-stamp is of a denomination sufficient to cover the postage that would be chargeable thereon if the same were sent by mail, may be sent, conveyed, and delivered otherwise than by mail, provided such envelope shall be duly directed and properly sealed, so that the letter cannot be taken therefrom without defacing the envelope, and the date of the letter or of the transmission or receipt thereof shall be written or stamped upon the envelope. But the Postmaster General may suspend the operation of this section upon any mail-route where the public interest may require such suspension.

SEC. 3995. Any person who shall knowingly and wilfully obstruct or retard the passage of the mail, or any carriage, horse, driver, or carrier carrying the same, shall, for every such offence, be punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 3996. Any ferryman who shall delay the passage of the mail by wilful neglect or refusal to transport the same across any ferry shall, for every ten minutes such mail may be so delayed, be liable to a penalty of ten dollars.

SEC. 5465. Any person who shall forge or counterfeit, or knowingly utter or use any forged or counterfeited postage-stamp of any foreign government, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor of not less than two nor more than ten years.

MARCH 3, 1879.

(U. S. STATUTES AT LARGE, VOL. XX., p. 355.)

CHAP. 180.—An Act making Appropriations for the Service of the Post-Office Department for the fiscal Year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and eighty, and for other Purposes.

SEC. 7. That mailable matter shall be divided into four classes:

- First, written matter;
- Second, periodical publications;
- Third, miscellaneous printed matter;
- Fourth, merchandise.

SEC. 8. Mailable matter of the first class shall embrace letters, postal cards, and all matters wholly or partly in writing, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 9. That on mailable matter of the first class, except postal cards and drop letters, postage shall be prepaid at the rate of three cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof; postal cards shall be transmitted through the mails at a postage charge of one cent each, including the cost of manufacture; and drop letters shall be mailed at the rate of two cents per half ounce or fraction thereof, including delivery at letter carrier offices, and one cent for each half ounce or fraction thereof where free delivery by carrier is not established. The Postmaster General may, however, provide, by regulation, for transmitting unpaid and duly certified letters of soldiers, sailors, and marines in the service of the United States to their destination, to be paid on delivery.

SEC. 10. That mailable matter of the second class shall embrace all newspapers and other periodical publications which are issued at stated intervals, and as frequently as four times a year, and are within the conditions named in sections twelve and fourteen.

SEC. 11. Publications of the second class, except as provided in section twenty-five, when sent by the publisher thereof, and from the office of publication, including sample copies, or when sent from a news agency to actual subscribers thereto, or to other news agents, shall be entitled to transmission through the mails at two cents a pound or fraction thereof, such postage to be prepaid, as now provided by law.

SEC. 12. That matter of the second class may be examined at the office of mailing, and if found to contain matter which is subject to a higher rate of postage, such matter shall be charged with postage at the rate to which the inclosed matter is subject: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prohibit the insertion in periodicals of advertisements attached permanently to the same.

SEC. 13. That any person who shall submit, or cause to be submitted, for transportation in the mails, any false evidence to the postmaster relative to the character of his publication, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall for every such offence be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

SEC. 14. That the conditions upon which a publication shall be admitted to the second class are as follows:

First. It must regularly be issued at stated intervals, as frequently as four times a year, and bear a date of issue, and be numbered consecutively.

Second. It must be issued from a known office of publication.

Third. It must be formed of printed paper sheets, without board, cloth, leather, or other substantial binding, such as distinguish printed books for preservation from periodical publications.

Fourth. It must be originated and published for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, the sciences, arts, or some special industry, and having a legitimate list of subscribers: Provided, however, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to admit to the second class rate regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates.

SEC. 15. That foreign newspapers and other periodicals of the same general character as those admitted to the second class in the United States may, under the direction of the Postmaster General, on application of the publishers thereof or their agents, be transmitted through the mails at the same rates as if published in the United States. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to allow the transmission through the mails of any publication which violates any copyright granted by the United States.

SEC. 16. That publishers of matter of the second class may, without subjecting it to extra postage, fold within their regular issues a supplement; but in all cases the added matter must be germane to the publication which it supplements; that is to say, matter supplied in order to complete that to which it is added or supplemented, but omitted from the regular issue for want of space, time, or greater convenience, which supplement must in every case be issued with the publication.

SEC. 17. That mail matter of the third class shall embrace books, transient newspapers, and periodicals, circulars, and other matter wholly in print (not included in section twelve), proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and manuscript copy accompanying the same, and postage shall be paid at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fractional part thereof, and shall fully be prepaid by postage-stamps affixed to said matter. Printed matter other than books received in the mails from foreign countries under the provisions of postal treaties or conventions shall be free of customs duty; and books which are admitted to the international mails, exchanged under the provisions of the Universal Postal Union Convention, may, when subject to customs duty, be delivered to addresses in the United States under such regulations for the collection of duties as may be agreed upon by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General.

SEC. 18. That the term, "circular" is defined to be a printed letter, which, according to internal evidence, is being sent in identical terms to several persons. A circular shall not lose its character as such when the date and the name of the addressed and of the sender shall be written therein, nor by the correction of mere typographical errors in writing.

SEC. 19. That "printed matter" within the intendment of this act is defined to be the reproduction upon paper, by any process except that of handwriting, of any words, letters, characters, figures, or images, or of any combination thereof, not having the character of an actual and personal correspondence.

SEC. 20. That mailable matter of the fourth class shall embrace all matter not embraced in the first, second, or third class, which is not in its form or nature liable to destroy, deface, or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person of any one engaged in the postal service, and is not above the weight provided by law, which is hereby declared to be not exceeding four pounds for each package thereof, except in case of single books weighing in excess of that amount, and except for books and documents published or circulated by order of Congress, or official matter emanating from any of the departments of the government, or from the Smithsonian Institution, or which is not declared non-mailable under the provision of section thirty-eight hundred and ninety-three of the Revised Statutes, as amended by the act of July twelfth, eighteen hundred and seventy-six, or matter appertaining to lotteries, gift concerts, or fraudulent schemes or devices.

SEC. 21. That all matter of the fourth class shall be subject to examination and to a postage charge at the rate of one cent an ounce or fraction thereof, to be prepaid by stamps affixed. If any matter excluded from the mails by the preceding section of this act, except that declared non-mailable by section thirty-eight hundred and ninety-three of the Revised Statutes as amended, shall, by inadvertence, reach the office of destination, the same shall be delivered in accordance with its address: Provided, That the party addressed shall furnish the name and address of the sender to the postmaster at the office of delivery, who shall immediately report the facts to the Postmaster General. If the person addressed refuse to give the required information, the postmaster shall hold the package subject to the order of the Postmaster General. All matter declared non-mailable by section thirty-eight hundred and ninety-three of the Revised Statutes as amended, which shall reach the office of delivery, shall be held by the postmaster at the said office subject to the order of the Postmaster General.

SEC. 22. That mailable matter of the second class shall contain no writing, print, mark, or sign thereon or therein in addition to the original print, except as herein provided, to wit, the name and address of the person to whom the matter shall be sent, and index figures of subscription book, either written or printed, the printed title of the publication, the printed name and address of the publisher or sender of the same, and written or printed words or figures, or both, indicating the date on which the subscription to such matter will end. Upon matter of the third class, or upon the wrapper inclosing the same, the sender may write his own name or address thereon, with the word "from" above and preceding the same, and in either case may make simple marks intended to designate a word or passage of the text to which it is desired to call attention. There may be placed upon the cover or blank leaves of any book or of any printed matter of the third class a simple manuscript dedication or inscription that does not partake of the nature of a personal correspondence. Upon any package of matter of the fourth class the sender may write or print his own name and address, preceded by the word "from," and there may also be written or printed the number and names of the articles inclosed; and the sender thereof may write or print upon or attach to any such articles, by tag or label, a mark, number, name, or letter, for purpose of identification.

SEC. 23. That matter of the second, third, or fourth class, containing any writing or printing other than indicated in the preceding section, or made in the manner other than therein indicated, shall not be delivered except upon the payment of postage for matter of the first class, deducting therefrom any amount which may have been prepaid by stamps affixed to such matter; and any person who shall conceal or inclose any matter of a higher class in that of a lower class, and deposit, or cause the same to be deposited, for conveyance by mail, at a less rate than would be charged for both such higher and lower class matter, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a penalty of ten dollars: Provided, however, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent publishers of the second class and news agents from inclosing, in their publications, bills, receipts, and orders for subscription thereto; but such bills, receipts, and orders shall be in such form as to convey no other information than the name, location, and subscription price of the publication or publications to which they refer.

SEC. 24. That the Postmaster General may prescribe, by regulation, the manner of wrapping and securing for the mails all packages of matter not charged with first class postage, so that the contents of such packages may be easily examined; and no package, the contents of which cannot be easily examined, shall pass in the mails, or be delivered at a less rate than for matter of the first class.

SEC. 25. That publications of the second class, one copy to each actual subscriber residing in the county where the same are printed, in whole or in part, and published, shall go free through the mails; but the same shall not be delivered at letter-carrier offices, or distributed by carriers, unless postage is paid thereon at the rate prescribed in section thirteen of this act: Provided, That the rate of postage on newspapers, excepting weeklies, and periodicals not exceeding two ounces in weight, when the same are deposited in a letter-carrier office for delivery by its carriers, shall be uniform at one cent each; periodicals weighing more than two ounces shall be subject, when delivered by such carriers, to a postage of two cents each, and these rates shall be prepaid by stamps affixed.

SEC. 26. That all mail-matter of the first class upon which one full rate of postage has been prepaid, shall be forwarded to its destination, charged with the unpaid rate, to be collected on delivery; but postmasters, before delivering the same, or any article of mail-matter upon which prepayment in full has not been made, shall affix, or cause to be affixed, and cancelled, as ordinary stamps are cancelled, one or more stamps equivalent in value to the amount of postage due on such article of mail-matter, which stamps shall be of such special design and denomination as the Postmaster General may prescribe, and which shall in no case be sold by any postmaster, nor received by him in prepayment of postage.

SEC. 33. That so much of this act as is embraced in sections four to thirty-one, both inclusive, shall take effect from the first day of May, 1879; and all acts, or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Every postmaster who shall issue a postal note, under the authority of the Postmaster-General, shall make the same payable to the bearer, when duly receipted, at any money-order office which the remitter thereof may select, and a postal note shall in like manner be payable to bearer when presented at the office of issue; and after a postal note has once been paid, to whomsoever it has been paid, the United States shall not be liable for any further claim for the amount thereof; but a postal note shall become invalid and not payable upon the expiration of three calendar months from the last day of the month during which the same was issued; and the holder, to obtain the amount of an invalid postal note, must forward it to the superintendent of the money-order system at Washington, District of Columbia, together with an application in such manner and form as the Postmaster-General may prescribe, for a duplicate thereof, payable to such holder; and an additional fee of three cents shall be charged and exacted for the issue of the duplicate.

And all blanks, blank-books, and printed or engraved matter supplied to postmasters by the Postmaster-General or used in his department for the transaction of the money-order business shall be obtained from the lowest responsible bidders for furnishing printed and engraved matter, respectively, under separate advertisements calling for proposals to furnish the same for a period of four years, upon such conditions as the Postmaster-General may prescribe: Provided, That the Public Printer and the Chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing of the Treasury Department shall submit, respectively, estimates of the cost of furnishing such printed and engraved matter as may be required for use in the money-order business, and they shall furnish such printed and engraved matter whenever upon their estimates of cost the expenditure therefor will be less than upon proposals made as above provided for.

SEC. 5. That the Auditor of the Treasury for the Post-Office Department shall, as soon as practicable after the close of the present fiscal year, transmit to the Postmaster-General a statement of the aggregate amount of all money-orders which at the beginning of said year shall have remained unpaid for a period of seven years or more after the date of their issue, and as soon as practicable after the close of each fiscal year thereafter he shall transmit in like manner a statement of the aggregate amount of all money-orders and postal notes which at the commencement of such year shall have remained unpaid for less than eight and not less than seven years after the date of their issue; and the Postmaster-General shall cause the aggregate amount of such unpaid order, and postal notes as reported annually by the Auditor to be deposited in the Treasury, to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States, for the service of the Post Office Department. But nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the payment, out of current money-order funds, by duplicate issue under the authority of the Postmaster General, of any lost or invalid money-order or of any invalid postal note more than seven years old, upon the presentation of satisfactory proof to the Postmaster-General of the ownership of such money-order or upon the production of such invalid postal note in accordance with the provisions of section one of this act; and the total amount of such lost or invalid money-orders and invalid postal notes more than seven years old paid during each year by duplicate shall be deducted from the aggregate amount of unpaid money-orders and postal notes to be deposited at the close thereof in the Treasury as hereinbefore provided.

MANIFESTS AND CLEARANCES.

C I R C U L A R

To Collectors and Surveyors of Customs on the Northern, Northeastern, and Northwestern Frontiers of the United States.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, September 26, 1865.

IN order to secure uniformity in the practice of Customs Officers on our northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers, in regard to manifests and clearances, this Department deems it advisable to issue the following instructions:

The second section of the Act of July 14, 1862 (12th Stat., 572, Chap. CLXIX), authorizes "Collectors and Surveyors of the collection districts on the said frontiers to keep on sale blank manifests and clearances required for the business of their districts;" and it is the duty of these officers to see that these documents are in proper form and properly executed.

By the first section of the same Act (12th Stat., 571), the master or manager of a vessel, enrolled or licensed for carrying on the coasting trade on these frontiers, is required, "before the departure of his vessel from any port," to "file a manifest of his cargo with the collector, and obtain a clearance;" which clearance, it is the custom generally, to indorse on a duplicate of the manifest.

If the vessel, on her passage, touches at any intermediate port of the United States, and there either lades or unloads any goods, the master or manager is, by the same section, required to report to the collector of such intermediate port such arrival, and produce his manifest (the duplicate above referred to), and the collector (of the intermediate port) is required to certify on such manifest a description of the goods so laden or unladen at his port, and return the manifest to the master or manager; and when the vessel arrives at the port at which the unloading of her cargo is completed, the master or manager must deliver to the collector there the manifest, "to be placed on file in his office." As this act does not define the nature or form of the documents in question, we must refer to prior enactments for light.

By the third section of the Act of March 2, 1831 (4th Stat., 487, Rev. Laws, 346), entitled "An Act to regulate the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers of the United States, and for other purposes," which section provides for the enrolment and license of vessels navigating the waters on those frontiers otherwise than by sea, and authorizes them "to be employed either in the coasting or foreign trade," these vessels are made, "in every other respect, liable to the rules, regulations, and penalties now (March 2, 1831) in force, relating to registered vessels on our northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers."

What are those "rules, regulations, and penalties," touching the subject under consideration?

The one hundred and sixth section of the Collection Act of 1799 (1st Stat., 702, Rev. Laws, 133) provides that all vessels and vehicles arriving in districts on those frontiers with dutiable goods, shall be provided with "like manifests," and that "like entries shall be made;" and that "the powers and duties of officers of the customs shall be exercised and discharged in like manner" as prescribed by the same act in regard to importations "in vessels from the sea."

The requisites of such manifests, as defined by the twenty-third section of the same act (1st Stat., 644, Rev. Laws, 77), are:

1st. That they shall be in writing, and signed by the master or other person in charge of the vessel: and shall set forth—

2d. The names of all ports and places of embarkation and destination of the cargo.

3d. The "name, description, built, tonnage," and home port of the vessel.

4th. The names of the owners of the vessel, according to her register; the name of the master or other person in charge; the names of consignees, and description of consignments to order, set forth in the bills of lading; and the names of all passengers, distinguishing between cabin and steerage.

5th. A just and particular account of all goods on board, with the marks and numbers thereof; an account of remaining sea-stores, if any; and a particular description of the baggage of each passenger.

It will be your duty, of course, to examine carefully the section itself for more particular information.

The one hundred and eleventh section of the same act (1st Stat., 704, Rev. Laws, 134), provides "That in cases where the forms of official documents, as prescribed by this act, shall be substantially complied with and observed, according to the true spirit, meaning, and intent thereof, no penalty or forfeiture shall be incurred by a deviation therefrom."

There appears to be but little difficulty in ascertaining what was meant by the act of July 14, 1862, as respects vessels of the United States arriving at our ports on the frontiers referred to, with dutiable goods; and although the status of such vessels going from district to district, with goods exclusively of the growth or manufacture of the United States, is not equally clear, there seems to me to be no doubt that, in regard to both classes of vessels, duplicate manifests of the whole cargo, substantially as prescribed by the twenty-third section of the act of 1799, are required to be delivered to the collector of the port of departure—one of which is to be filed in his office, and the other returned to the master, with a clearance indorsed thereon; that arrivals at intermediate ports are to be reported, and goods laden or unladed there to be entered on the manifest remaining in the master's hands; and that this manifest is to be filed at the port where the unloading is completed. That, as to the form and execution of the manifest, it is sufficient, if the spirit of the law be complied with; that the one great object of the act of 1799 was to secure the payment of duties on foreign importations, and when there is no reason to suppose, from the papers or transactions of masters, that they designed to evade or thwart that object, they are not to incur penalties or forfeitures by a deviation from the prescribed forms; that the penalty upon the owners for neglecting to file manifest, obtain clearance, report arrival and lading or unlading of goods at intermediate ports, or to deliver manifest to be filed at the port of destination, as required by the first section of the said act of July 14, 1862, is a fine of one hundred dollars, imposed by the sixth section of the "act to prevent smuggling," &c, passed June 27, 1864 (13th Stat., 198), and that no penalty is imposed by either of these two sections for unlading goods without a permit.

The penalty for unlading foreign goods without a permit is prescribed by the fiftieth section of the act of 1779 (1st Stat., 665, Rev. Laws, 96), the provisions of which, as we have seen, are extended to ports on our northern frontiers by the one hundred and sixth section of the same act. There seems to be no authority for imposing a penalty upon coasting vessels on those frontiers for unlading, without a permit, goods of the growth or manufacture of the United States. Such, at least, was the law prior to the passage of the Act of June 17, 1864 (13th Stat., 134), which repeals the act of 1831, above referred to, and changes the phraseology of the proviso to the third section thereof, so as to read "Provided, that such boat, sloop, or vessel shall be, in every other respect, liable to the rules, regulations, and penalties now in force, relating to registered and licensed vessels." Does the first section of this act containing this proviso change the prior law? I think not. The general laws in regard to licensed vessels are so different from those regulating registered vessels, that to hold the vessels on our northern frontiers subject to both, would involve the question in endless difficulties and absurd conflicts. The concluding words of the proviso must, in my opinion, be taken in a restricted sense, and held to mean the rules, regulations, and penalties then in force relating to United States vessels navigating the waters of those frontiers otherwise than by sea, and authorized by their papers to engage in both the foreign and coasting trade; and this trade I hold to be in no way governed by the Coasting Act of 1793.

As the Secretary of the Treasury alone is vested with authority to prescribe regulations and remit penalties under these acts, customs officers should correspond directly with him upon questions relating to the same.

H. McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

MISCELLANEOUS

DECISIONS AND REGULATIONS.

1. IMPORTED foreign fabrics, bleached and printed in the United States, do not thereby become manufactures of the United States, so as to be legally exempt from duty on re-importation into the United States. (Tr. Reg., 1857, p. 571.)

2. Dutiable merchandise imported into the United States, and afterwards exported, although it may have paid duty on the first importation, is liable to duty on every subsequent importation into the United States. (R. R., pt. iv., art. 149; see also Regs. 1864, art. 467.)

3. Manufactures in this country from foreign material, if exported with drawback or return duty, are dutiable if re-imported. (S. S., 1037.)

4. Articles cannot be withdrawn from warehouse for repair, with privilege to export in bond, free of duty. (S. S., 1347.)

5. Domestic alcohol in bond cannot be transferred to manufacturing bonded warehouse, to use in manufacture of medicinal preparations for export, without prepayment of internal revenue tax. (S. S., 1839.)

6. Old sheathing metal taken from the bottom of a foreign vessel at Demerara, and imported on it to the United States, held to be dutiable, although of domestic manufacture and placed on the bottom of the vessel here. (S. S., 1783.)

7. Samples of Goods. The class of articles under this title, considered by the Department as admissible free of duty, must be only such as small strips or pieces of silk, cotton, or other fabric; small quantities of raw material, and, generally, articles of any description having little or no intrinsic value as merchandise; in regard to which the proper officers of the customs, in their examinations, are to exercise a reasonable discretion; it being understood that articles of a certain value, although imported under the designation of samples, such as pieces of carpeting, which from their size and form are suitable for and sold as rugs, or bedsides, etc., cannot be exempted from the payment of duty. On their arrival, they must be sent to the appraiser's office for examination. (Tr. Reg., p. 582.)

Certain so-called samples, consisting of pieces of worsted reps, suitable for small shawls, cravats, and other purposes, and having, therefore, an actual commercial value, were held to be subject to duty. (S. S., 1385.)

b. Samples Accompanying Invoices.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, July 29, 1876.

The following circular letter, issued by the Department of State, is published for the information and guidance of customs officers:

“DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, July 10, 1876.

“To the Consular Officers of the United States in Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Belgium, and Germany.

“GENTLEMEN: The Secretary of the Treasury, in a letter to this Department, has represented that the samples of merchandise to be imported into the United States from the countries above mentioned, which are usually deposited in the consulate, would be of greater service, in preventing frauds on the revenue, if the whole or a portion of them were forwarded to the collector of the port to which the merchandise is destined, at the same time with the triplicate invoice. It is stated that it does not appear to be expedient to require samples of all merchandise specified in the invoices, to be forwarded in this manner; but that it will be sufficient to transmit, with the triplicate invoice, when practicable, the samples (or a portion of the samples in each case) that are usually deposited at the consulates, under existing regulations, or which may properly be called for by the consul in his discretion, where reason therefor exists, and where the same can conveniently be sent. It is further stated that it is not expected that samples of considerable bulk or weight, or of a fragile nature, should ordinarily be forwarded; and that in cases of doubt whether a sample should be attached to the invoice, the decision may be left to the discretion of the consular officer.

“The course above set forth being recommended for adoption by the Secretary of the Treasury, you are instructed to comply therewith so far as may be possible in respect of invoices and samples at your several consulates, and do what may be in your power to assist the revenue officers of the Government in the direction referred to, by requesting samples in cases where they may be useful, and forwarding the same.

“I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
(Signed)

“JOHN L. CADWALADER,
“Assistant Secretary.”

The samples forwarded by consular officers under the instructions contained in the circular, should, so far as practicable, be finally placed with the proper invoices filed in the collector's office. (S. S., 2909.)

Models or samples capable of being used for other purposes, such as castings for carriage hardware fit for use in the manufacture of carriages, although intended for use as models for patterns, are dutiable. (S. S., 2156.)

So are pattern cards, of merchantable value, evidenced by separate charges made thereon in the invoice. (S. S., 2353.)

The Preservation of Samples of Dutiable Merchandise.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, August 19, 18

On and after the first of September proximo, appraisers of merchandise in the several customs districts will be required to retain samples of all silks, woollens, linens, dress and other piece goods; also of all other articles examined and appraised by them, paying ad valorem duties, samples of which, in the judgment of the appraisers, may be conveniently taken and retained without serious detriment to the interests of the importer.

Samples of piece goods should be of a size sufficient to show the width and texture of the article. All samples taken and retained in pursuance hereof should be labelled and carefully filed in the appraiser's office subject to inspection and examination by officers to be assigned to that duty by the Department.

Blank forms of labels to be used for this purpose will be furnished by the Department. (S. S. 2930.)

c. Sample Cards.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, November 11, 1876.

The following circular, issued by the State Department, is published for the information of officers of the customs and others:

"DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, D. C., October 16, 1876.

"To the Consular Officers of the United States in Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Belgium, and Germany.

"GENTLEMEN: The Secretary of the Treasury, in a letter of the 7th instant, refers to the subject of samples of merchandise to be imported into the United States from the countries above mentioned, which are usually deposited in the consulate, and to which your attention was called by a circular of the 10th of July last, marked 'Separate,' and has stated that these samples have commenced to arrive at the various custom-houses of the United States, and that some are so attached to the triplicate invoices as to seriously impair their condition, while others are forwarded separately upon sample cards and so indorsed as to establish their identity with the invoices which accompany them. This latter system of samples, it is stated, is regarded as most suitable for the purposes of the customs officers, and the Secretary of the Treasury has requested that instructions upon the subject may be addressed to you.

"You are, therefore, directed to forward, in future, all samples in the manner suggested, where it is possible to do so, and, to aid you in doing so, I inclose herewith a form of card, to which the samples are to be attached in any proper way, and by which you will be governed when practicable.

"The samples should not, as a rule, exceed the size of the card, which measures seven and a quarter inches long and four inches wide, and where the sample exceeds in size the dimensions of the card, the latter should be attached to the sample, with a tag or otherwise.

"I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

"JOHN L. CADWALADER,
"Assistant Secretary."

Any material departure, by consular officers, from the practice directed in this circular, or that alluded to in Department's Circular No. 94, current series, may be reported by officers of the customs, to the end that the matter may be brought to the attention of the Secretary of State, if thought proper by the Department.

Collectors of Customs and others.

Secretary.

9. Sea stores. a. "An excess of sea stores in vessels arriving from foreign ports, and all articles purchased abroad for sale on board a vessel as saloon stores or supplies, are dutiable and must be duly entered on arrival." (Regs., 1874, art. 481.)

f. No damage allowed on salt, for dirt or other foreign matter not received on voyage of importation. (S. S., 2955.)

12. Vessels and materials for. a. The materials of a condemned foreign vessel, broken up and dismantled in the United States, whether used in the United States or exported, are not an importation within the meaning of the law, and therefore not dutiable. (S. S., 563.)

c. Foreign vessels losing rudder or stern-post, or breaking shaft, and arriving at a United States port in distress, cannot import others to replace these articles here free of duty. (Sept. 26, 1867, and May 7, 1870, N. Y.)

d. For regulations as to withdrawal of shipbuilding materials under paragraphs 1813-14, see Treas. Regs., 1874, arts. 747 to 755.

e. The words "iron and steel" in 1813 qualify or limit all the articles enumerated in the provision, to wit, "rods, bars, spikes, nails, and bolts." Yellow metal bolts are therefore not included. (S. S., 1532.) But yellow sheathing metal is. (S. S., 1238.)

h. Repairs (including the materials for) made in a foreign port to a United States registered vessel engaged in the foreign and coasting trade by sea, not dutiable. (S. S., 1753.)

13. Importations for Foreign Embassies.—The exemption from duty accorded by comity to all articles intended for the personal or family use of foreign ambassadors, ministers, or charges d'affaires to the United States, is not extended to the importations of secretaries of legation, attachés, or consuls. (July 11, 1866, H. F. S.)

14. Definition.—Per centum additions to or reductions of rates of duty are estimated upon the amount of duty; per centum additions to duties upon imports "ad valorem" are estimated upon the appraised value of the goods. (Oct. 18, 1861, Norfolk.)

15. Force of Departmental Decisions.—When the Secretary of the Treasury has deliberately adopted a certain construction of any particular act of Congress, which construction must necessarily govern the entire administration of his Department so far as it relates to the subject-matter of such act, such construction ought, until set aside by superior power, to have the same binding force as the original act. The Department is in duty bound to adhere to it until thus set aside, and the only authority which it is incumbent upon the Secretary of the Treasury to recognize as such superior power is a decision of the court of last resort, or the repeal, amendment, or legislative construction of the act itself. (S. S., 653.)

Where a decision of the Department is made, either lowering the rate of duty previously exacted, or advancing the same, such decision will be held applicable to all subsequent withdrawals from warehouse, for consumption, of the same kind of goods, notwithstanding that protests and appeals may not have been made against the original liquidations of the entries of the goods. (S. S., 1524.)

16. Articles in Bulk.—Questions having arisen relative to the meaning of the term "articles in bulk," as used in the 29th section of the Act of July 14, 1870, and in section 2990 of the Revised Statutes (see ante, Part I., 1952), relating to the entry of dutiable merchandise for immediate transportation to an interior port without appraisement, the following general rules were prescribed September 25, 1876, for the information and guidance of officers of the customs:

I. The commercial signification of the term "in bulk," viz., that it has reference to such articles as are usually packed or stowed in the importing vessel in a loose state as contradistinguished from "package-goods," or those inclosed in boxes, barrels, bundles, and the like, is, in view of the intent of the act referred to, deemed by the Department as necessarily qualified by the condition annexed to the privilege by the terms of the Act itself, viz., that such an examination of the merchandise may be made as will satisfy the customs officers that the same corresponds with the manifest and invoice.

II. While, therefore, the Department holds generally that only such merchandise as is either inclosed in boxes, barrels, or other outside coverings or wrappers, duly marked and numbered, or put up in separate and distinct bundles or packages, also duly marked and numbered, in such manner as to admit of satisfactory identification, is entitled to the privileges of the Act, it nevertheless reserves the right to designate, from time to time, such particular articles commonly shipped in bulk as may, under suitable conditions, be deemed fairly within the scope and intent of the Act.

III. In accordance with the views above expressed, the Department hereby designates railroad and bar-iron, when the number of rails or bars is duly specified in the consular invoice, and found on examination to be correct, as entitled to the privilege of immediate transportation as aforesaid: Provided, however, That there shall not be any noticeable disparity in the size and weight of the respective rails or bars. (S. S., 2980.)

17. Countable Goods.—The provisions of law imposing duty on certain descriptions of goods, according to the count of threads, apply to all cases where such count can be ascertained with sufficient accuracy for the purpose of classification by means of the magnifying glass commonly used for such purpose.

The fact that goods are not termed in trade "countable goods," will not exclude them from classification for duty according to the count of the threads, provided they come within the rule above stated. (S. S., 1478.)

18. Cotton Linings with Flax Selvage, how classified.—Cotton linings, manufactured with a few threads of flax in the selvage, which, however, did not change the commercial character of the goods, were held to be dutiable as countable cottons. (S. S., 1787.)

19. Steam Dredge dutiable on Importation.—A floating steam dredge, self-propelling, to be used in various harbors, would be required upon importation to pay duty, after which it could be transported from one harbor to another for the purpose mentioned. (S. S., 1380.)

20. Additional and Discriminating Duties.—Goods remaining in warehouse over a year without payment of duty, are subject to the additional duty of ten per cent., although the withdrawal entry was initiated within the year. (S. S., 1534.)

21. Carrying-trade on Northern Frontiers.—Although the Regulations of 1874 (Art. 247) provide for the shipment of merchandise in cars, to be transported across Canadian territory, they do not authorize the reimportation, free of duty, of domestic merchandise, carried from an American port in Canadian steamers to be transhipped by steamers or cars through Canada to another American port. (S. S., 1858.)

22. Internal Transportation.—Free goods, part of an importation intended for an interior port, may be forwarded to destination under the internal transportation laws, paragraphs 1952 to 1955. (S. S., 1831.)

23. Immigrants' Effects.—The Attorney-General of the United States having given an opinion that the limitation of $500 as to household effects, specified in section 22 of the Act of July 14th, 1870, ceased to be of any force at the period when the provision in the 5th section of the Act of June 6th, 1872, for household effects took effect, the Department concurred therein, and thereupon decided that household effects of persons arriving in the United States from foreign countries, which were in use abroad for not less than one year, and which are not intended for any other person or persons, nor for sale, were exempt from duty, without limitation as to value. (S. S., 1814.)

Personal effects of immigrants must be imported within six months before or after the owner's arrival. (S. S., 1296. See also "Carriages," etc., post, No. 194.)

24. Measurement of Lumber.—"Board measure" being synonymous with "inch measure," all sawed lumber subject to duty by the 1000 feet "board measure," whether over or under one inch thick, should be reduced to inch measure for the assessment of duty thereon. (S. S., 1770.)

25. Invoices of Earthenware which merely give the aggregate value of the several crates without specifying the items contained therein, not being such as are required by law, will, when presented, be treated as null and void, and entry of the earthenware refused until proper invoices are obtained and produced by the importers (the merchandise in the meantime being treated as unclaimed), or it may be admitted upon giving bonds to produce proper invoices. (S. S., 1292.)

26. Salt for Curing Fish.—Seal skins being held to be the product of fisheries, salt may be withdrawn for curing the same, under the limitations prescribed in 1890. (S. S., 1276.)

But not so as to salt to be used in curing or preserving "pogie chum" or other fish for the manufacture of manures or fertilizers therefrom, the Department holding the provision to be limited to salt used in the curing of fish for consumption as food. (S. S., 1815.)

27. Certified invoices, used to make entry at ports of first arrival, cannot again be used, except for reference, at interior ports of destination, to make entry for consumption. Such invoice is part of the record, and cannot be withdrawn or separated therefrom. (S. S., 1892.)

28. Machinery, chiefly of iron and wood, though having small portions of steel, does not necessarily take the classification of a manufacture of steel; but retains that of a manufacture of iron or wood according to the leading material. Separable values or parts of steel should however pay duty as manufactures of steel. (S. S., 1893.)

29. Entry by Appraisement is forbidden under 871, 872, except as to personal effects accompanying the passenger, and as to importations of merchandise valued at $100, or less. (S. S., 1904.)

30. Colcothar and Venetian Red are separate and distinct articles of commerce; colcothar being a dry oxide of iron produced by chemical action (but not chemically pure), containing small quantities of lime, sulphuric acid, and sulphate of lime as impurities, while Venetian red is a native or prepared oxide of iron, ground with twenty-five to forty per centum of whiting to make it fit for use as a paint. Colcothar is much heavier and darker in color than Venetian red, and of nearly triple its value in England. (S. S., 1912.)

31. Whale oil not wholly the product of American fisheries is dutiable. (S. S., 2887.)

32. Fish the Product of the Inland Lakes.—The Department has recently had under consideration the question as to what description of fish are the products of the inland lakes lying between the United States and Canada, and of the rivers flowing into them, as distinguished from fish which are the products of the sea-fisheries of Canada, with a view of establishing some practical guide by which collectors of customs may determine under certain circumstances, from the character of the fish themselves, without regard to other proofs, whether they are or are not entitled to free entry under the Treaty of Washington.

The following extract from a communication addressed to the Department by Professor Spencer F. Baird, United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, under date of the 10th instant, embodies the desired information:

"So far as relates to the fishes of the inland lakes and of the rivers running into them, likely to be imported into the United States, there is but little difficulty, these consisting of brook trout, the salmon trout, the land-locked salmon, the white-fish, the lake herring (a species of white-fish), the muscalunge or large pike, the sturgeon, and the black bass, although the brook trout, the muscalunge, the sturgeon, and the black bass are frequently found elsewhere than within the limits mentioned.

"Possibly the simplest rule to apply would be that of excluding from free entry all fish from points west of Montreal, unless they can be shown to have been captured in the St. Lawrence River, east of Lake Ontario.

"Fish shipped from points east of Montreal, and on the Atlantic seaboard, would, in reasonable probability, be entitled to free entry, unless they embrace salmon trout, white-fish, lake herring, or cisco, which are exclusively found in lakes or their inlets, and therefore, unless under very exceptional circumstances, would be necessarily dutiable.

"I am unaware whether the provisions of the treaty embrace fresh fish as well as those that are prepared for temporary preservation. If fresh fish come in free, then the subject is very much simplified, as, so far as my knowledge extends, it is only the white-fish and the lake trout that are ever offered in a salted condition, the other species commanding a much higher price as fresh fish. The fish which are strictly maritime, about which there would never be any question, are the mackerel, cod, haddock, hake, pollock, cusk, whiting, and ling, as also the sea trout from Newfoundland and Labrador."

These views are not absolutely mandatory upon collectors of customs, but are published for their information, with the expectation that they will be applied as far as practicable. (S. S., 2862.)

33. Miniature Compasses of metal and glass, unset, not exclusively used for personal ornaments, are not jewelry, but manufactures of glass, dutiable at 40 per cent. ad valorem. (S. S., 2905.)

34. Calf- and Cow-hair goods.—October 26, 1876, the Department ruled: "First, That all manufactures commercially known as calf-hair goods may now be safely and properly assumed to contain some admixture of wool, varying in percentage according to the grade of the article; and Secondly, That whether they contain wool or not, the Department can no longer consistently refrain from enforcing the provisions of section 2499 of the Revised Statutes," see ante, Part I, par. 903,) "under which such goods must, by reason of their resemblance, and the uses to which they are applied, be assimilated, for tariff purposes, to manufactures, in whole or in part of wool." (S. S., 3011.)

35. Entry of Fish from Newfoundland.—"The Treaty of Washington does not prescribe the channel or mode of importation of articles made free under it. Fish from Newfoundland passing through the St. Lawrence River to a United States port are free, without restriction as to such mode of transit." (S. S., 1930.)

36. Granite, Definition of Term.—"The Department has uniformly sustained the construction, that the term 'granite,' as used in the law defining the duty on building-stone, only applies to unmanufactured or undressed granite." (S. S., 1938.)

37. Manufactures of Wool or Hair.—"The Department holds that all manufactures of wool or hair, the product of goats or other like animals, are necessarily included under the terms of Schedule L, Title 33, Act of June 22, 1874, and that the manufactures of hair described in Schedule M of the same title and act, as dutiable at 30 per cent. ad valorem, relate wholly to manufactures associated with the terms given in that schedule, that is, to hair seating, crinoline cloth, or manufactures of the same material." (S. S., 1940.)

38. Withdrawal of Materials for Ship-building.—"The intent of section 10 of the Act of June 6, 1872, was clearly limited to the aid its terms afforded to ship-building and the employment of American vessels. For this purpose the materials therein named were to be so employed free of duty, but on ceasing to have such relation the claim to exemption from duty ceases. To secure the continued recognition of this relation, the Department directs the transfer to a vessel's register of the indorsement of release of duty entered on any warehouse bond because of the withdrawal of materials for such vessel's use." (S. S., 1960.)

39. Professional Books of a Journalist.—Books relating to public policy and pending national and general questions are embraced as such and free. But not books of poetry and fiction. (S. S., 1988.)

40. Dutiable Values.—No valuation on the basis of the cost to manufacture an article in any foreign country can be admitted in any case. (S. S., 1999.)

41. Old Sheathing Metal, not shown to have been removed from vessel for necessary repairs, or if such metal is not actually worn out, the conditions fail under which exemption from duty can be admitted. (S. S., 2007.)

42. Embroidered Dresses.—"Manufactures designed for use as clothing, or articles of a finished character, are certainly not included in embroideries, if the material is either silk or wool, the only open question being, whether they are so included, if of linen. The Department adheres, however, to the distinction long recognized as applicable to embroideries, applying it only to articles in which the embroidery constitutes the leading characteristic, and the embroidery work is the chief element of value."

"Linen or silk dresses embroidered for mere ornamentation, and in which the value of the material, apart from the embroidery, is largely in excess of the value of the embroidery, distinctively, must continue to be classified as manufactures of linen or silk respectively." (S. S., 2027.)

43. Lumber, Walnut and Pine.—Ordinary black walnut lumber (sawed) is not one of the distinctive woods known in commerce as a cabinet wood, although used for similar purposes. (S. S., 2044.) Pine lumber (sawed) is dutiable at $2 per one thousand feet. (S. S., 2103.)

44. Undervaluation of Goods, Additional Duty on.—"To an inquiry as to the basis upon which additional duty shall be assessed where goods are undervalued in excess of ten per cent., the Department replied as follows:

"Section 2909 of the Revised Statutes provides that there shall be 'levied and collected on such merchandise 20 per cent. of the duty imposed on the same when fairly invoiced.' This section seems to have been taken verbatim from the Act of August 30, 1842, section 17 (5 Stat., 548), except that there is a change in the percentage of additional duty to be imposed."

"The Act of March 3, 1865, section 7, under which additional duty for undervaluation was assessed prior to the passage of the Revised Statutes, is also found embodied in section 2900 of the latter."

"Under the circumstances, the Department will continue to recognize the Act of 1865, reproduced in section 2900 of the Revised Statutes, as still in force in all respects, without regard to any apparent conflict between its provisions and those of section 2909, which question must be left to the courts to determine." (S. S., 2069.)

45. Canadian Building Stone imported by contractors with the United States for the sale and delivery of the same within the United States is dutiable at $1.50 per ton. (S. S., 2090.)

46. Circular relative to Free Entry of Personal Effects of Tourists and others arriving from Abroad. (S. S., 2119.)

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, February 23, 1875.

The attention of this Department has been called to the impression widely prevailing, that articles purchased for personal use of tourists, or persons returning to the United States from foreign countries, are exempt from duty if designed solely for personal use, and not intended for sale.

The several provisions of law admitting articles free, when accompanying the person, or for personal use, are the following:

"Books, professional, of persons arriving in the United States."

"Books, household effects, or libraries, or parts of libraries, in use of persons or families from foreign countries, if used abroad by them not less than one year, and not intended for any other person or persons, or for sale."

"Personal and household effects, not merchandise, of citizens of the United States dying abroad."

"Wearing apparel, in actual use, and other personal effects, not merchandise, professional books, implements, instruments and tools of trade occupation, or employment, of persons arriving in the United States. But this exemption shall not be construed to include machinery or other articles imported for use in a manufacturing establishment, or for sale."

It will be seen that, so far as wearing apparel is concerned, only those articles which have been in actual use are exempted from duty, although in many cases this exemption has been applied to all articles of wearing apparel belonging to and contained in the baggage of the owner, whether new or old. New articles of clothing, which have not been in actual use abroad, and not necessary for the present comfort or convenience of the owner, are chargeable with duty; and the fact that they are intended for the future use of the person who brings them, or of another person, and are not for sale, does not exempt them from duty.

Tourists and passengers are, therefore, cautioned to observe the proper care, when arriving with articles claimed to be free as personal effects, in making a separate statement of their effects which have been in actual use abroad from those which are new, in order that the customs officers may readily decide what portions are liable to or exempt from duty.

B. H. BRISTOW,
Secretary of the Treasury.

47. Grain imported to be ground is dutiable. (S. S., 2157.)

48. An importation at any time during the day on which an act embracing it takes effect is dutiable thereunder. (S. S., 2168.)

49. Materials for the manufacture of regalia for religious societies are dutiable. (S. S., 2180.)

50. Furniture and tackle of vessels wrecked in American waters, free. (S. S., 2188.)

51. Internal transportation of goods valued under $100, and unaccompanied by a certified invoice, is not allowed. (S. S., 2211.)

52. Reshipment in bond of goods transported to port of delivery is not allowed. (S. S., 2212.)

53. Tobacco-box Shooks.—Sycamore lumber cut into lengths, and packed in shooks for tobacco-boxes, should be classified under 1146, in accordance with assimilation rules of 908. (S. S., 2226.)

54. Commission on Cutlery.—The commission to be added to invoices of cutlery is the rate actually paid, when it is 2½ per cent. or over; but under 1869 must in no case be less than 2½ per cent. Where commissions are omitted from the invoice a penalty of 100 per cent. in addition must be imposed under 876. (S. S., 2233.)

55. Machinery of vessels landed for repairs is not dutiable. (S. S., 2255.)

56. The internal tax to be imposed on reimportations of domestic products under section 2500 of the Revised Statutes is that in force at the date of reimportation. (S. S., 2260.)

57. Machinery of American vessels wrecked in foreign waters and sold is dutiable on reimportation. (S. S., 2282.)

58. Compound manufactures, which can be separated readily, should be separately classified for duty. (S. S., 2300.)

59. Costs of Cartage, Labor, and Storage.—Where from the variety of the contents of several cases of merchandise, and the imperfect designation in the invoice, it becomes necessary to order all, instead of one, for examination, for correct assessment of duty, the expense must be paid by the owner in accordance with 1888. (S. S., 2343.)

60. Embroidered wool polonaise patterns are dutiable under 1162, as manufactures wholly or partly of wool. (S. S., 2352.)

61. Animals of superior breed, imported for breeding purposes, although too young for such use at the time of importation, are free if intended therefor in future. (S. S., 2860.)

62. Breakage.—"The reduction of 5 per cent. allowed," under 2043, "is to be made from the number of cases specified in the invoice, and no duty is to be assessed either on the wine, bottles, or packing included in such reduction. The same result would be reached by assessing duty on the entire invoice, and then deducting 5 per centum from the amount thus ascertained." (S. S., 2280.)

63. Plaster statuary for churches is dutiable. (S. S., 2385.)

64. Dutiable value of goods purchased in bond in Canada.—"The Department, after due consideration, has concluded to acquiesce in the decision of the United States Circuit Court, and reverse its former instructions accordingly. The dutiable value of malt imported from Canada will, therefore, hereafter be taken at its value in bond in that country, when it shall satisfactorily appear that the article was purchased in bond. The same rule will be held applicable to tea, coffee, wine, etc., exported from England to the United States, which are chargeable with duty on their entry into consumption in that country, but which is not exacted on the exportation thereof from bond, and also to any other importation similarly situated." (S. S., 775.)

65. Entry and Clearance Fees of Small Vessels.—The practice of levying fees for the entry and clearance of boats under 5 tons, trading with Canada, is approved by the Department. (S. S., 2410.)

66. Wire Gauge.—"Stubbs's Birmingham," the standard. (S. S., 2438.)

67. Scotch Granite Monuments.—For special directions as to invoicing, see S. S., 2456.

68. Marking of Damaged Goods.—For rules, see S. S., 2458 and 2565.

69. Weights of Smyrna.—See ante p. 50 of Part IV.

70. A horse sold by a citizen of the United States to a foreigner, who took him to Canada to train for racing, and then returned and sold him in the United States at a greatly increased price, held not to be entitled to free entry under 1482. (S. S., 2487.)

71. American sheep, owned by United States citizen, taken to Mexico shorn, to be pastured there and returned with wool grown, exempt under 1482. (S. S., 2492.) But contra, as to wool if shorn abroad and imported. (S. S., 2538.)

72. "Base Bullion."—So-called ores of silver from Mexico, being mixed metals, the product of ores smelted or refined, in which the base metals greatly preponderate, should be classified according to the preponderance of weight and quantity. (S. S., 2507.)

73. Excess of Weight.—For regulations for allowance of, see S. S., 2513.

74. American hoop-iron, exported as strapping or ties for cotton bales, and returned, is not exempt from duty under 1482. (S. S., 2525.)

75. American teams, wagons, etc., taken to Canada for temporary employment, with notice of intention to return, admitted free under 649 on their return. (S. S., 2528.) Also American powder in damaged condition. (S. S., 2755.)

76. Wrecks, goods recovered from, are not entitled to free entry under 1807, unless the vessel itself is raised. (S. S., 2979.)

77. Tin cans filled with petroleum are not weighable within the meaning of Section 3024, Revised Statutes, and consequently not subject to the payment of 3 cents per 100 pounds for weighing.

The average weight of the two sizes of tin plates used in their manufacture is found to be, for those of 14 by 20, 107 pounds, and for those of 10 by 20, 156 pounds per box, which average may be taken for the basis of computation of the drawback on the cans. (S. S., 2579.)

78. Cotton Thread, Allowance for Increase in Weight.—Upon investigation it is found that the weight of cotton thread varies from one to one and a half per cent., according to the condition of the atmosphere, and that no uniform invoice weight can be given of such thread shipped from Europe to this country.

To ascertain the true weight on which duties should be levied in case of importation from Europe of such thread, or of cotton yarn, you will, when an importation is found to exceed in weight the amount noted in the invoice, allow not exceeding one per cent. for increase in weight caused by absorption of moisture on the voyage, provided there is no reason to suspect fraud or error in the invoice. (S. S., 2590.)

79. Penal duty, under paragraphs 1862 and 1871, ante Part I., for undervaluation, does not apply where the increase of dutiable value is consequent upon an underestimate of the foreign currency in which the invoice is made out (S. S., 2593.) For rules as to penal duty for undervaluation of parts of invoices, see S. S., 2722.

80. Regalia.—Costumes and accessories, used by the schools of design and art, are not free as regalia under 1726. (S. S., 2677.)

81. Machinery is dutiable according to the materials of which it is manufactured, so that if it be entirely composed of iron, wood and brass, without any steel whatever, it pays 35 per cent. ad valorem; but if it is an entirety and possesses steel as a component part, no matter how small the proportion, it is liable to duty at the rate of 45 per cent. ad valorem, as a manufacture in part of steel. (S. S., 2692. See also S. S., 2361.)

82. Mineral Waters.—The Department having information that artificial mineral waters in bottles are often entered free of duty as natural, orders that all invoices of so-called natural waters should be accompanied by certificates from the shippers abroad showing that they are, in fact, natural waters, and specifying the spring or springs which produce the same. (S. S., 2973.)

83. Ale, Beer and Porter Bottles.—For rules as to capacity, see table of "Miscellaneous Weights and Measures," ante, p. 51 of Part IV.

84. Importations through the Mail.—The General Postal Union, concluded at Berne, October 9, 1874, is not construed by the Treasury Department as exempting from customs duty books or articles received in the mails from postal union countries, which, by the laws of the United States, are subject to duty; or as changing in any particular the course of proceedings for the collection of customs duties on such articles, prescribed by Section 52 of the Post Office Regulations, as modified by the order of the Postmaster-General, dated the 9th of July, 1875, and embodied in the printed decision of this Department, No. 2375.

Collectors and other officers of the customs are therefore instructed to treat all importations of salable books, and of music and other printed matter imported for sale, as if such importations consisted of ordinary merchandise. (S. S., 2812.)

85. American Grain Bags Returned from Abroad.—In addition to the requirements of the Department's circular of February 17, 1875 'Synopsis No. 2110', the following regulations are issued for the purpose of enabling customs officers to ascertain the identity of grain bags claimed to be exempt from payment of duty under the provisions of the Act of February 8, 1875:

On the exportation of grain bags, either filled or empty, the collector shall require the quantity, marks and numbers to be stated on the outward manifest of the exporting vessel in such a manner as to enable them to be identified on their return to the United States.

On the return of bags claimed to be exempt from duty, which have been exported after these instructions go into effect, the importer shall be required to declare in his entry the name of the exporting vessel, the date of the shipper's outward manifest, and the marks and numbers on the bags offered for entry.

The appraiser shall, in every case, report the marks and numbers found on the imported bags to the collector, who will compare the same with the marks and numbers stated in the outward manifest of the exporting vessel, or with a copy thereof obtained from the collector at the port of exportation, and, if such marks and numbers do not agree, free entry of the bags will be refused.

If the bags are returned to the port from which they were originally exported, the quantity, marks and numbers shall be indorsed on the outward manifest, and, if they are returned to another port, the collector at the port of exportation will be advised, in order that indorsement may be made on the outward manifest at his port.

The importer will also be required to declare, under oath, that no drawback or bounty has been allowed on the exportation of the bags for which free entry is claimed, which declaration shall be attached to the entry.

These regulations will take effect on the date of their receipt at the several ports. (S. S., 2839, June 5, 1876.)

86. Ships' pumps imported for a vessel built in the United States are not entitled to privilege of free entry under 1813. (S. S., 2954.)

87. Lay figures imported by religious societies are not exempt from duty as regalia. (S. S., 2956.)

88. The importation of brandy, in cases, comprising one or two imitation barrels of glass, of a capacity of one or two gallons each, is prohibited and subjects the same to forfeiture. But contra, if one dozen of the same are contained in each case, or if each of the glass barrels were of a capacity of fourteen gallons. (S. S., 2952.)

89. Regulations under Reciprocity Treaty with the Hawaiian Islands.—Under the convention for commercial reciprocity between the United States and His Majesty the King of the Hawaiian Islands, concluded on the 30th day of January, 1875, and promulgated by the President of the United States on the 3d day of June, 1875, the Act of Congress approved August 15, 1876, to carry the same into effect, and the proclamation of the President dated September 9, 1876, it is provided, among other things, that the following specified goods, wares and merchandise, of the growth, manufacture or production of the Hawaiian Islands, shall be introduced into the ports of the United States, free of duty, from and after the date of the President's proclamation declaring that he has evidence that the legislature of the Hawaiian Islands have passed laws on their part to give full effect to the provisions of said convention, and so long as the same shall remain in force, viz.: "arrowroot; castor oil; bananas, nuts, vegetables, dried and undried, preserved and unpreserved; hides and skins undressed; rice; pulu; seeds, plants, shrubs, or trees; muscovado, brown, and all other unrefined sugar, meaning hereby the grades of sugar heretofore commonly imported from the Hawaiian Islands and now known in the markets of San Francisco and Portland as 'Sandwich Island sugar;' syrups of sugar-cane, melado, and molasses; tallow."

I. Such goods, wares or merchandise, of the growth, production or manufacture of the Hawaiian Islands, will be admitted free, as above provided for; but before allowing such admission, collectors of customs will require importers or consignees to produce proper invoices thereof, with affidavits of the owner or shipper at such islands attached thereto, accompanied by certificates of a consular officer of the United States in one of the following forms, as the case may require:

FORM No. —.

Foreign Owner's Oath in cases where goods have not been actually purchased.

I, A. B., do solemnly and truly swear, that the invoice now produced and hereunto annexed contains a true and faithful account of the goods, wares, and merchandise therein described, at their market value, at ———, at the time the same were (procured or manufactured, as the case may be) and of all charges thereon; that said invoice contains no discounts, bounties or drawbacks but such as have been actually allowed; and that said goods, wares and merchandise are the growth, product, or manufacture of the Hawaiian Islands.

(Signed)

A. B.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, at ———, the ——— day of ——— 18—; and I do further certify that I am satisfied that ———, who subscribes the foregoing oath, is the person he represents himself to be; that he is a credible person; and that the statements made by him under said oath are true.

(Signed)

_____,
[Signature of proper Consular Officer.]

II. In case there is no consular officer of the United States at or near the port of shipment, the said certificates shall be made by two respectable merchants or inhabitants of the place, and the affidavits may be taken before a local magistrate or other officer duly authorized to administer oaths.

Collectors will also require importers or consignees of such goods to file at the custom-house, in addition to such evidence, their own affidavits, certifying that, to the best of their knowledge, information and belief, the goods are of the growth, production or manufacture of the Hawaiian Islands; and may also require the production of such further evidence as they may deem necessary to protect the revenue from fraud.

III. The exemption from duty herein provided for does not apply to any goods, wares or merchandise in bonded warehouse, or imported into the United States prior to September 9, 1876, the date of the President's proclamation, stating that he has received satisfactory evidence that the legislature of the Hawaiian Islands have passed laws on their part to give effect to the convention aforesaid.

IV. Collectors will see to it that all goods, wares and merchandise claimed to be free of duty under such convention are, upon entry, duly examined and appraised with the same care and thoroughness as goods which are liable to duty.

V. Collectors are also instructed that the privileges of the said convention and law apply only to goods, wares, and merchandise, the growth, product or manufacture of the Hawaiian Islands, when imported directly from such Islands. (Treasury Circular, of September 11, 1876, S. S., 2962.)

90. Railway tickets imported from Canada are dutiable. (S. S., 2965.)

91. Certain writing-desks, work-boxes, and travelling companions, of wood and leather, and having either small glass ink bottles or mirrors of little value attached, held to be dutiable as manufactures of wood and leather. (S. S., 2967.)

92. Entry of Packed Packages.—The Department holds that the Act of May 1, 1876, "to provide for the separate entry of packages contained in one importation, is designed to enable the owner of one or more parcels making part of one or more 'packed packages' to make an entry of his own property without entering more."

"That such entry shall contain a declaration of the whole number of parcels contained in all 'packed packages' in which the person making the entry has a parcel."

"That such entry need not state the value of any parcel not the property of the importer, consignee, or owner making such entry, nor of the whole of such 'packed packages,' the first section of the act expressly relating to 'packed packages' concerning which no invoice or statement of contents or values has been received."

"The entry shall state the value of the whole number of parcels in all 'packed packages' consigned in one vessel, at one time, to one ultimate owner, and if such value be over one hundred dollars, an invoice shall be filed as required by section 9, chap. 39, vol. 18, Acts of 1874." (S. S., 2968.)

93. Exported tin cans, upon which drawback has been allowed, are dutiable on reimportation. (S. S., 2972.)

94. Carriages of immigrants, though old and in use, are not entitled to free admission unless necessary to the act of immigration of the owner. (S. S., 2028, 2901.)

"The actual and necessary use of a horse, carriage and other conveyance, on the part of an immigrant, both before and after his act of immigration, determines the question of admission free of duty, although at the time of entry into the United States the same may be conveyed in a railroad car, or may be temporarily separated from the person of the owner." (S. S., 1929.)

"In a decision of September last, Synopsis, 1929, the Department defines the meaning of the terms 'in actual use for immigration' to mean such use as was necessary in enabling the immigrant or his family, or his effects, to reach a railroad car in which he would pass the boundary, after which he would again necessarily use the teams and harness for the purpose of travelling to any part of the United States. This seemed a reasonable construction of the law admitting the effects of immigrants free of duty, when they necessarily belong to their immediate use." (S. S., 2056.)

95. Free Entry of Domestic Productions Exported and Returned.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, October 4, 1876.

In consequence of the frequent applications made to the department for a waiver, in whole or in part, of the requirements of the Regulations of 1874, in regard to the free entry of articles of domestic growth, production or manufacture, when returned to the United States, such applications being in many cases caused by lack of familiarity with such requirements, the following existing regulations are published for the information of all concerned, viz.:

Clearance of Vessels to Foreign Ports.

"ARTICLE 183. Before a clearance can be granted by the collector to a vessel bound to a foreign port or place, the owners, shippers or consignors of the cargo on board of such vessel shall deliver to the collector manifests of the parts thereof shipped by them respectively, and verify the same by their oath or affirmation.

"Such manifests must specify the kinds and quantities of the articles shipped by them respectively, the value of the total quantity of each kind of articles, and the destination thereof.

"The oath or affirmation must state that the manifest contains a full, just and true account of all articles laden on board of such vessel by the owners, shippers or consignors respectively, and of the foreign place or country in which the same is truly intended to be landed, and that the values of such articles are truly stated according to their actual cost, or the values which they truly bear at the port and time of exportation."

Free Entry of Articles returned.

"ARTICLE 373. Articles of the growth, production, or manufacture of the United States, duly exported to a foreign country and brought back in the same condition as when exported, and upon which no drawback or bounty has been allowed, are entitled to entry free of duty.

"ARTICLE 374. If brought back to the port of original exportation, the fact of regular clearance for its foreign destination must be shown to the satisfaction of the collector and naval officer by the records of the customs, and by the oath or affirmation of the person or persons having knowledge of the facts, which oath or affirmation will be in the following form:

Oath of Growth or Production.

I, ———, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear [or affirm], that the several articles of merchandise mentioned in the entry hereto annexed are, to the best of my knowledge and belief, truly and bona fide of the growth, production [or manufacture] of the United States, and that they were truly exported and imported as therein expressed, and that no drawback, bounty, or allowance has been paid or admitted thereon, or in any part thereof.

PORT OF ———.

—————, Collector.

"ARTICLE 375. But when the reimportation is made into a port other than that of original exportation from the United States, the law requires, in addition to the foregoing oath, the production of a certificate, showing the exportation thereof, from the collector and naval officer, if any, of the port where the exportation was made.

"ARTICLE 376. If the foregoing certificate cannot at once be procured, and the proof otherwise required to be made, free entry will be permitted on bond being given . . . with sureties to the satisfaction of the collector of the district of reimportation, in a sum equal to what the duties on the merchandise would be if it were not of the production, growth, or manufacture of the United States.

"ARTICLE 377. To guard against fraud on the revenue and insure identity, the collector shall require, in addition to proof of clearance, the production of a statement, certified by the proper officer of the customs, at the foreign port from which the reimportation was made, of the fact that such merchandise was imported into that country from the United States in the condition in which it is returned: the certificate of such foreign customs officer being authenticated by the consul of the United States.

"In cases where there is no such officer at the foreign port of exportation, a certificate of the foreign recipient of the goods, or of his representative, having knowledge of the facts, duly authenticated by the consul of the United States, may be admitted in lieu thereof; but if it be impracticable to produce either of the certificates referred to in this article at the time of making entry, entry may be admitted on bond being given for the production thereof.

"ARTICLE 378. In default of observance of the foregoing requirements, merchandise purporting to be privileged, as aforesaid, will be considered and treated as foreign, and, if dutiable, subjected to payment of duties."

Collectors of customs are requested to direct, so far as practicable, the attention of parties concerned to the regulations above set forth.

COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS AND OTHERS.
(S. S., 2990.)

CHAS. F. CONLINT,
Acting Secretary.

96. Unsealed packages of music by foreign mail may be seized by a customs officer at the United States exchange office of receipt, or elsewhere, under the following regulation of the Post-office Department:

"The provisions of amended Regulations No. 82, issued by the Post-office Department on the 9th of July, 1875, require that sealed letters or packages which are suspected to contain dutiable articles must not be unreasonably delayed at the exchange office of receipt, but forwarded to the office of destination, stamped with the words 'suspected liable to customs duty;' but with respect to unsealed packages which are positively known to inclose dutiable articles, the regulation provides that 'when an unsealed package is found on examination to contain an article or articles liable to customs duty, it should be delivered to the proper officer of the customs, and the postmaster should inform the person to whom it is addressed of its arrival in the mails, and its delivery to the customs officers." (S. S., 3001.)

97. Coral, beads and bead necklaces of, are dutiable as beads under 396. (S. S., 3003.)

98. The sample labels, supplied by the Department for the filing of samples of important merchandise, may have noted thereon the number of the pertinent invoice, the invoice designation or description of the merchandise, and any other particulars which the appraisers may deem of use. (S. S., 2991.)

99. Goat-skin Rugs.—Goat-skins cut in such forms that when attached they would constitute a rug, and the pieces forming each separate rug rolled by themselves, held to be dutiable as "rugs," at 45 per cent. ad valorem. (S. S., 2825, 3063.)

100. Books printed on American paper in foreign countries, dutiable same as if the paper were of foreign mfr. (S. S., 3065.)

101. Cording and Sealing.—Art. 640 of Regulations of 1874 revived; and Circular 118 of September 15, 1876, revoked. (S. S., 3092.)

102. Packing of Cigars.—5000 cigars contained in 55 boxes, merely tied together by strong twine, and in such manner that any one box in the "package" could be taken out without cutting or untying the cord, were held not to constitute a "package" within the meaning of Sec. 2504, Rev. Stat. (par. 1838), and not entitled to entry. (S. S., 3141.)

103. Tin cans, manufactured in the United States, of foreign material, exported with drawback, filled with domestic salmon, and returned in same condition, are dutiable, not under 2051, but under 1067, at 35 per cent. ad valorem; the contents being free under 1482, and not as fish eo nomine. (S. S., 3221.)

104. Australian Wool.—"Although used for combing purposes, and known as cross-breed combing wool, yet, not being of full English blood, as required under the provisions of Class 2, and containing a large portion of Merino, say perhaps one-half, it brings its classification in under the last clause of Class No. 1, which reads, 'and also including all wools not hereinafter described or designated in classes two and three.'" (S. S., 3304.)

105. Correction of Errors.—Protest and appeal are in no case required in advance of liquidation, and errors may be corrected at any time prior thereto, without protest and appeal, and excessive duties refunded. (S. S., 3308.)

106. Machinery, Iron and Steel.—Where the several parts are readily separable for classification, they are to be separately valued for duty as mfrs. respectively of iron or steel. (S. S., 3319.)

107. Saddles, Old and in Use.—Not free as either "household" or "personal effects," under 1514 or 1793. (S. S., 3321.)

108. Additional Duty.—"In estimating undervaluation only those different items should be included in the calculation which relate to articles of the same general character, description, and material, and the uses and purposes of which are substantially the same." In an invoice of cotton edgings and linen edgings the former were advanced over 10 per cent., but the advance was not equal to 10 per cent. upon both. Held, that, as the materials are different, the additional duty attaches. (S. S., 3346.)

But penal duty does not attach in cases where, after entry and appraisement, an undervaluation of over 10 per cent. is discovered, excepting on actual re-examination and re-appraisement. (S. S., 3299.)

109. Separate Classification.—Portions of chandeliers of brass and glass, separately packed and invoiced, held to be entitled to separate classification. (S. S., 3347.)

110. The following, although not a "Treasury decision," is inserted for convenient reference:

In the case of Morius vs. Arthur, (5th Otto, p. 147,) Mr. Justice Hunt said: "We find in examining the statutes imposing duties on foreign importations, that generally the highest duty is imposed on the most expensive articles of the same class, and that articles of luxury are taxed higher than those of necessity. In regard to the particular article of japanned leather, strictly an article of luxury, used by the rich only, we find that Congress has usually imposed upon it a higher duty than it has imposed on ordinary leather, an article of strict necessity for the purposes of clothing, and of almost equal necessity in the mechanic arts."

111. A Silver Statue, on marble block, and not the work of a sculptor or artist, dutiable as a manufacture of silver under 1065. (S. S., 1876.)

APPENDIX.

THE ORGANIC LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE—1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the Thirteen United States of America.

WHEN, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining, in the mean time, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislature.

He has effected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states;

* For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offences;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the forms of our government;

For suspending our own legislature, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries, to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved, and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION—1777.

To all to whom these Presents shall come, we the undersigned delegates of the States affixed to our Names send greeting.

Whereas the Delegates of the United States of America in Congress assembled did on the fifteenth day of November in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy-Seven, and in the Second Year of the Independence of America, agree to certain articles of Confederation and perpetual Union between the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, in the words following, viz.

“Articles of Confederation and perpetual union between the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

ARTICLE I. The style of this confederacy shall be “The United States of America.”

ART. II. Each State retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled.

ART. III. The said States hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other, for their common defence, the security of their liberties, and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to, or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretence whatever.

ART. IV. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different States in this Union, the free inhabitants of each of these States, paupers, vagabonds, and fugitives from justice excepted, shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several States; and the people of each State shall have free ingress and regress to and from any other State, and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions as the inhabitants thereof respectively, provided that such restrictions shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any State, to any other State of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided also that no imposition, duties, or restriction shall be laid by any State, on the property of the United States, or either of them.

If any person guilty of, or charged with, treason, felony, or other high misdemeanor, in any State, shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall, upon demand of the governor or executive power of the State from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the State having jurisdiction of his offence.

Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these States to the records, acts, and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other State.

ART. V. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed in such manner as the legislature of each State shall direct, to meet in Congress on the first Monday in November, in every year, with a power reserved to each State to recall its delegates, or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead, for the remainder of the year.

No State shall be represented in Congress by less than two, nor by more than seven members; and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years in any term of six years; nor shall any person, being a delegate, be capable of holding any office under the United States, for which he or another for his benefit, receives any salary, fees, or emolument of any kind.

Each State shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the States, and while they act as members of the committee of the States.

In determining questions in the United States in Congress assembled, each State shall have one vote.

Freedom of speech and debate in Congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court, or place out of Congress; and the members of Congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments, during the time of their going to and from, and attendance on Congress, except for treason, felony, or breach of the peace.

ART. VI. No State, without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance, or treaty with any king, prince, or state; nor shall any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state; nor shall the United States in Congress assembled, or any of them grant any title of nobility.

No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation or alliance whatever, between them, without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

No State shall lay any imposts or duties, which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties entered into by the United States in Congress assembled, with any king, prince, or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by Congress to the courts of France and Spain.

No vessels of war shall be kept up, in time of peace, by any State, except such number only, as shall be deemed necessary, by the United States in Congress assembled, for the defence of such State, or its trade; nor shall any body of forces be kept up by any State in time of peace, except such number only as, in the judgment of the United States in Congress assembled, shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defence of such State; but every State shall always keep up a well-regulated and disciplined militia, sufficiently armed and accoutered; and shall provide and have constantly ready for use, in public stores, a due number of field-pieces and tents, and a proper quantity of arms, ammunition, and camp equipage.

No State shall engage in any war without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, unless such State be actually invaded by enemies, or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such State, and the danger is so imminent as not to admit of a delay till the United States in Congress assembled can be consulted; nor shall any State grant commissions to any ships or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be after a declaration of war by the United States in Congress assembled; and then only against the kingdom or state, and the subjects thereof, against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States in Congress assembled; unless such State be infested by pirates, in which case vessels of war may be fitted out for that occasion, and kept so long as the danger shall continue, or until the United States in Congress assembled, shall determine otherwise.

ART. VII. When land forces are raised by any State for the common defence, all officers of or under the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the legislature of each State respectively by whom such forces shall be raised, or in such manner as such State shall direct; and all vacancies shall be filled up by the State which first made the appointment.

ART. VIII. All charges of war and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defence, or general welfare, and allowed by the United States in Congress assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several States in proportion to the value of all land within each State, granted to or surveyed for any person, as such land and the buildings and improvements thereon shall be estimated, according to such mode as the United States in Congress assembled, shall from time to time direct and appoint. The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several States within the time agreed upon by the United States in Congress assembled.

ART. IX. The United States in Congress assembled, shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth article; of sending and receiving ambassadors; entering into treaties and alliances; provided that no treaty of commerce shall be made whereby the legislative power of the respective States shall be restrained from imposing such imposts and duties on foreigners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohibiting the exportation or importation of any species of goods or commodities whatsoever; of establishing rules for deciding, in all cases, what captures on land or water shall be legal, and in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated; of granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace; appointing courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and establishing courts for receiving and determining, finally, appeals in all cases of captures; provided that no member of Congress shall be appointed a judge of any of the said courts.

The United States in Congress assembled shall also be the last resort on appeal in all disputes and differences now subsisting, or that hereafter may arise, between two or more States, concerning boundary, jurisdiction, or any other cause whatever; which authority shall always be exercised in the manner following: Whenever the legislative or executive authority, or lawful agent, of any State in controversy with another, shall present a petition to Congress, stating the matter in question, and praying for a hearing, notice thereof shall be given, by order of Congress, to the legislative or executive authority of the other State in controversy, and a day assigned for the appearance of the parties by their lawful agents, who shall then be directed to appoint, by joint consent, commissioners or judges to constitute a court for hearing and determining the matter in question ; but if they cannot agree, Congress shall name three persons out of each of the United States, and from the list of such persons each party shall alternately strike out one, the petitioners beginning, until the number shall be reduced to thirteen, and from that number not less than seven, nor more than nine, names, as Congress shall direct, shall, in the presence of Congress, be drawn out by lot ; and the persons whose names shall be so drawn, or any five of them, shall be commissioners or judges to hear and finally determine the controversy, so always as a major part of the judges who shall hear the cause shall agree in the determination ; and if either party shall neglect to attend at the day appointed, without showing reasons which Congress shall judge sufficient, or being present shall refuse to strike, the Congress shall proceed to nominate three persons out of each State, and the secretary of Congress shall strike in behalf of such party absent or refusing ; and the judgment and sentence of the court, to be appointed in the manner before prescribed, shall be final and conclusive ; and if any of the parties shall refuse to submit to the authority of such court, or to appear or defend their claim or cause, the court shall nevertheless, proceed to pronounce sentence or judgment, which shall in like manner be final and decisive ; the judgment, or sentence, and other proceedings, being in either case transmitted to Congress, and lodged among the acts of Congress, for the security of the parties concerned : provided that every commissioner, before he sits in judgment, shall take an oath, to be administered by one of the judges of the Supreme or Superior Court of the State where the cause shall be tried, “well and truly to hear and determine the matter in question, according to the best of his judgment, without favor, affection, or hope of reward ;” provided also that no State shall be deprived of territory for the benefit of the United States.

All controversies concerning the private right of soil claimed under different grants of two or more States, whose jurisdiction, as they may respect such lands and the States which passed such grants, are adjusted, the said grants, or either of them, being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement of jurisdiction, shall, on the petition of either party to the Congress of the United States, be finally determined, as near as may be, in the same manner as is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different States.

The United States in Congress assembled shall also have the sole and exclusive right and power of regulating the alloy, and value of coin struck by their own authority, or by that of the respective States ; fixing the standard of weights and measures throughout the United States ; regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the States ; provided that the legislative right of any State within its own limits be not infringed or violated ; establishing and regulating post offices from one State to another, throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office ; appointing all officers of the land forces in the service of the United States, excepting regimental officers ; appointing all the officers of the naval forces, and commissioning all officers whatever in the service of the United States ; making rules for the government and regulation of the said land and naval forces, and directing their operations.

The United States in Congress assembled shall have authority to appoint a committee to sit in the recess of Congress, to be denominated A COMMITTEE OF THE STATES, and to consist of one delegate from each State : and to appoint such other committees and civil officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States under their direction ; to appoint one of their number to preside ; provided that no person be allowed to serve in the office of president more than one year in any term of three years ; to ascertain the necessary sums of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expenses ; to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States, transmitting every half-year to the respective States an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted; to build and equip a navy; to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each State for its quota, in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such State, which requisition shall be binding; and thereupon the legislature of each State shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm, and equip them, in a soldierlike manner, at the expense of the United States; and the officers, and men so clothed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on by the United States in Congress assembled; but if the United States in Congress assembled shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any State should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota, and that any other State should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed, and equipped, in the same manner as the quota of such State, unless the legislature of such State shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same; in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm, and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared; and the officers and men so clothed, armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on, by the United States in Congress assembled.

The United States in Congress assembled shall never engage in a war; nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace; nor enter into any treaties or alliances; nor coin money; nor regulate the value thereof; nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defence and welfare of the United States or any of them; nor emit bills; nor borrow money on the credit of the United States; nor appropriate money; nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased or the number of land or sea forces to be raised; nor appoint a commander-in-chief of the army or navy; unless nine States assent to the same; nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day, be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States in Congress assembled.

The Congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States, so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months; and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances, or military operations as in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each State, on any question, shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a State, or any of them, at his or their request, shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several States.

ART. X. The committee of the States, or any nine of them, shall be authorized to execute, in the recess of Congress, such of the powers of Congress as the United States in Congress assembled, by the consent of nine states, shall, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with; provided that no power be delegated to the said committee, for the exercise of which, by the articles of confederation, the voice of nine states in the Congress of the United States assembled is requisite.

ART. XI. Canada acceding to this confederation, and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this union. But no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states.

ART. XII. All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed, and debts contracted, by or under the authority of Congress, before the assembling of the United States in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof, the said United States, and the public faith, are hereby solemnly pledged.

ART. XIII. Every State shall abide by the determinations of the United States in Congress assembled, on all questions which by this confederation are submitted to them. And the articles of this confederation shall be inviolably observed by every State, and the Union shall be perpetual; nor shall any alteration at any time hereafter be made in any of them ; unless such alteration be agreed to in a Congress of the United States, and be afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every State.

And whereas it has pleased the Great Governor of the world to incline the hearts of the legislatures we respectively represent in Congress, to approve of, and to authorize us to ratify the said articles of confederation and perpetual union. Know ye that we the undersigned delegates, by virtue of the power and authority to us given for that purpose, do by these presents, in the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratify and confirm each and every of the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, and all and singular the matters and things therein contained ; and we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constituents, that they shall abide by the determinations of the United States in Congress assembled, on all questions, which by the said confederation are submitted to them. And that the articles thereof shall be inviolably observed by the States we re[s]pectively represent, and that the Union shall be perpetual.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands in Congress. Done at Philadelphia in the State of Pennsylvania the ninth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and in the third year of the independence of America.

THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT— 1787.

[THE CONFEDERATE CONGRESS, JULY 13, 1787.]

An Ordinance for the government of the territory of the United States north-west of the river Ohio.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the United States in Congress assembled, That the said territory, for the purpose of temporary government, be one district, subject, however, to be divided into two districts, as future circumstances may, in the opinion of Congress, make it expedient.

SEC. 2. Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the estates both of resident and non-resident proprietors in the said territory, dying intestate, shall descend to, and be distributed among, their children and the descendants of a deceased child in equal parts, the descendants of a deceased child or grandchild to take the share of their deceased parent in equal parts among them; and where there shall be no children or descendants, then in equal parts to the next of kin, in equal degree; and among collaterals, the children of a deceased brother or sister of the intestate shall have, in equal parts among them, their deceased parent's share; and there shall, in no case, be a distinction between kindred of the whole and half blood; saving in all cases to the widow of the intestate her third part of the real estate for life, and one-third part of the personal estate; and this law relative to descents and dower shall remain in full force until altered by the legislature of the district. And until the governor and judges shall adopt laws as hereinafter mentioned, estates in the said territory may be devised or bequeathed by wills in writing, signed and sealed by him or her in whom the estate may be, (being of full age,) and attested by three witnesses; and real estates may be conveyed by lease and release, or bargain and sale, signed, sealed, and delivered by the person, being of full age, in whom the estate may be, and attested by two witnesses, provided such wills be duly proved, and such conveyances be acknowledged, or the execution thereof duly proved, and be recorded within one year after proper magistrates, courts, and registers shall be appointed for that purpose; and personal property may be transferred by delivery, saving, however, to the French and Canadian inhabitants, and other settlers of the Kaskaskies, Saint Vincents, and the neighboring villages, who have heretofore professed themselves citizens of Virginia, their laws and customs now in force among them, relative to the descent and conveyance of property.

SEC. 3. Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That there shall be appointed, from time to time, by Congress, a governor, whose commission shall continue in force for the term of three years, unless sooner revoked by Congress; he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in one thousand acres of land, while in the exercise of his office.

SEC. 4. There shall be appointed, from time to time, by Congress, a secretary, whose commission shall continue in force for four years, unless sooner revoked; he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of his office. It shall be his duty to keep and preserve the acts and laws passed by the legislature, and the public records of the district, and the proceedings of the governor in his executive department, and transmit authentic copies of such acts and proceedings every six months to the Secretary of Congress. There shall also be appointed a court, to consist of three judges, any two of whom to form a court, who shall have a common-law jurisdiction, and reside in the district, and have each therein a freehold estate, in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of their offices; and their commissions shall continue in force during good behavior.

SEC. 5. The governor and judges, or a majority of them, shall adopt and publish in the district such laws of the original States, criminal and civil, as may be necessary, and best suited to the circumstances of the district, and report them to Congress from time to time, which laws shall be in force in the district until the organization of the general assembly therein, unless disapproved of by Congress; but afterwards the legislature shall have authority to alter them as they shall think fit.

SEC. 6. The governor, for the time being, shall be commander-in-chief of the militia, appoint and commission all officers in the same below the rank of general officers; all general officers shall be appointed and commissioned by Congress.

SEC. 7. Previous to the organization of the general assembly the governor shall appoint such magistrates, and other civil officers, in each county or township, as he shall find necessary for the preservation of the peace and good order in the same. After the general assembly shall be organized the powers and duties of magistrates and other civil officers shall be regulated and defined by the said assembly; but all magistrates and other civil officers, not herein otherwise directed, shall, during the continuance of this temporary government, be appointed by the governor.

SEC. 8. For the prevention of crimes and injuries, the laws to be adopted or made shall have force in all parts of the district, and for the execution of process, criminal and civil, the governor shall make proper divisions thereof; and he shall proceed, from time to time, as circumstances may require, to lay out the parts of the district in which the Indian titles shall have been extinguished, into counties and townships, subject, however, to such alterations as may thereafter be made by the legislature.

SEC. 9. So soon as there shall be five thousand free male inhabitants, of full age, in the district, upon giving proof thereof to the governor, they shall receive authority, with time and place, to elect representatives from their counties or townships, to represent them in the general assembly: Provided, That for every five hundred free male inhabitants there shall be one representative, and so on, progressively, with the number of free male inhabitants, shall the right of representation increase, until the number of representatives shall amount to twenty-five; after which the number and proportion of representatives shall be regulated by the legislature: Provided, That no person be eligible or qualified to act as a representative, unless he shall have been a citizen of one of the United States three years, and be a resident in the district, or unless he shall have resided in the district three years; and, in either case, shall likewise hold in his own right, in fee-simple, two hundred acres of land within the same: Provided also, That a freehold in fifty acres of land in the district, having been a citizen of one of the States, and being resident in the district, or the like freehold and two years' residence in the district, shall be necessary to qualify a man as an elector of a representative.

SEC. 10. The representatives thus elected shall serve for the term of two years; and in case of the death of a representative, or removal from office, the governor shall issue a writ to the county or township, for which he was a member, to elect another in his stead, to serve for the residue of the term.

SEC. 11. The general assembly, or legislature, shall consist of the governor, legislative council, and a house of representatives. The legislative council shall consist of five members, to continue in office five years, unless sooner removed by Congress; any three of whom to be a quorum; and the members of the council shall be nominated and appointed in the following manner, to wit: As soon as representatives shall be elected the governor shall appoint a time and place for them to meet together, and when met they shall nominate ten persons, resident in the district, and each possessed of a freehold in five hundred acres of land, and return their names to Congress, five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as aforesaid; and whenever a vacancy shall happen in the council, by death or removal from office, the house of representatives shall nominate two persons, qualified as aforesaid, for each vacancy, and return their names to Congress, one of whom Congress shall appoint and commission for the residue of the term; and every five years, four months at least before the expiration of the time of service of the members of the council, the said house shall nominate ten persons, qualified as aforesaid, and return their names to Congress, five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as members of the council five years, unless sooner removed. And the governor, legislative council, and house of representatives shall have authority to make laws in all cases for the good government of the district, not repugnant to the principles and articles in this ordinance established and declared. And all bills, having passed by a majority in the house, and by a majority in the council, shall be referred to the governor for his assent; but no bill, or legislative act whatever, shall be of any force without his assent. The governor shall have power to convene, prorogue, and dissolve the general assembly when, in his opinion, it shall be expedient.

SEC. 12. The governor, judges, legislative council, secretary, and such other officers as Congress shall appoint in the district, shall take an oath or affirmation of fidelity, and of office: the governor before the President of Congress, and all other officers before the governor. As soon as a legislature shall be formed in the district, the council and house assembled, in one room, shall have authority, by joint ballot, to elect a delegate to Congress, who shall have a seat in Congress, with a right of debating, but not of voting, during this temporary government.

SEC. 13. And for extending the fundamental principles of civil and religious liberty, which form the basis whereon these republics, their laws and constitutions, are erected; to fix and establish those principles as the basis of all laws, constitutions, and governments, which forever hereafter shall be formed in the said territory; to provide, also, for the establishment of States, and permanent government therein, and for their admission to a share in the Federal councils on an equal footing with the original States, at as early periods as may be consistent with the general interest.

SEC. 14. It is hereby ordained and declared, by the authority aforesaid, that the following articles shall be considered as articles of compact, between the original States and the people and States in the said territory, and forever remain unalterable, unless by common consent, to wit :

ARTICLE I.

No person, demeaning himself in a peaceable and orderly manner, shall ever be molested on account of his mode of worship, or religious sentiments, in the said territories.

ARTICLE II.

The inhabitants of the said territory shall always be entitled to the benefits of the writs of habeas corpus, and of the trial by jury ; of a proportionate representation of the people in the legislature, and of judicial proceedings according to the course of the common law. All persons shall be bailable, unless for capital offences, where the proof shall be evident, or the presumption great. All fines shall be moderate; and no cruel or unusual punishments shall be inflicted. No man shall be deprived of his liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land, and should the public exigencies make it necessary, for the common preservation, to take any person's property, or to demand his particular services, full compensation shall be made for the same. And, in the just preservation of rights and property, it is understood and declared, that no law ought ever to be made or have force in the said territory that shall, in any manner whatever, interfere with or affect private contracts, or engagements, bona fide, and without fraud previously formed.

ARTICLE III.

Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged. The utmost good faith shall always be observed towards the Indians ; their lands and property shall never be taken from them without their consent; and in their property, rights, and liberty they never shall be invaded or disturbed, unless in just and lawful wars authorized by Congress; but laws founded in justice and humanity shall, from time to time, be made for preventing wrongs being done to them, and for preserving peace and friendship with them.

ARTICLE IV.

The said territory, and the States which may be formed therein, shall forever remain a part of this confederacy of the United States of America, subject to the Articles of Confederation, and to such alterations therein as shall be constitutionally made ; and to all the acts and ordinances of the United States in Congress assembled, conformable thereto. The inhabitants and settlers in the said territory shall be subject to pay a part of the Federal debts, contracted, or to be contracted, and a proportional part of the expenses of government to be apportioned on them by Congress, according to the same common rule and measure by which apportionments thereof shall be made on the other States ; and the taxes for paying their proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the district, or districts, or new States, as in the original States, within the time agreed upon by the United States in Congress assembled. The legislatures of those districts, or new States, shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil by the United States in Congress assembled, nor with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in such soil to the bona fide purchasers. No tax shall be imposed on lands the property of the United States ; and in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents. The navigable waters leading into the Mississippi and Saint Lawrence, and the carrying places between the same, shall be common highways, and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of the said territory as to the citizens of the United States, and those of any other States that may be admitted into the confederacy, without any tax, impost, or duty therefor.

ARTICLE V.

There shall be formed in the said territory not less than three nor more than five States; and the boundaries of the States, as soon as Virginia shall alter her act of cession and consent to the same, shall become fixed and established as follows, to wit: The western State, in the said territory, shall be bounded by the Mississippi, the Ohio, and the Wabash Rivers; a direct line drawn from the Wabash and Post Vincents, due north, to the territorial line between the United States and Canada; and by the said territorial line to the Lake of the Woods and Mississippi. The middle State shall be bounded by the said direct line, the Wabash from Post Vincents to the Ohio, by the Ohio, by a direct line drawn due north from the mouth of the Great Miami to the said territorial line, and by the said territorial line. The eastern State shall be bounded by the last-mentioned direct line, the Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the said territorial line: Provided, however, And it is further understood and declared, that the boundaries of these three States shall be subject so far to be altered, that, if Congress shall hereafter find it expedient, they shall have authority to form one or two States in that part of the said territory which lies north of an east and west line drawn through the southerly bend or extreme of Lake Michigan. And whenever any of the said States shall have sixty thousand free inhabitants therein, such State shall be admitted, by its delegates, into the Congress of the United States, on an equal footing with the original States, in all respects whatever; and shall be at liberty to form a permanent constitution and State government: Provided, The constitution and government, so to be formed, shall be republican, and in conformity to the principles contained in these articles, and, so far as it can be consistent with the general interest of the confederacy, such admission shall be allowed at an earlier period, and when there may be a less number of free inhabitants in the State than sixty thousand.

ARTICLE VI.

There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the said territory, otherwise than in the punishment of crimes, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted: Provided always, That any person escaping into the same, from whom labor or service is lawfully claimed in any one of the original States, such fugitive may be lawfully reclaimed, and conveyed to the person claiming his or her labor or service as aforesaid.

Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the resolutions of the 23d of April, 1784, relative to the subject of this ordinance, be, and the same are hereby, repealed, and declared null and void.

Done by the United States, in Congress assembled, the 13th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1787, and of their sovereignty and independence the twelfth.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES—1787.

WE, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SEC. 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

*[Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons.] The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one representative: and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three; Massachusetts, eight; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, one; Connecticut, five; New York, six; New Jersey, four; Pennsylvania, eight; Delaware, one; Maryland, six; Virginia, ten; North Carolina, five; South Carolina, five; and Georgia, three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SEC. 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice-President of the United States shall be president of the Senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

SEC. 4. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SEC. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SEC. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex-post-facto law shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any impost or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war, in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SEC. 1. The Executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

*[The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; and they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each, which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the Senate. The president of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall, in like manner, choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice-President.]

* The clause inclosed in brackets has been superseded by the 12th amendment.

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President; and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."

SEC. 2. The President shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices: and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have the power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3. He shall, from time to time, give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SEC. 4. The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SEC. 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort.

No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

* SEC. 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State; and the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SEC. 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SEC. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the Legislature, or of the executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted, and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the Conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in convention, by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth.

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required nor excessive fines imposed nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign state.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the Senate; the president of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice; and if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.
